Faculty Web Page and MYSJSU Messaging (Optional)

Course materials including course syllabus, study guides and images, major assignment handouts, research resources, writing guides and grading criteria are posted to the Course Website at <http://arth.sjsu.edu/courses>; the case-sensitive website User Name and Password will be announced at the first class session. Required readings not in your textbook appear in King Library Articles Databases at <http://libguides.sjsu.edu/az.php> or our Canvas site at <https://sjsu.instructure.com>; use your student number and password to access and download readings. Please note that study materials are posted within seven days after completion of related lectures. Other useful information appears on the Art History VRL website at <arth.sjsu.edu>. Finally, periodic reminders and updates will be e-mailed to the address listed on your <My.SJSU.edu> and Canvas accounts. You are responsible for maintaining current e-mail addresses on both sites.

Course Description

ARTH-DSGD 176A presents a thematic and chronological examination of major historical trends of graphic design and its reception. It uses the slide lecture format to contextualize main historical, technological, and theoretical concerns that influenced individuals and movements in graphic design.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

The study of the history of graphic design asks you to pay attention and to look closely at works of design. It also asks you to think, speak and write thoughtfully and affectively about your visual experience. Instruction will involve the following: Slide lecture, class discussion, and group projects and presentations. It may also include videos, visits to local sites, museums and/or exhibitions, student peer evaluation/writing workshops, and attendance of Department of Art and Art History or other lectures.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to demonstrate and apply a broad knowledge of the changing technologies, cultural ideals, and popular tastes that have historically influenced graphic design. Students will demonstrate the written and verbal communication skills necessary for translating visual perceptions into words and, more generally, securing academic and professional success. For professional designers, the ability to effectively communicate ideas in team settings and client relationships is as important as the designs themselves. To attain these goals, students in this course will:

- Master basic terminology, concepts and issues in graphic design;
- Gain knowledge of the work and ideas of major graphic designers and movements;
- Gain knowledge of the history and context of graphic design innovations, knowledge which will in turn enable strategic problem solving and encourage coherent design methodologies;
- Develop and/or reinforce skills in communicating about graphic design;
- Develop skills in translating visual perceptions into verbal and written communication;
- Develop skills in thinking critically about graphic design; and
- Write clearly, effectively, and critically using terminology appropriate to the history of design.

Note: As in any university course, ARTH-DSGD 176A does not give you these competencies, but rather creates an opportunity for you to work toward achieving them.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook
The course textbook is supplemented by primary and secondary source materials including manifestoes, interviews, critical essays and popular press articles posted to Canvas and available through specified King Library articles databases. Study Guides for review and self-guided study and key images from lecture will be available on the Course Website within seven days after the completion of related lectures. Lectures will develop these materials and questions based on them will be presented on course exams. In addition, key images from lecture will be made available on the Course Website.

Other Readings

ARTH-DSGD 176A Readings. All mandatory non-textbook readings are posted to the SJSU Canvas site at <https://sjsu.instructure.com> or available through the King Library Articles & Databases at <http://libguides.sjsu.edu/az.php>. Use your student number to access Canvas and King Library card to access article databases such as JSTOR. Acrobat Reader is required to open and read articles.

Optional books available through King Library Reserves. Links to writing guides and Internet sites are posted to Course Website. Recommended books include: Philip B. Meggs and Alston W. Purvis, eds., Meggs’ History of Graphic Design, 4th ed. (2006), Kate Turabian, A Manual for Writers, Strunk and White, The Elements of Style, Roget’s Thesaurus, and a good dictionary such as Webster’s New World Dictionary.

Course Website

ARTH-DSGD 176A Course Website. Study Guides, Study Images, assignments, and non-reading materials will be available through the “Course Web Pages” link at <http://arth.sjsu.edu>. Access using course User
Name and Password (both announced at first class session; case sensitive). Course Website will have paper formats, writing and citation guides, recommended online resources, and links to professional organizations and legitimate on-line resources. Please note study materials will be posted within seven days after completion of related lectures.

Library Liaison

Monika Lehman is the liaison librarian for Art and Art History. She is an excellent resource for research information and she welcomes students to contact her with research questions. She can be reached at (monika.lehman@sjsu.edu) or at http://libguides.sjsu.edu/collectiondevelopment/CDhumanities. In addition, King Library Reference librarians can assist you with questions regarding on-line Course Reserves and electronic resources available through the King Library. Access all University King Library Resources at: <http://library.sjsu.edu>

Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at: http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

Assignments: %Grade: Due Dates:

- Quiz 5% Thursday, 9/1
- Paper thesis and bibliography 5% Introduction 9/1; Due by 9/20
- Midterm 30% Tuesday, 10/18
- Individual paper 15% Due by Tuesday, 10/25
- Group paper 15% Due by Tuesday, 11/15
- Final Exam (non-cumulative) 30% Part I: Thurs., 12/8 (presentations); Part II: Fri., 12/16: 7.45-9.30am

Assignment Formats:

- There will be one quiz, a midterm, a group research paper on an assigned topic (graded components include an individual bibliography and thesis statement; an individual paper submission; and a final group paper with documented participation), and a two-part final exam. Papers will be subject to peer review prior to submission. Grading criteria for all writing assignments appears below and is posted to the Course Website, as are writing guides intended to help with structure and citation formats. All papers will be evaluated and returned with instructor comments intended to improve future writing assignments;

