Course Description

In-depth study of current issues in the design fields. Utilizes interdisciplinary approaches and concepts to provide a capstone experience for the design studies student.

This course satisfies 3 units and addresses the resolution project of the BA Design Studies program with emphasis in Graphic Design. As this is the final requirement for the BA Design Studies Degree, the degree project is expected to represent a significant body of work accomplished over the course of four years in the Department of Design program, through fitting the appropriate form to its content and audience, culminating in the design of an exhibit of the work. A substantial amount of student activity in the studio will address acquiring and refining these skills and knowledge. Students are only eligible to enroll in this course if all credit requirements for the degree are complete in this final semester and the student is enrolled with full-time status.

Student Learning Objectives

This is a studio-intensive course where 5 assigned projects will address the definition of personal strengths, identification of specific career choices prior to graduation, as well as employment of design output to enhance relationships between people in modern information society. Critiques, work-in-progress discussions, and assigned project reviews form the basis for group discussions within this class. You will be encouraged to apply evaluative skills, and articulate them in the critique format. You will also be challenged to determine goals and to make observations and decisions that result in concise, informative, and engaging visual statements.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, you will, through experimentation, careful analysis, and evaluation, establish a basis for visual problem solving utilizing the following interrelated theories.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

CLO 1: investigating and deepening design process and recognize design strategy as a creative process

CLO 2: define personal strengths and identify specific career choices prior to graduation

CLO 3: employ design as the means to enhance relationships between people in modern information society

CLO 4: demonstrate uncompromising/high professional standard for model making (materials, and craftsmanship)

CLO 5: apply time management tools effectively

CLO 6: organize information to make compelling and experimental visual expressions for presentation.

Course printing allowance:

Students may access the graphic design program's in-house printing facility during the class session's open lab hours. All users must respect the print lab policy's, including wireless printing procedures; the printing allowance includes course-related materials only: 50 Black and White (8.5 x 11) or (11 x 17) and 30 color (8.5 x 11) or (11 x 17) prints.

Course Requirements and Assignments

Increasingly, the contemporary role of the designer includes not simply that of form-giver but also problem-solver. Consequently designers need the ability to creatively examine complex issues, and the content and information that is developed from these examinations, must be given form. The purpose of this course is to introduce the students to a design model that sees design as the conscious planning and meaningful action that creates relationship to humanity, nature, spirit, and time.

Through two intensive workshops, lectures and hands-on projects, students will explore and discover a broader context in which to practice design. They will use design thinking and techniques to help them see, analyze, synthesize, and visualize. Through an intensive experience in how to design intentions, meaningful actions that source from their true sense of purpose and passion, they will gain a greater awareness and a deeper understanding of the role of design in their lives and their work.

Five major projects will be assigned. Several preliminary presentations leading up to each final project will be required. The fifth project will be due on the last day of class and is independently designed outside class.

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/ studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

Note: students are expected to be familiar or to independently make themselves familiar with basic digital graphics applications or any applications pertinent to their projects, as these will not be taught in class. In-class work days will be scheduled, however a formidable amount of out-of-class work will also be necessary.

Final Examination or Evaluation

Each project will be graded upon completion and assigned a letter grade according to the University policy—A through F. Late projects are subject to an F unless prior arrangements have been made (health, family emergency, etc.) An incomplete will only be granted to students with documented extenuating circumstances e.g. debilitating illness, family emergency etc. Semester projects cannot be re-done for re-evaluation, no exceptions.

Process evaluation:

Project 1 (300pts ttl): Thumbnails (150pts) and 1-option (150pts)

Project 2, 3, and 4 (300pts ttl): Thumbnails (100pts), 2-options (100pts), and 1-option (100pts)

Final evaluation:

Project 1–5 (300pts ttl):

. Problem solving skills CLO 1–3: (90pts)

Planning, organizing, research and content gathering (message development), analysis, sketching and content integration.

. Form giving skills CLO 1, 3, and 6: (90pts)

Design exploration, development, and refinement. The synthesis of the elements, principles, and attributes of form into an effective, evocative product. The verbal/visual investigation of form and function.

. Presentation skills CLO 4 and 6: (90pts)

The skill, dexterity, and attention to detail exhibited in presentation. The quality of line and form necessary for effective visual communication.

. Participation and Preparation CLO 1, 2, and 5: (30pts)

Producing appropriate solutions to all required phases of development on projects both in quality and quantity. Engaged in class critiques, activities, and work in class.

NOTE: According to University Policy F15-12, Students are expected to attend all meetings for the courses in which they are enrolled as they are responsible for material discussed therein and active participation is frequently essential to ensure maximum benefit to all class members. In some cases, attendance is fundamental to course objectives; for example, students may be required to interact with others in the class. Attendance is the responsibility of the student. Participation may be used as a criterion for grading when the parameters and their evaluation are clearly defined in the course syllabus and the percentage of the overall grade is stated.

Grading Information

All assignments are graded, therefore you should do your best on them or your course grade will be adversely affected. It is very important to complete all projects because:

- 1) Each develops a skill necessary for successful completion of projects.
- 2) Missing a portion of these projects can lower your course grade substantially.

Determination of Grades

A+: 98%–100%: Superior work, all criteria have been surpassed in a distinguished manner

A: 94%–97%: Superior work, all criteria have been surpassed

A-: 90%–93%

Student consistently delivers creative and high-quality work and demonstrates the ability to explore a wide range of alternative options as well as the ability to make intelligent and informed decisions on the final solution. Student is able to refine final solutions to instructor feedback. Student shows the ability to communicate ideas clearly and completely, both visually and verbally. Well-crafted and informed arguments support any and all design decisions. All projects are complete and on time. Student demonstrates a strong, engaged effort in work and in class. Student maintains at all times a positive attitude and commitment towards the profession, classmates, the instructor and their own development. Student participates in all regularly scheduled classes. Overall, student meets and exceeds the requirements of the course.

B+: 87%–89%

B: 84%–86%: Very good work, all criteria have been met

B-: 80%–83%

Student demonstrates an above average effort in all areas. Work is complete and demonstrates no craft or technical problem areas. Student shows the ability to communicate decent rationale for design decisions and demonstrates improvement in all areas of professional development as a designer. Student maintains a positive attitude and involvement in all coursework and class activities.

C+: 77%–79%

C: 74%–76%: Adequate, average work

C-: 70%–73%

Student produces the minimum work required at an average quality level and provides basic explanations for design decisions. Student demonstrates a basic understanding of the principles presented in class and may have some craft and technical problem areas. Student demonstrates average participation in all regularly scheduled classes.

D+: 67%–69%

D: 64%–66%: Meeting minimum work required at below average quality

D-: 60%–63%

Student produces the minimum work required at below average quality and demonstrates little understanding of the principles

F: 0%–59%: Failure to meet the course requirements

Student demonstrates a lack of understanding of the basic principles discussed in class and is unable to convey creative and craft and technical ability as required. Student has little or no involvement in class discussions, repeatedly misses deadlines or critiques, and demonstrates little commitment to learning and their own development. Student shows little participation and/or is consistently late for class.

The semester grade will be weighted according to the following percentages:

Project 1: 20% (600pts) = Process 300pts + Final 300pts

Project 2: 20% (600pts) = Process 300pts + Final 300pts

Project 3: 20% (600pts) = Process 300pts + Final 300pts

Project 4: 20% (600pts) = Process 300pts + Final 300pts

Project 5: 10% (300pts)

Workshops/other: 10% (300pts)
