Course Description

A Beginning photography course which introduces basic aesthetic issues in (primarily black and white) image making. Introduces photographic techniques utilizing digital cameras, electronic image processing and digital printing. Requires a DSLR (digital single lens reflex) type camera. Requires Adobe Lightroom.

Photography surrounds us and influences our daily lives in numerous ways. In the era of social media, digital photographs contextualize contemporary life. When photographing, we engage in the creation of visual culture. What does it mean to be a photographer now? In a time when everyone is continually taking photographs, how do we capture creative images filled with artistic meaning? In this class, students will be encouraged to reflect upon their current context in a technological age by creating relevant, impactful and unique digital images.

This class will consist of shooting, editing, printing, exhibiting, and discussing digital images. Class demonstrations and discussions will be held at the beginning of each new assignment, there will be required instructor check-ins, working critique/trouble-shooting session with the class at each mid-point, and a final class critique at the end of each assignment.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

- Acquire basic understanding of digital photographic materials, process, and equipment
- Gain skills in handling and application of equipment and process
- Become familiar with historical developments of photography
- Become familiar with basic elements of the photographic image
- Acquire understanding of visual communication and aesthetic appreciation

Course Requirements and Assignments

Cell-Phone Challenge: This mini-assignment is intended to get you looking at your world within the frame of digital photography, in a familiar but challenging way. Make one interesting photograph using your camera phone. It cannot use 'typical' cell phone conventions (more TBA in class), but instead must attempt thoughtful photographic approaches reviewed during instruction. Email this image to me by August 28th at 11:59 pm, the night before our second class on August 29th. This assignment is Pass/Fail and only requires you prepare one image to present. Be prepared to talk to the class about why this image is artful and unique.

Chasing Light: Light is at the core of photography, and the key to compelling photographs. You must attempt all 25 Light and Composition Options listed on the assignment handout. Well-crafted, black and white images with full tonal range are the objective.

You must shoot a minimum of 200 new images for this assignment. There will be a check-in with the instructor toward the beginning of the assignment, a working critique/trouble shooting session with the class at the midway point, and a final class critique. Turn in 25 edited, finished digital images on a flash drive with your name on it, due at the beginning of class. Present 5 of your favorite images via projector from your flash drive during our in-class critique.

Picturing the Self: Create 3 self-portraits. These portraits can be metaphorical, and do not need to be limited to actual photographs of your face/body, but can also be photographs of things that represent you. Be prepared to vocalize why they represent you. You must shoot a minimum of 100 new images for this assignment. Your final images must show an understanding of Lightroom editing and black and white printing skills. There will be a check-in with the instructor toward the beginning of the assignment, a working critique/trouble shooting session with the class at the midway point, and a final class critique. Turn in 3 unmounted prints in a portfolio with your name on it, due at the beginning of class.

Sacred Spaces: Create a series that explores something sacred to you. This theme is purposefully broad so that you may create works for your portfolio that are relevant to your unique voice as an artist. What is meaningful and special to you? Is it a place, a community, a personal connection, or internal reflection? Create a series that captures what is important in your life. Hand in a portfolio of at least 6 mounted prints or a book of at least 12 images on a project of your choice. This final assignment focuses on creating a cohesive series and requires prior approval of a written proposal (1 page or less). There will be a check-in with the instructor and proposal review, a working critique/trouble-shooting session, and a final class critique. Portfolio prints must be over matted. Book must be professionally bound. Print quality and presentation matters for both the book and prints. Make sure to allow time to redo prints or book if necessary.

Final Print Swap: Everyone will bring 1 print wrapped in brown paper without your name for a white-elephant print exchange. Sign the back of your print and wrap it anonymously with the blank inner portion of a brown grocery bag or brown butcher paper. The swap is Pass/Fail and only requires you bring one wrapped print to participate. You are welcome to bring extra prints to trade with your classmates after the swap, but it is not required.

Participation: Participation in exercises, discussions, and activities is required to succeed in this class. Participation in peer discussions can be in the form of asking questions, sharing experiences, and giving constructive feedback (critique discussions will incorporate a handout to encourage vocabulary use). Exercises that are relevant to the course material will be given in class and cannot be made up. The exercises may be on the camera, computer, and may involve short excursions to other parts of campus. Participation is required and a significant part of your grade.
