Course Description

The course examines the emerging global culture of the early twenty-first century. Those aspects of human culture which merge human societies--communications, popular cultures, population shifts, political movements, economic and environmental interdependencies--will be explored. In addition, the creation of "local" culture and identity will provide a complementary perspective. The central questions of the course are:

- What are the systemic principles that extend to culture and how does the systemic point of view illuminate the processes of change?

- How have cultures changed in the twentieth century and how has our understanding of that process changed?
- Is there an emerging global culture and if so, what is it? What forces--such as political economics, tourism, social movements, and popular culture--limit and nurture it?
- How can we anticipate future manifestations in global cultures?
- How does the experience of living in a "global culture" effect both individuals and cultures?

This course is taught from a multidisciplinary perspective, introducing the systems approach to social science issues. The course is based in the discipline of anthropology, however it will integrate sociological, cybernetic and historic perspectives. It satisfies the Area V requirements for the Culture and Civilization SJSU Studies, as well as departmental and program requirements in anthropology and behavioral science. Note that courses taken to meet areas R, S and V of SJSU Studies must be taken from three different departments.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook

Emerging Global Cultures, 2nd Edition. Drs. Jan English-Lueck, Jennifer Anderson, Sandra Cate, Soo Choi, Karen Fjelstad, Roberto Gonzalez, Patricia Lange, William Reckmeyer eds., Pearson Publishing.

Other Readings

Required online articles indicated in class syllabus.

Classroom Protocol

Writing Fluency: Often confused with plagiarism, students need to express themselves fluently and grammatically without excessive quotation. See

<http://www.aresearchguide.com/1steps.html> and

<http://www.geneseo.edu/~writing/?pg=topics/commonerrors.html> for hints

Writing Format: All papers should be typed and fully referenced. Use the AAA system, found on the aaanet.org website, http://www.aaanet.org/pubs/style_guide.htm unless you have specific permission by the instructor to use another style.. Number your pages!.

Writing should be clear and correct. All papers should be proof-read. I suggest reading the draft aloud to catch errors and unwieldy writing. Each assignment uses certain analytical skills and requires comprehension of cultural themes. Accuracy, depth of understanding and effort will all be assessed.

Late papers or makeup exams: No late papers or makeup exams will be accepted unless a genuine emergency arrives and the student notifies the professor immediately. NO EXCEPTIONS.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drops, academic renewal, etc. Information on add/drops are available at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/soc-fall/rec-324.html .

Information about late drop is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/sac/advising/latedrops/policy/ .

Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for adding and dropping classes.

Assignments and Grading Policy

Course assignments consist of (1) a series of group activities focused around a global alternatives project (see below); (2) a six to eight page paper based on your analysis of a commodity chain; (3) a two-page proposal that each student will prepare individually for the exhibit to be presented for the global alternatives project "Alternative Trade Fair"; (4) a short three page paper based on an in-class ethnographic interview about immigration and (5) two exams including an in-class midterm exam that will include short essays and a final exam. Detailed information on the global alternatives project, the ethnographic paper, and the global flows paper are included on the course website. No assignments will be accepted via e-mail—I must receive hard copies of all assignments.

Global Alternatives Project

The global alternatives project is a series of group activities designed to sharpen your awareness of the processes by which commodities are produced, distributed, and consumed. Project groups of 5-8 members will work together to analyze a global commodity from production point to its final destination, with particular focus on how people, environments, cultures, and other systems are affected. Examples include the following commodities: coffee, cell phones, handguns, batteries, silk lingerie, flowers, chocolate, corn, CDs, gasoline, dairy products, diamonds, leather jackets, diapers, plastic products, missiles. Each group should choose one of these products during the fourth week of the course. Group projects will culminate in the "Alternative Trade Fair," an event that will take place in WSQ on July 2 during the normal class time. Global alternatives projects will be conducted in five phases:

Assignment 1: Topic Issue Statement/Annotated Bibliography and Group Issue Summary	(10 pts./ 10 pts.)
Assignment 2: Global alternatives project individual and group proposal	(10 pts./ 10 pts.)
Assignment 3: Commodity chain analysis paper	(100 pts.)
Assignment 4: Fair trade fair	(20 pts.)
Assignment 5: Peer evaluations	(10 pts.)