- Material covered on exams will derive from class lectures and assigned readings from the course textbook, assigned readings, and ARTH-DSGD 176A Course Website. Quiz and exam format consists of a combination of slide identification and analysis of design works, comparisons of design works, terminology, multiple choice and/or short essay answer questions. Students are urged to remain current by taking effective lecture notes and researching and writing out answers to the on-line Study Guides as they are posted. It is recommended that students form study groups outside of class as this is a highly effective means of assimilating information into knowledge;
• All drafts and papers will require scholarly research as well as analytical and affective responses to works of design. Insomuch as is possible, they will require observing, describing and discussing actual examples of design (as opposed to reproductions);

• Required paper formats. Type all written assignments with one-inch margins and a 12-point font. Use Chicago Style citation formats. Double-space, use page numbers, and put your name, title and assignment number on a cover page (see Course Website writing guides for example). Use separate pages for captioned illustrations of featured works and include these pages at the end of the paper and before the bibliography. Staple pages together at the upper left-hand corner and turn in with outline and draft versions at beginning of class on the date due. Keep a printed copy and a back-up disk of all your work. Papers must be received in hardcopy;

• There are no extra credit options in this course;

• There are no early exams. There are no make-up exams or late assignments without prior approval or valid excuse (i.e., documentation such as a doctor’s note). Unexcused missed exams and late assignments will receive a grade of “0”. Lack of documented active participation on the group research paper will result in a group paper grade of “0”; and

Grading Information

Written Assignments will be graded according to the following SJSU academic standards for assessment:

A (excellent): A (excellent): The paper contains no grammatical, spelling, or typographical errors. It is outstanding in clarity, style, and organization. The depth and accuracy of the information covered are appropriate for the assignment. The style and format of the paper are appropriate for the assignment.

B (good): The paper may contain a few minor grammatical errors, but should contain few or no typographical or spelling errors. For the most part, the paper is clearly written and logically organized. The topic is covered in reasonable depth and the information presented is accurate. The style and format of the paper are appropriate for the assignment.
C (average): The paper may contain some minor grammatical, typographical, or spelling errors. For the most part, it is clearly written and logically organized. For the most part, the depth of coverage of the topic is appropriate and the information is accurate. For the most part, the style and format of the paper are appropriate for the assignment.

D (below average/unacceptable): The paper contains significant or serious grammatical, typographical, or spelling errors. It is not clearly written or logically organized. The train of thought is difficult to follow. The depth of coverage of the topic is not adequate. The information presented is inaccurate. The style and/or format of the paper are not appropriate to the assignment.

F (unacceptable): A paper will receive an F if two or more of the following conditions are satisfied: The paper contains significant or serious grammatical, typographical, or spelling errors; it is not clearly written or logically organized; the train of thought is difficult to follow or incomprehensible; the depth of coverage of the topic is not adequate; the information presented is inaccurate; the style and/or format of the paper are not appropriate to the assignment. The paper will also receive an F if some or all parts of the paper have been plagiarized, as defined below. See also Classroom Protocols on plagiarism and other forms of academic dishonesty.

Note: “All students have the right, within a reasonable time, to know their academic scores, to review their grade-dependent work, and to be provided with explanations for the determination of their course grades.” See University Policy F13-1 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F13-1.pdf for more details.

Final Examination or Evaluation
The Final Exam has two parts. The first part is Thursday, December 8 and requires a typed summary presentation summary and associated notes. The second is the non-cumulative final exam scheduled for 7.45 to 9.30am on Friday, December 16. Attendance is mandatory for both parts.

“there shall be an appropriate final examination or evaluation at the scheduled time in every course, unless specifically exempted by the college dean who has curricular responsibility for the course.”

Classroom Protocol

• Attendance and active participation are essential to your success in this course as they represent your opportunity to apply what you have learned, to articulate your ideas clearly and effectively, to develop analytical and critical thinking about design, and to learn about additional perspectives on our topics of study. Please arrive punctually with all required materials and stay for the entire class. Discussion will typically center on images shown in class and not all of these will be available in the texts.

• To prevent classroom distractions that interfere with student learning, students are asked to turn off cell phones and to limit laptop use to taking notes. Students who use their computers or other electronic devices for non-classroom related activities, or who hold private conversations during lectures or other presentations, will be asked to leave class and may be referred to Judicial Affairs;

• Papers must be original to this class (no “recycling”), meet all assignment requirements, and provide proper in-text source citations for all sources used (including textbook) for credit. All final papers must be submitted with draft versions for credit. No late papers accepted without valid documentation;
• Group assignments and in-class activities require the full participation of all group members. Documentation of active and legitimate participation is required from each member in order to receive the overall group grade. Absence of any or all supporting materials will result in a group grade of “0”; and

• Papers copied in whole or in part from Internet sources will receive a grade of “0.” In addition, and per University protocol, all incidents of plagiarism and other academic dishonesty will be reported to the Office of Judicial Affairs. A second offense in this or any other class will result in administrative disciplinary action, which can potentially involve expulsion.
