Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS)' Clinical Training Program is a nine-month training program that generally begins in mid-August and ends in late May. The major goal of the SJSU CAPS' doctoral-level practicum program is to provide high quality learning experiences to graduate students in counseling and clinical psychology in preparation for a career in mental health. Unfortunately, we currently do not have positions available for trainees toward MFT, social work, or other disciplines. To help attain the goal, our staff has a strong commitment to supervise, teach, and mentor our practicum counselors. Additionally, our specific goals for practicum counselors are to assist them in:

1. Increasing their levels of effectiveness and confidence;
2. Understanding and integrating theoretical learning with clinical experiences;
3. Finding their individual therapeutic style;
4. Developing professional relationships and assuming a professional identity; and
5. Learning about agency norms and decision-making processes.

These goals are addressed and facilitated by supervision, modeling, didactic training, experiential learning, peer group consultation, and mentoring. Our supervision staff currently is composed of approximately twelve licensed psychologists and one licensed social worker.

Qualifications:
Students who are a strong fit for our program have experience or interest in working with diverse clients, are enrolled in the third or fourth year of their doctoral program, interest in college counseling/college student population, and will have completed a minimum of 2 years of practicum experience.

Responsibilities:
Responsibilities for practicum counselors vary and depend greatly upon the maturity and experience level of the trainee. In general, practicum counselors do individual, group and couple counseling, receive supervision, attend a weekly trainee seminar, participate in weekly clinical meetings, perform intakes, do weekly paperwork such as writing intakes and case notes, and participate in consultation and outreach activities for student groups. Practicum counselors are also provided additional training through the in house trainings for all staff and trainees, the annual Northern California Training Directors Conference (a one-day training conference focusing on topics related to college mental health), and Multicultural Training Day.

Salary Range: We regret there is no financial stipend for practicum counselors. Practicum counselors do receive paid parking.

Starting Date: August 12, 2019

Eligibility:
Employment is contingent upon proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Application Procedure:
Our training program for practicum counselors is nine months. Practicum counselors are expected to be at CAPS 3 days/24 hours per week (additional hours are negotiable). Trainees must be available all day (8:00-5:00) on Thursdays and Fridays to attend weekly clinical consultation meetings, and training seminar. The third day is negotiable, but Wednesday is highly preferred. The training generally begins around mid-August and ends in late May. We generally have program accommodations for 2 advanced practicum trainees each year.
