Course Description

This course provides an introduction to, and overview of, cultural anthropology, or the study of how humans adapt to, interpret and affect the world in which they live. Besides an acquaintance with the history of the anthropological idea of culture, students will be provided with the basic concepts used by contemporary cultural anthropologists. Further, they will be familiarized with a variety of research areas and case studies (see the list of topics below). You will be gaining first-hand experience in observing the world as an anthropologist, giving you an experiential and intellectual appreciation of a perspective which can be used to better understand a variety of academic, professional, and community contexts.

The course satisfies requirements for the Human Behavior/D (1) Area in the General Education Core, as well as, departmental and program requirements in anthropology and behavioral science. There are no pre-requisites to this course.

Course Learning Outcomes

Students who satisfactorily complete this course will:

1. Be able to understand and apply appropriately the concept of culture to human behavior.
2. Gain a working knowledge of how cultural anthropologists conduct field research through completing a class project.
3. Be able to recognize and analyze the interaction of social institutions, culture and environment with individual and collective behavior.

4. Develop a cross-cultural perspective on how humans relate to each other and the material world through symbols.
5. Have knowledge about several societies in depth using ethnographies.
6. Understand the relevance of cultural anthropology for understanding the complexities of modern life both globally and in this country.

GE Learning Outcomes

Area D1 Human Behavior: Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to recognize the interaction of social institutions, culture, and environment with the behavior of individuals.

- Download the guidelines for the course assignments. Read the guidelines carefully to ensure that you complete course assignments according to instructions.
- All assignments and exams must be completed in order to pass. I will not accept late assignments nor will I administer makeup exams unless documents can be presented as evidence of illness, death in family, jury duty, recognized religious observance, etc.
- No assignments will be accepted via e-mail—I must receive hard copies of all assignments.
- Please write clearly and correctly; seek help if you need it. Please proofread your papers carefully. Reading your work aloud often reveals mistakes in syntax and spelling.

Reading Assignments. Students are required to have completed assigned readings by the date indicated in the course schedule (see course schedule below) and be prepared to discuss the material in class, either in group discussion or class-wide question and answer.

Ethnographic Exercises (35% of final grade). These exercises are intended to develop your skills as an observer and interpreter of social life. These out of class exercises are intended to help you understand an ethnographic approach to understanding social phenomena. They will require some work, however, the activities ought to be thought provoking and fun.

Group Discussion Assignments (15% of final grade): These assignments engage critical thinking about themes covered in class. You will be presented with a question regarding the readings, topic and/or films for that week on Tuesday. You should come to class on Thursday prepared to discuss these questions critically, using references from the readings and lectures. You will turn in a short paragraph with your conclusions that will be written in class. Bring paper and a pen!

Midterm and Final Exams (each counts for 25% of final grade, 50% total). The exams will consist of multiple choice, True and False, Fill-in the blank, and short answer questions based on the lectures and readings.
