

San José State University
Department of Counselor Education
Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor (LPCC)-Preparation Information

For students who began the EDCO program BEFORE 8/1/2012

The Department of Counselor Education (EDCO) has been reviewed and accepted by the Board of Behavioral Services (BBS) verifying that our program is in compliance with California State law.

In this informational packet, you will find:

- Terminology
- How is being licensed beneficial?
- Steps to become an LPCC
- Educational Requirements
- Applying to become a PCCI (post-graduation)
- Exams
- Internship Requirements
- Frequently Asked Questions
- Memberships/Networking

TERMINOLOGY

- LPCC – Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor
- PCCI – Professional Clinical Counselor Intern
- Practicum – Supervised counseling (fieldwork) completed before degree (individual, group, families)
- Internship – Supervised counseling completed after degree
- Direct Client Hours – Hours spent face-to-face with clients
- Indirect Hours – Hours spent not with clients; case management, supervision, completing notes, planning for sessions, communicating with other professionals about clinical work

HOW IS BEING LICENSED BENEFICIAL?

- Broader scope of practice integrating socioemotional, academic, and career
- Can practice in a variety of settings including schools, mental health agencies, VA facilities, jails, private practice, hospitals, and many more; not where you practice it's how you practice
- Eligible for jobs comparable to LMFTs, LCSWs
- Reimbursement by Medi-Cal and insurance
- Lends credibility to you as a mental health professional
- Competitive for jobs in medical and nonprofit sectors (provides job stability amidst budget concerns)
- Transferable between states (may need to take additional steps, but being licensed in one state often expedites licensure in other states)

STEPS TO BECOME AN LPCC

1. Complete 48 unit M.A. degree through EDCO
2. Apply to become a PCCI
3. Complete post-degree Internship hours

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q: What if I am missing courses required for the LPCC-Preparation?

A: As long as you have met the minimum core content areas required within the degree, you can remediate the missing full course either through EDCO or through one of the BBS-approved providers:

<http://calpcc.org/graduate-course-providers>

Q: Can I get all of my courses signed off by EDCO/SJSU even though I am missing a core content course or am currently taking it outside of EDCO?

A: No. We need to verify that all coursework has been completed before we (EDCO/SJSU) can sign off on it. The only exception is the “additional coursework” for those who began before 8/1/2012. Please see question below for more information.

Q: I already graduated from EDCO. Can I still apply for the LPCC?

A: Yes. If you started before 8/1/2012, you must have completed 7 of the 9 core content areas before you graduated. You must have completed 6 units of 292. As of 2017, law and ethics (EDCO 232), diagnosis (EDCO 282), and assessment (EDCO 283) must be completed within the degree and cannot be remediated (regardless of when you began your program). As long as you have met the minimum requirements, you may be eligible to pursue licensure.

Q: What if I didn’t complete 6 units of 292 before I graduated?

A: Unfortunately, your degree is not eligible for licensure.

Q: How do I make up the content for the “additional coursework”?

A: Easy! You can take the courses online. Two great resources are:

<http://calpcc.org/ceu-course-providers>

<http://www.jfku.edu/Programs-and-Courses/Continuing-Extended-Education/OnlineCourses.html>

Make sure you are taking the correct course for the correct number of hours/units.

Q: Do I need to complete the “additional coursework” (for pre-8/1/2012) before I submit my coursework approval form to the department?

A: No. You do not need to have those completed before we verify your completion of the 9 core content areas. However, you do need those done before you submit your application to the BBS.
