Computer Science

The Computer Science Department at San Jose State University invites applications for a full time academic year adjunct lecturer (non-tenure track), for a one-year term beginning in Fall or Spring semester.

Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Computer Science and teaching experience at the undergraduate level; MS in Computer Science with extensive industry and teaching experience at the undergraduate level.
- Applicants should have awareness of and sensitivity to the educational goals of a multicultural population as might have been gained in cross-cultural study, training, teaching and other comparable experience.
- Candidates should have teaching experience in the following areas: data structures and algorithms, operating systems, and computer graphics and game design.

Responsibilities:

Full time adjunct lecturers are expected to teach a course load of at least four courses per semester and fulfill all responsibilities associated with the assigned course, including: conducting all assigned class meetings and weekly office hour meetings with students on campus, assigning and evaluating student work, including exams and homework assignments. Other instructional or academic duties may be assigned by the Dean or the Departmental Chair.

Candidate must address the needs of a student population of great diversity – in age, cultural background, ethnicity, primary language and academic preparation – through course materials, teaching strategies and advisement.

Eligibility: Employment is contingent upon proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Application Procedures: For full consideration, send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests/philosophy, and the name of three references with contact information, in a single pdf, to: sami.khuri@sjsu.edu. (Finalists will be asked to mail three letters of reference and original transcripts.). Applications are accepted on a rolling basis.
