GE/SJSU Studies Category: Written Communication A2

GE A2 Course Description
Written Communication 1 cultivates an understanding of the writing process and the goals, dynamics, and genres of written communication, with special attention to the nature of writing at the university. Students will develop college-level reading abilities, rhetorical sophistication, and writing styles that give form and coherence to complex ideas and feelings. A passing grade of C or better signifies that the student is a capable college-level writer and reader of English.

ENGL 1 Section Description
English 1A is the first course in SJSU’s two-semester lower-division composition sequence; it provides an introduction to baccalaureate-level composition, with attention to the more formal attitudes and demands of writing at the university (expository and argumentative essays). Students will develop college-level reading abilities, rhetorical sophistication, and writing styles that give form and coherence to complex ideas and feelings.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)
Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:
1. demonstrate the ability to read actively and rhetorically;
2. demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps in the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing) and demonstrate an awareness of said performance;
3. articulate an awareness of and write according to the rhetorical features of texts, such as purpose, audience, context, and rhetorical appeals;
4. demonstrate the ability to integrate their ideas and those of others by explaining, analyzing, developing, and criticizing ideas effectively in several genres;
5. and demonstrate college-level language use, clarity, and grammatical proficiency in writing.
ENGL 1A Course Outcomes (CLO)
Students shall achieve the ability to write complete essays that demonstrate college-level proficiency in all of the following:

- Clear and effective communication of meaning.
- An identifiable focus, tailored to a particular audience and purpose (argumentative essays will state their thesis clearly and show an awareness, implied or stated, of some opposing point of view).
- The ability to perform effectively the essential steps of the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing).
- The ability to explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively.
- Effective use within their own essays of supporting material drawn from reading or other sources, including appropriate citation.
- Effective organization within the paragraph and the essay.
- Accuracy, variety, and clarity of sentences.
- Appropriate diction and tone.
- Control of conventional mechanics (e.g., punctuation, spelling, reference, agreement).

Course Content
Diversity: SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. Thus, you will be reading works from writers of different ethnicities, gender, socioeconomic class, and ideologies. Writing: Writing assignments shall give students repeated practice in all phases of the writing process: critical thinking, researching, prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 8000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form. Because in-class writing is valued and students should be able to perform well in timed writing situations, two essays shall be written in class. In addition, ENGL 1A classes require at least three out-of-class essays (one of which is the oral presentation).

Reading: ENG 1A is also a reading course. The reading is a crucial component of the class, as you must read effective writing to become an effective writer. All readings must be completed by the beginning of each class session, and all discussions and assignments will be based on the reading material. It will be impossible to be a successful student in this course if you neglect to complete the daily reading.

In addition, PARTICIPATION DOES NOT MEAN coming to class and sitting silently at your desk; it means taking part in all class activities and discussions. Therefore, your grade requires asking questions, offering opinions and suggestions, giving feedback, debating, etc. 😊

Course Requirements and Assignments
SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

Oral Presentations:
1. Students will be paired and interview one another.
2. Each student will present a multimodal essay. (I will explain in class.)

Grammar & Reading Quizzes: I reserve the right to give pop quizzes, which will test your completion and comprehension of the required reading assignments, and can alter and/or add assignments at any time.

Final Exam: There will be a comprehensive final exam on grammar, punctuation, research, citation, and include a short essay.

Grading Policy—PAY ATTENTION!
Requirements for particular assignments will vary, but in all cases essay grades will reflect the paper’s effectiveness, which I have broken down into three major areas: content (this includes maturity and sophistication of thought), organization, and expression. All assignments, quizzes, and exams are graded on a traditional A-F scale. The following are the criteria by which essays are typically evaluated in first-year writing courses:
- An “A” essay is organized and well-developed, demonstrating a clear understanding and fulfillment of the assignment, written in a unique and compelling voice. It will show the student’s ability to use language effectively with a solid command of grammar, mechanics, and usage.
- A “B” essay demonstrates competence in the same categories as an “A” essay, but it may show slight weakness in one of these areas. It will respond to the topic suitably and may contain some grammatical, mechanical or usage errors.
- A “C” essay will complete the requirements of the assignment, but it will show weaknesses in fundamentals, such as development. It may show weakness in mastery of grammar, mechanics, usage, or voice.

• A “D” essay will neglect to meet all the requirements of the assignment or may be superficial in its treatment of the topic. It may lack development or fail to stay on topic. It may contain grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that interfere with reader comprehension.

• An “F” essay does not fulfill one or more of the requirements of the assignment.

Total point value for the course is 150. At the end of the semester, your overall course grade will be calculated as follows:

Classroom Protocol

Attendance: University policy F69-24: “Students should attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to ensure maximum benefit for all members of the class.” Thus, do NOT be later than 5 minutes (unless you have contacted me with a legitimate reason), or you will be asked to leave. Showing up late disrupts the class. Be considerate of your classmates.

Cell Phones: If I see you texting or listening to music, you will be asked to leave class, resulting in a 0 for that day’s class participation.

Essays: Hardcopies of all formal essays are required and must be typed and in MLA format. Handwritten essays are not acceptable. Drafts are required of each major essay assignment. I will not grade an essay unless I have first seen a draft.
Late assignments: If you are unable to attend class (this includes illnesses) the day an essay or homework assignment is due, IT IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY to have a friend or classmate print and deliver the assignment to me DURING your regular class time. In addition, you are to upload your work to Canvas at least six hours prior to class. I will not accept email submissions, period.

Except in extreme cases of illness or emergencies, there will be NO make-up quizzes or exams unless you have arranged other accommodations with me before the exam date.

Canvas: http://www.sjsu.edu/at/ec/canvas/index.html. All course materials will be posted on Canvas: syllabus, readings, grammar/editing assignments, etc. Class announcements will be made through Canvas as well. Be sure to check your account daily.

• “Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.” In classes where active participation of students or guests may be on the recording, permission of those students or guests should be obtained as well.

• “Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.”

Accommodation to Students' Religious Holidays
San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed.
