Course Description

This course presents an overview of social organization focused on local forms of human relationship: kinship, non-kin relations such as friendship and networking, and community and how they articulate within a contemporary global context. The course will explore the dynamic principles of kinship and community-building from an anthropological perspective and how people use those concepts to organize their social lives. Examples will be drawn from small-scale, complex and intentional societies.

Classroom Protocol

Format

All papers should be typed and fully referenced (AAA style can be found at http://www.aaanet.org/publications/guidelines.cfm with numbered pages. Writing should be clear and correct. All papers should be proof-read. I suggest reading the draft aloud to catch errors and unwieldy writing. Each assignment uses certain analytical skills and requires comprehension of cultural themes. Accuracy, originality, depth of understanding and effort will all be assessed.

Late Papers

As a general policy late papers will be accepted only if prior arrangement has been made and the reason is significant, that is, family emergency or serious illness. (Printer problems, vacations, work conflicts and other non-emergencies are not acceptable excuses.) Otherwise a penalty of 10 points per each day late will be given. No Exceptions.
Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drops, academic renewal, etc. Information on add/drops are available at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/soc-fall/rec-324.html. Information about late drop is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/sac/advising/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for adding and dropping classes.

Assignments and Grading Policy

1. Mapping Social Relations Project (150 points for written paper, and 20 points for final project seminar). You will create, annotate and analyze one person’s social relations both diachronically and synchronically. You must conduct ethnographic interviews with one person (ego) and his or her family to construct a diachronic genealogy. You will conduct additional interviews to create and annotate a synchronic network map using ego and at least one node. That data will then be analyzed in terms of the concepts of social organization explored in class and material pertinent to the appropriate cultural background and context of ego.

That data will be the basis of your final project, a 10-15 page paper. Multiple drafts will be peer and instructor-edited and a final draft will be submitted for a grade. All ethnographic data must conform to the University’s and the discipline’s code of research ethics. All participation by informants must be voluntary and confidential. Minors will not directly participate in this project. All written material must be original, and based on both ethnographic observations and appropriately cited written resources.

2. Examinations (200 points total). The course will have two take-home exams, using a short essay format, each test worth 100 points. Questions will be given in advance.

3. Participation and Miscellaneous Activities (∈ 100 pts.) Participation in class activities, project updates, simulations, and a variety of other exercises can be worth more than 100 points. Attendance is highly desirable and participation in class discussions is necessary to understand some issues. Exercise and discussion credit, varying from 5 to 20 points, will be given on days in which such activity is essential. Participation will be assessed by giving full credit for active participation, partial credit for passive participation and late entry or exit in an activity, and no credit for non-participation.

Grading

Incompletes

Incompletes will be granted only if the instructor has been notified and has approved. Students with missing major assignments (over 50 points) will receive a U (an Unauthorized Withdrawal). NO WORK WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER THE FINAL!!!

Notification of Grades

If you wish to know your final grade before grade reports are issued e-mail a grade request (please do not phone).
Marking Criteria

A+ 98>
A  94-97
A-  90-93
An "A" demonstrates originality, not merely efficient memory, addresses the tasks effectively, shows effective organization and logical argumentation, uses clear, appropriate and accurate examples and a high level of writing competence and knowledge. Completes the task and consistently does extra work that is self-initiated.

B+ 88-89
B  84-87
B-  80-83
A "B" may show a good level of competence and may even reflect exactly what was discussed in class and texts, but does not contribute original knowledge. It shows uneven development of tasks. Work may be generally well organized, use appropriate examples, display facility in argumentation, with a few gaps, and demonstrates a good level of writing and knowledge. Completes the task and does some extra work guided by the instructor.

C+ 78-79
C  74-77
C-  70-73
A "C" may show a fair level of competence, but may be uneven. Work will address the task adequately, but only with parts of the task. It is adequately organized and may occasionally use examples. Argumentation may be inconsistent and writing and knowledge competence may be unclear. Language may be inappropriately informal in parts of assignment.

D+ 68-69
D  64-67
D-  60-63
F < 60
A "D" will demonstrate poor competence with inadequate organization, task and argumentation development and inappropriate examples. It will display difficulty in using adequate academic language and errors in knowledge will be in evidence. A failure will only occur if no effort is made to address the question or topic.

See http://www.geneseo.edu/~writing/?pg=topics/formalinformal.html for a discussion of formal and informal writing.

See http://www.geneseo.edu/~writing/?pg=topics/commonerrors.html for a list of the common writing errors that occur in student writing and how to avoid such problems.
University Policies

Academic integrity

Students should know that the University’s Academic Integrity Policy is available at http://www.sa.sjsu.edu/download/judicial_affairs/Academic_Integrity_Policy_S07-2.pdf. Your own commitment to learning, as evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University and the University’s integrity policy, require you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The website for Student Conduct and Ethical Development is available at http://www.sa.sjsu.edu/judicial_affairs/index.html.

Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person’s ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include in your assignment any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU’s Academic Policy F06-1 requires approval of instructors.

Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the DRC (Disability Resource Center) to establish a record of their disability.