Assignment 1: Issue Statements and Annotated Bibliographies (Individual and Group Summary)

After you have chosen a topic and group, identify the problems in the commodity chain which are mobilizing support for an alternative commodity. The problem could be one of health, the environment, or social inequality. The problem could be at the point of production, distribution or consumption. Explore the commodity online to see where social activism and global citizenship is being mobilized. Each group member will research and aspect of the commodity and report back to the group. Included in this discussion would be the key organizational players, corporate, governmental, transnational and non governmental. The group will make a short list of issues that will be the focus of the exhibit. For example, if your group is examining coffee, you might focus on health issues, impacts on plantation environments or the conditions of workers. Key organizations would include Global Exchange, Thanksgiving Coffee, Starbucks, and Peet's Coffee.

As you research an aspect you should assemble an annotated bibliography with five to ten references regarding the process that goes into the production of your commodity. This might include websites, journal articles, books, materials from organizations etc. These resources might include such information such as: (a) primary countries in which the commodity is produced; (b) labor conditions under which the commodity is produced; (c) environmental consequences of the production process; (d) effects of the production process on people in relevant regions; (e) health effects associated with the consumption of the product; (f) environmental effects associated with the consumption of the product. You should include the sources from which your information was collected. Coordinate specific research within your group. Wikipedia should be a starting place for research only, not a final bibliographic item. Make sure that you have a mixture of media, not only web-based materials. All material should be in a known bibliographic format such as APA, MLA, Chicago/Turabian or use the American Anthropological Association format.

Assignment 2: Global Alternatives Project Proposal (Individual and Group)

Each individual is responsible for preparing a two-page project proposal in preparation for the Global Alternatives Project trade show. Elements of the proposal should include (a) concise, specific statements of the proposed project and its goals; (b) description of methodology—describe the plan, strategy, and timeline for developing and completing the project; (c) use of community organizations or representatives; (d) proposed audience for the project; and (e) an action plan designed to change the behavior of the audience (for example, urging Spartan Shops to sell only fair trade items made with sweatshop-free labor; demonstrating alternative products such as a hybrid Toyota Prius or Honda Civic; material consumers to adopt a policy rejecting "blood diamonds").

Once each member of the group prepares a proposal, you will meet with your groups in class to arrive at a consensus regarding the project, which you will prepare for display at the trade show. The instructor will ask you to fill out a two-page group project summary in preparation for the Fair Trade Fair that will include the following questions:

1. In 3-5 sentences, describe the group's projects and goals.
2. For each member of the group, give the member's name and job description.
3. What is the timeline for completing this project?
4. Which organizations will the group be contacting or working with?
5. Who is the proposed audience for the project?
6. What resources or materials will you need (audio or visual equipment, photocopies, etc.)?
7. Will you be producing a poster or Power Point exhibit?

Assignment 3: Commodity Chain Analysis Paper (Individual)

You should prepare a commodity chain analysis paper that considers the impact of the commodity on the individual worker, at the points of production or distribution, or individual consumer. The paper should outline the commodity chain for a product as specifically as possible (try to identify particular commodities and not the generic commodity if possible). The paper should also consider, analytically, the consequences of production or consumption on cultural, economic or political globalization. Include:

1. Choose ONE brand name product you or someone you know buys, uses, desires, needs, eats, or adores related to your group topic. Write a brief description of this product's role in your life (or that of the person you know). Was it a spur-of-the-moment purchase? A daily lunchtime item? A necessity? A luxury?
2. Try to locate information about those who work in the companies producing this product—at the beginning of the commodity chain. Summarize in a paragraph or two some of the issues they face. (The websites of the manufacturer and <http://www.sweatshopwatch.org> or www.globalexchange.org are excellent places to start). If you cannot locate information on the specific product, find information relevant to the generic class of goods.
3. Try to trace out all of the factors in its production, distribution, and consumption – what resources are necessary for this product to reach you? What institutions or types of companies are involved? (Visit www.soc.duke.edu/courses/soc142/tree.html for one representation of this "commodity chain.")
4. What conclusions can you reach about your connections to global cultural, political and economic landscapes through this exercise?

Your paper should be at least 6-8 pages, typed and double-spaced. It is due in class on June 27. Optional rewritten essays, incorporating the feedback from the professor, are due two weeks later on July 11.

