Course Description

English 1B is the second course in SJSU’s two-semester lower-division composition sequence. Beyond providing repeated practice in planning and executing essays, and broadening and deepening students’ understanding of the genres, audiences, and purposes of college writing, English 1B differs from English 1A in its emphasis on persuasive and critical writing (with less attention paid to the personal essay), its requirement for fewer but longer essays, and its introduction to writing informed by research. Students will develop sophistication in writing analytical, argumentative, and critical essays; a mature writing style appropriate to university discourse; reading abilities that will provide an adequate foundation for upper-division work; proficiency in basic library research skills and in writing papers informed by research; and mastery of the mechanics of writing.

Prerequisites: Passage of Written Communication English 1A (C or better) or approved equivalent.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

Building on the college-level proficiencies required in English 1A, students shall achieve the ability to write complete essays that demonstrate advanced proficiency in all of the following:

- Clear and effective communication of meaning.
• An identifiable focus (argumentative essays will state their thesis clearly and will show an awareness, implied or stated, of some opposing point of view).
• An appropriate voice that demonstrates an awareness of audience and purpose.
• Careful attention to review and revision.
• Effective and correct use of supporting materials, including independent research (e.g., quoting, paraphrasing, summarizing, and citing sources);
• Effective analysis, interpretation, evaluation, and synthesis of ideas encountered in multiple readings.
• Effective organization and development of ideas at paragraph and essay levels.
• Appropriate and effective sentence structure and diction.
• Command of conventional mechanics (e.g., punctuation, spelling, reference, agreement).

Student Learning Objectives:

SLO 1: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to refine the competencies established in Written Communication 1A.

SLO 2: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to use (locate, analyze, and evaluate) supporting materials, including independent library research, and identify key concepts and terms that describe the information needed.

SLO 3: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to select efficient and effective approaches for accessing information utilizing an appropriate investigative method or information retrieval system.

SLO 4: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to synthesize ideas encountered in multiple readings.

SLO 5: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to incorporate principles of design and communication to construct effective arguments.

SLO 6: Students shall write complete essays that demonstrate the ability to identify and discuss issues related to censorship and freedom of speech.

Other Readings

Other readings will be found on Canvas: http://sjsu.instructure.com/

Other equipment / material requirements

It is highly recommended that you have access to a laptop or tablet device that you can bring to class. While not a traditionally hybrid class, I do view these items as tools for modern writing.

It is also recommended that you avail yourself of Microsoft Office 2013, available at the bookstore for students at a severely reduced rate --- less than $10 at last glance. All essays will be turned in as either a .doc or .docx file format.

Classroom Protocol

You are expected to come to class each day, prepared to participate. Electronic devices such as laptops and tablets are highly recommended, but are also a privilege. They are tools for writing and discourse. Should they become tools for Facebook and Tumblr, then I will ask you to put them away. Smart phones may also be used in lieu of their weightier cousins, but should they begin emitting music, I will dance to the song. Keep your smart phones on silent or vibrate.

Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, students are expected to spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

Writing

This is a writing intensive class with an 8000 word minimum. As such, every writing assignment must be turned in to pass the class, no matter what your final percentage score happens to be. Failure to turn in every writing assignment will result in a failing grade.

Out of Class Essays -- research optional

There will be a total of four (4) out of class essays this semester, at a minimum of 1250 words a piece. These essays include the diagnostic essay and three research optional argumentative and analytical essays assigned throughout the semester. Each of these essays must be properly formatted according to MLA specifications, including but not limited to proper headings, proper citations, and a works cited list at the end. Each of these assignments will be turned into Canvas for credit in a .doc or .docx file format. It is not recommended that you use Google Docs for this.

Annotated Bibliography

This class also has a major research component. As part of that research component, you are going to write a five entry annotated bibliography consisting of five sources and five annotations of minimum 300 words a piece.

Research Essay

In addition to the annotated bibliography, you are also to write an argumentative research essay, using some if not all of the research from your bibliography, at a minimum of 1500 words.

Reflective Essay

In lieu of a final examination, this class is using the final portfolio assignment. Part of that assignment is a reflective essay in which you specifically discuss progress you have made in your writing. This will be due on the last day of classes.

Reading

This is also a very reading intensive class. I expect you not only to read a lot but also to read well. Reading assignments shall be completed by the day that they appear in the schedule. So, should Stephanie Coontz's "What We Miss about the 1950s" be scheduled for Tuesday, January 28, then it must be completed by class on that day.
Quizzes
One of the tools at my disposal for helping in the smooth understanding of the reading material is the quiz. Quizzes will all be held on Canvas. They are open book, open note affairs, but with ten minute time limits.

Participation Assignments
To guarantee participation, there will be a series of on Canvas and in class assignments, reader responses, group discussions, peer review workshops, that will count toward a participation score.

University policy F69-24, “Students should attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to insure maximum benefit for all members of the class. Attendance per se shall not be used as a criterion for grading.”

Assignments and Grading Policy

Grading: A-F. To take the Writing Skills Test and move on to upper-division coursework, students need a C or better in English 1B.

All grades will be broken down on a percentage basis, using the following model.

There is no extra credit given in this course.

Late Policy
You may turn in assignments late, but grades are reduced on a sliding scale. After one week, your grade is reduced by 25%. After two weeks, your grade is reduced by 50%. After three weeks, your grade is reduced by 75%. Finally, after four weeks, you may turn in the assignment to meet word count requirement, but will receive a score of zero on the assignment.
