Course Description

As a time-based medium, digital video is a technically sophisticated and powerfully expressive medium. YouTube has thrown open the doors of database-driven social video, while developments in large-scale video projection mapping and mobile technology are transforming our world. Yet the vast visual landscape, rich storytelling capabilities and immersive capacities of the medium can be elusive, requiring time and dedicated focus.

Advanced Digital Video is a series of workshop intensives focused on the technical, aesthetic, and creative uses of digital video as an artistic medium. The course addresses the use of video expressively across art, film/cinema, and the Internet, while teaching advanced production technique. Workshop intensives address best practices and industry-standard software for editing and motion graphics while opening doors to richer and deeper narrative, non-narrative, architectural, live and installation uses of digital video.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO) (Required)

1. Discuss in creative, aesthetic, and technical terms the medium of digital video
2. Create storyboards, write scripts and prepare production planning documents
3. Identify and transcode digital video using industry-standard codecs & resolutions
4. Create high quality digital assets using rasterized, vector, and generative sources
