Course Description (from the catalog)
Historical setting of economic institutions, problems, theories and policies traced from antiquity, Greece, Rome and the Middle Ages to the early twentieth century.

Course of Study
We begin with an introduction to economic history, the geography and history of Europe, and the economic way of thinking. We then survey the economic history of the world to c.600—the primitive hunting and gathering tribes that roamed the more hospitable locations, the emergence of settled agriculture, the urban revolution of the Bronze Age, the adoption of writing, and the rise of states in Eurasia, with particular reference to the Mediterranean region (Greece and Rome). Our detailed story begins with the collapse of the Western Roman Empire and the emergence of a European economy by c.1000. We study the organization of the medieval economy and the rise and decline of feudalism. We explore how the development of commerce and industry replaced traditional ways of making a living and led to the creation of the modern world—and we never lose sight of the development of government and the rise of the nation-state. We learn how the voyages of exploration created overseas empires that placed early modern Europe at the heart of a global economy. We learn how market orders arise spontaneously as the unintended outcome of human action. We explore how changes in economic organization—like specialization and the division of labor, the evolution of money and banking, and economic integration across natural constraints and national boundaries—led to a rising level of productivity and prosperity for more and more people. We learn how the capital accumulation and technological progress that characterize the industrial revolution led to a sustained rise in the rate of growth of output per head—and we tell the story up to 1914 with the outbreak of World War I.

Economic History of Europe, Econ 113B / Hist 113B, Fall 2018
Course Goals

The goal of this course is to study the historical evolution of the European economy, from antiquity to 1914.

Student Learning Objectives

The course provides a survey of economic events during this period, noting the interaction of economics with social, legal, and political institutions and the impact of economic events on culture and society (Econ SLO 2.1). Students also learn how to integrate economic theory with historical particulars (Econ SLO 1.3).

Course Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Understand the general features and possible causes of the agricultural, commercial, and industrial development of Europe from antiquity to 1914; and
2. Appreciate how economic theory enriches our understanding of historical events, with particular emphasis on the origin and development of markets, money, and economic integration, the rise of the nation-state and the evolution of government policies, and the great transformation wrought by the Industrial Revolution.

Other Readings

I also assign supplementary readings and (short) videos that you can view on the web.
Course Requirements and Assignments

“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities.” More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S16-9, Course Syllabi at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf.

There are four components to your grade: three exams (45%), your fifteen best quizzes (30%), a term paper (25%), and extra credit (worth 3.5 points).

The exams are largely, if not entirely, multiple choice. There are two shorter exams on Monday, September 24, and Monday, November 5, which emphasize what we have covered since the previous exam and are worth 15% each. The final exam on Tuesday, December 18, 9:45 AM – 12:00 PM is comprehensive but with a major emphasis on the causes, characteristics, and consequences of the Industrial Revolution to 1914 and is worth 15%.

There are at least 30 objective quizzes worth a total of 30 points. Each quiz is worth two points, allowing students to drop or miss at least fifteen quizzes. Quiz scores are calculated pro rata so that 10/10 on a quiz is worth two points, and 5/10 is worth one point. There are no make-ups for any quizzes.

The quizzes are based chiefly on the assigned readings and lectures. The questions emphasize key concepts and important events and developments.

The term paper (6-10 page paper, including bibliography and references) is worth 25 points, of which 5 points are allocated for a typed proposal, to include the sources that you will consult, for my approval by 6 PM on Monday, October 8. The term paper itself is due by 6 PM on Wednesday, November 14.

Although I expect to grade on a curve, I also take into account your absolute performance (as compared with your performance relative to other students) and if every student does first-rate work, I’d be delighted to award everyone an A.

I am happy to help you. If you experience any difficulty in this course, please do not hesitate to come to me for help. I am available not only during office hours but also by email and phone, and I am always happy to clarify difficult concepts, resolve any lingering confusion, or otherwise assist you in making this course enjoyable and rewarding.

Classroom Protocol

Class attendance is not mandatory and will not directly affect a student’s grade. However, students who miss several classes, in addition to dropping quizzes, will very likely consign themselves to doing extremely poorly on their exams. I therefore strongly encourage students to attend fully every class.

Academic integrity

Your commitment as a student to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University’s Academic Integrity policy, located at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F15-7.pdf, requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The Student Conduct and Ethical Development website is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/.

Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person’s ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include your assignment or any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU’s Academic Policy S07-2 requires approval of instructors.

Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center (AEC) at http://www.sjsu.edu/aec/ to establish a record of their disability.