Assignment 4: Fair Trade Fair (Group Exercise)

You should execute a well-organized project on the day of the trade show, which should include at minimum a table and three representatives from each group on hand to provide information to passersby. To make sure you are well prepared you will bring drafts of your poster or Power Points to class during the Fair workshop. The instructor will assign each group the same grade based on the following criteria: (a) accuracy, clarity, and presentation of the materials on display; (b) creativity of the presentation; (c) preparedness of the group's representatives; (d) viability of the action plan. Ideally the group should present global alternatives and/or an action plan related to the products under consideration.

Assignment 5: Peer Evaluations (Group Exercise)

After the trade show, each of you will be asked to fill out two evaluations. These will include (a) an evaluation of the peers in your group and your project as a whole; and (b) an evaluation of two other groups' presentations. You will conduct these evaluations in the first class meeting following the trade show.

Global Flows exercise

This project is based on an in-class ethnographic interview conducted with a fellow class member outlining the context of family arrival in the United States drawn from the Silicon Valley region. You will have an in-class interview and an in-class follow-up discussion. The exercise will integrate themes and ideas outlined in the course and be written into a 3 page report. (30 points for papers and 10 points for training and discussion. See participation policy)

Two Open Note Exams.

Students will be provided with a study guide in advance to prepare for two short essay and fill-in exams (100 points each).

Participation and misc. activities

Participation in class activities can be worth more than 100 points. Attendance is highly desirable and participation in class discussions is necessary to understand some issues. Exercise and discussion credit will be given on days in which such activity is essential. Participation will be assessed by giving full credit for active participation, partial credit for passive participation and late entry or exit in an activity, and no credit for non-participation. TO BE EXCUSED if you cannot make it to class to participate in the exercise, please leave a "voice mail" or E-mail message THAT day or earlier, giving your name, class and reason for missing the activity. You will receive full credit (E) as long as the reason is significant and the privilege is not abused. Failure to participate might result in a significant loss of overall points.)

Grading

Incompletes will be granted only if the instructor has been notified and has approved. Students with missing major assignments (over 50 points) will receive a U (unauthorized withdrawal). NO WORK WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER THE FINAL Notification of grades: If you wish to know your final grade before grade reports are issued, email a grade request (please do not phone).

Marking Criteria

A+ 98>, A 94-97, A- 90-93 (percent)

An "A" demonstrates originality, addresses the tasks effectively, shows effective organization and logical argumentation, uses clear, appropriate and accurate examples and a high level of writing competence and knowledge. Completes the task and consistently gathers and uses data beyond that required in class readings that is self-initiated. Papers are fully referenced.

B+ 88-89, B 84-87, B- 80-83 (percent)

A "B" may show a good level of competence, but uneven development of tasks. It may be generally well organized, uses appropriate examples, displays facility, with a few gaps, in argumentation, and demonstrates a good level of writing and knowledge. Writing is still original and does not challenge "fair use." Completes the task and does some extra work guided by the instructor. Referencing is adequate.

C+ 78-79, C 74-77, C- 70-73 (percent)

A "C" may show a fair level of competence, but may be uneven. It will address the task adequately, but only with parts of the task. It is adequately organized and may occasionally use examples. Argumentation may be inconsistent and writing and knowledge competence may be unclear. Referencing is spotty. (percent)

D+ 68-69, D 64-67, D- 60-63, F < 60 (percent)

A "D" will demonstrate poor competence with inadequate organization, task and argumentation development and inappropriate examples. It will display difficulty in using adequate academic language and errors in knowledge will be in evidence. Writing is at the border of "fair use" of other scholars' work. A failure will only occur if no effort is made to address the question or topic or if plagiarism is detected.

University Policies

Academic integrity

Students should know that the University's Academic Integrity Policy is available at http://www.sa.sjsu.edu/download/judicial_affairs/Academic_Integrity_Policy_S07-2.pdf. Your own commitment to learning, as evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University and the University's integrity policy, require you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The website for Student Conduct and Ethical Development is available at http://www.sa.sjsu.edu/judicial_affairs/index.html.

Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person's ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include in your assignment any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU's Academic Policy F06-1 requires approval of instructors.

Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours.
