Course Description

Preparation for BFA project and postgraduate career planning, this course includes field trips, class discussions and studio visits with art professionals. Prerequisite: Prior acceptance in the B.F.A. program.

Course Content Learning Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to:

- Articulate, through verbal and visual presentation, their processes and methods as working artists in the 21st century
- Critically engage ideas generated through readings, critique, and visual analysis
- Prototype their BFA exhibition through a written proposal, including material and/or technical specifications and mock-ups
- Generate an online artist portfolio using appropriate web technologies
- Write an artist statement, CV/ résumé, bio and cover letter
- Give a formal, verbal presentation of their artwork and answer audience questions
- Work within deadlines, completing projects by agreed upon dates/ times

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook

The main weekly reading will consist of subscribing to eflux.com. Additional reading assignments will be on an as needed basis from a number of resources such as art publications, art websites, and theoretical texts, etc. The goal is to read about current trends more so than historical text.

Required Materials

Each student must have a notebook for each class. A laptop is highly recommended as well. All materials required to complete the final project will be at the student’s expense.

Department advising

For information about majors and minors in Art & Art History, for a change of major/minor forms and a list of advisors: http://www.sjsu.edu/art/ or the Art & Art History department office in ART 116, 408-924-4320, art@sjsu.edu

Course Requirements and Assignments

The SJSU expectation for out of class work is three hours per week for this course. Although students will be given time to work on their final projects in class, it is anticipated that time outside the class will also be required. Additional work outside of class may be contemplation and reflection on class lectures, discussions, critiques. Time to research and complete the writing assign as well as class preparation may also be required.

Grading Information

Although this course will embrace flexibility and experimentation which are some of the benchmarks for success, there will be seven main components that will be reviewed and evaluated throughout the semester. Each student will have ample time to make revisions to submit their best possible submission to receive the desired grade however quality and meeting deadlines will be paramount to receiving the best grade possible. Each component will comprise a percentage of your overall grade. The six main elements for this course are: written essay, verbal presentations, online portfolio, artist’s written proposal, and class participation. A grade deduction will occur for every week the assignment is turned in late. Assignments will not be accepted after the second week past the due date. In this case the assigned grade will be 0 points.

Essay:

A five page, double-spaced written essay about an artist and the art movement that are / were involved with will be your only writing assignment. A list of exciting contemporary artists who work in an interdisciplinary manner will be provided through Canvas for you to research and select which artist excites or infuriates you the most to write about. Cover pages, reproductions, bibliography, etc. do not count towards the three-page minimum. Your essay should be emailed to lance.fung@sjsu.edu and labeled both in the subject line and saved as a pdf with 198: your last name.

Presentations:

Your first ten minute presentation will be made about your own art practice showing examples of your artwork and sharing insight into your process. Your second fifteen minute presentation to the class will be based on what you have learned from your writing assignment and share learned information about the artist and art movement you selected. This presentation shall include accompanying visuals. You may embed a brief (under two minute) video clip only if beneficial to the sharing of information to your other students. Creativity is encouraged in how you best want to convey the philosophy and artistic contribution the artist has made to the Art World so that the learning process is enriched and more entertaining than a standard presentation or student lecture. The goal is to distill the artist’s essence, motivation, or conceptual underpinnings and share them with your classmates. Please see assignment for grading structure. You do not need to email me your presentation.

Create online portfolio:

You will design and create your own online portfolio including a brief biography and images of your artwork with proper captions and labels.

Student Proposal:

You will be required to submit a written proposal about your art concept. It should include a simple one-paragraph description befitting a standard museum wall label as well as a two-page artist’s statement. You should include information regarding your selected site including schematics of your installation. All drawings should be to scale. A material list, artist biography, CV should also be included. You should also create a 1 page cover letter. Please incorporate sketches, drawings, and/or renderings to present a convincing and thorough proposal. The final element should be high quality photographs taken of your diorama. Please include an overall view as well as any detail shots that add insight into your BFA exhibition proposal. The graphic design of the proposal should be considered in the final proposal.

Class participation:

Each class will be very interactive, reactionary, and hopefully fun. Participation and the ability to share your thoughts in an unedited but constructive yet respectful fashion will help cut to the chase and get to the true substance of each lecture, discussion and idea. Each class will be divided into lecture and process time. The teacher will lead the lecture portion of the class followed by a Q & A period. In this period, it is anticipated that you will come with thoughts, images, and questions to further the discussion. The second portion of the class will be often devoted for the students to research, work in groups, or work on their individual assignments. Every minute of class time should be used in an active capacity, as there is not room for idleness.

Grades

All grades will be available on Canvas and as quickly as possible. Any assignment turned in late will automatically receive one lower grade per week late.

Grade Breakdown

Writing assignment 1: (20%)

Presentation 1: (10%)

Presentation 2: (15%)

Online portfolio: (10%)

Proposal: (30%)

Participation: (15%)

Extra Credit Assignments:

Upon occasions there may be extra credit assignments offered. However, students have the opportunity to present individual extra credit assignments that are directly related to this course for the teacher’s discretion. 10% is the total maximum credit that can be earned and should be commensurate with the workload and required skill of the normal class assignments.

Classroom Protocol

The class should be a safe space for every student to learn, express and grow. The environment should be a medium for self-discovery, doubt, experimentation and new challenges. Through basic empathy and respect, deep conversations about philosophy, artistic concept and content, and visual communications should be at the center of every interaction and conversation.

You should be on time, prepared for class and prepared to give your full attention. It is equally important that you have eaten, used the facilities and have had proper sleep the night before so that you can fully engage with the teacher and your fellow students. If for any reason you miss a class or any portion thereof, it is your responsibility to review Canvas, speak with your fellow classmates, or come to office hours to understand what you need to do to remain current with all lessons.

Cell phones, music devices and any other distractions to yourself and others around you are not permitted unless approved for class purposes. If improperly used your participation grade will be affected.

University Policies

Per University Policy S16-9, university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. will be available on Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs’ Syllabus Information web page at http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/”
