GE A2 Course Description

Written Communication 1 cultivates an understanding of the writing process and the goals, dynamics, and genres of written communication, with special attention to the nature of writing at the university. Students will develop college-level reading abilities, rhetorical sophistication, and writing styles that give form and coherence to complex ideas and feelings. A passing grade of C or better signifies that the student is a capable college-level writer and reader of English.

GE A2 Course Content

Diversity: SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. Thus, you will be reading articles from writers of different ethnicities, gender, socioeconomic class, and ideologies.

Writing: Writing assignments shall give students repeated practice in all phases of the writing process: prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 8000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form. Because in-class writing is valued and students should be able to perform well in timed writing situations, at least three essays shall be written in class. In addition, ENGL 1A classes require at least three out-of-class essays.

Reading: ENGL 1A is also a reading course. The reading is a crucial component of the class, as you must read effective writing to become an effective writer. All readings must be completed by the beginning of each class session, and all discussions and assignments will be based on the reading material. It will be impossible to be a successful student in this course if you neglect to complete the daily reading.

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

Course Goals and Student Learning Objectives

Students shall achieve the ability to write complete essays that demonstrate college-level proficiency in all of the following:
• Clear and effective communication of meaning.
• An identifiable focus, tailored to a particular audience and purpose (argumentative essays will state their thesis clearly and show an awareness, implied or stated, of some opposing point of view).
• The ability to perform effectively the essential steps of the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing).
• The ability to explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively.
• Effective use within their own essays of supporting material drawn from reading or other sources, including appropriate citation.
• Effective organization within the paragraph and the essay.
• Accuracy, variety, and clarity of sentences.
• Appropriate diction and tone.
• Control of conventional mechanics (e.g., punctuation, spelling, reference, agreement).

Student Learning Objectives for GE Area A2

Students shall

1. demonstrate the ability to read actively and rhetorically
2. demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps in the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing) and demonstrate an awareness of said performance
3. articulate an awareness of and write according to the rhetorical features of texts, such as purpose, audience, context, and rhetorical appeals
4. demonstrate the ability to integrate their ideas and those of others by explaining, analyzing, developing, and criticizing ideas effectively in several genres
5. demonstrate college-level language use, clarity, and grammatical proficiency in writing

Classroom Protocol

Attendance & Participation

Due to the large amount of material being covered in such a short amount of time, consistent attendance and active participation are crucial to being successful in this class. All students are expected to arrive to each class on time with all due assignments completed and ready to engage in class discussions. Failure to do so will affect students’ participations scores.

Electronics

In order to create a distraction free learning environment, electronics such as cell phones, mp3 players, tablets and lap tops will not be permitted in class. There may be exceptions to this rule if specific in-class writing assignments require access to the internet or a word processing software, but any such exceptions will be made by the instructor.

Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, students are expected to spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

Essays

Essays will be written either in-class or at home. The dates for in-class essays are noted on the class schedule. On the day of an in-class essay students must bring pens and a green book. Students will have the entire class period to complete their essay response. All out-of-class essays will be submitted online via CANVAS. Pay close attention to the time an essay is due because you will not be allowed to submit assignments late on CANVAS.

Drafts

Students will be graded on their drafts to ensure they are making progress. That said, a draft should be a completed work of writing; credit will be lost if students turn in drafts that do not demonstrate a substantive amount of work. When a draft is due 2 copies should be brought to class and it should also be uploaded onto canvas to receive the instructor’s comments.
