ENGL/LLD 100A – Writing Competency Through Genres
Section 2 and Section 3 Course Greensheet – Summer 2014

Instructor: Katherine Masters
Email: katherine.masters@sjsu.edu
Office: Faculty Office Building 218
Office Phone: (408) 924-4663 (my preferred method of contact is email)
Office Hours: Tuesdays/Thursdays, 1-2 p.m.
Course Day/Time/Room: Tuesdays/Thursdays
   Section 2: 9-11 a.m.       Section 3: 11 a.m. – 1 p.m.
   Boccardo Business Center (BBC) Room 221
Prerequisites: Passed ENGL 1B or equivalent; taken WST at least once without passing.

COURSE DESCRIPTION
Serves as alternative satisfaction of the WST requirement if passed with a C or better (C- or lower will not satisfy the WST). Prepares students for 100W through drafting, feedback, and revision to demonstrate writing competency. Develops ability to analyze written genres used in the students’ chosen disciplines as well as write analytical and reflective essays.

COURSE GOALS
ENGL/LLD 100A is one course taught in two different departments. It is designed with the goal of preparing you to succeed in 100W, other upper division classes, and your profession. You will have intensive practice in prewriting, drafting, revising, and editing academic writing. You will be asked to research, analyze, and reflect on various kinds of writing and to produce a minimum of 5000 words, including a rhetorical analysis and a report about writing in your chosen discipline.

STUDENT LEARNING OBJECTIVES (SLOs)
By the end of the course, students will be able to:
   a. Use correct and situationally appropriate sentence structure and grammar;
   b. Utilize feedback from instructor and peers to improve the accuracy and clarity of writing;
   c. Recognize, select, and use basic activities of the writing process, including prewriting, organizing, drafting, revising, editing, and peer review;
   d. Critically self-reflect about the writing process and about making context-appropriate rhetorical choices;
   e. Critically read, interpret, and synthesize multiple texts;
   f. Write well organized, well developed essays with a clear thesis;
   g. Identify how types of written texts in a variety of fields (genres) are influenced by audience, situation, and purpose;
   h. Employ research strategies to collect, analyze, and evaluate data from primary and secondary sources.

REQUIRED TEXTBOOKS AND MATERIALS
Masters 100A Course Reader – Pick up at Maple Press, 481 East San Carlos Street
A college-level English dictionary and Internet access

1 This course has been adapted from a similar one developed by Julian Heather and Fiona Glade at CSU Sacramento.
ESTIMATION OF PER UNIT WORKLOAD
Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of forty-five hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

TUTORING AND OTHER RESOURCES
• Writing Center: 1st floor, Clark Hall, http://www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter
• Peer Connections locations:
  o 1st floor, Clark Hall
  o Student Services Center 600
  o Living Learning Center, Campus B village, 1st Floor
• Computer hardware and software assistance – please see Help Desk, First floor, Clark Hall

Online Resources
• Canvas: We will be using Canvas throughout the course. Login URL: http://sjsu.instructure.com
  Please note that it should NOT have the “www” at the start of the URL like many other websites. It is recommended that you visit the eCampus Canvas website at http://www.sjsu.edu/at/ec/canvas/. This website offers a number of Quick Start Learning Guides to help you navigate Canvas tools. Also, detailed guides can be found at http://guides.instructure.com/.
  Username: SJSU 9-digit ID number.
  Password: Self-generated password for your SJSUOne account
• Turnitin.com: We will be using Turnitin.com for the main writing assignments. The turnitin software is already embedded within Canvas, so you do not need an additional password to access turnitin.com.

• Criterion: We will be using Criterion for the second draft process for each essay. This is a required step in your drafting process. We will go through this program together in class, so you feel comfortable with how we will be using it. You will access Criterion through Canvas. It is up to you how much you use it to help you check for grammar and usage mistakes. I make substantial comments on your first drafts, and very little on your second drafts, so it is your responsibility to familiarize yourself with Criterion. To sign up for Criterion, go to http://criterion.ets.org and follow these steps:
  1) Create an account as a new user
  2) Sign up for my class: Summer English 100A with the following access code: 2CUE – 565H

CLASS RULES AND PARTICIPATION
This course is intensive and difficult. Students will adhere to the following rules. You will come prepared to class by doing the following:

• Show up on time and be here not just physically, but mentally. Students who make a habit of being late will be asked to leave the classroom. Tardiness is disrespectful to other students in class.
• Look ahead on your syllabus the day before every class meeting to double check that you have done all readings, homework, and that you will be bringing the correct materials to class for the next day (i.e. books, rough drafts of assignments). Students who show up underprepared to class will be asked to leave that day.
• I do not accept late homework, assignments or late papers, period. It is unfair to your other classmates who also have very difficult school, work, and personal obligations.
• If you miss a class, you may not make up homework, in-class essays, or receive an extension on an assignment that is due that day unless you have documentation of your absence from an appropriate source (i.e. doctor’s note; jury duty letter).

• E-mail is for short correspondences, while office hours are for extended discussion. Remember proper e-mail etiquette when you e-mail professors, and identify yourself and what class you are in. Students should e-mail when they need quick clarification, want to see if they are “headed in the right direction” with an idea, or when they would like to set up an appointment to see me in office hours. Lengthy e-mails, or e-mails that would require a professor to spend a long time responding to (i.e. “What did we do in class?”) involve topics for which a student should be seeking office hours. In office hours, I am happy to give you 10-20 minutes on average of personal guidance. Also, library, tutoring and mentoring services on campus are free and helpful. Be sure to take advantage of these resources, as well as the Internet.

• Exchange e-mails with at least one other student in class, as I will not respond to the email “What did we do in class?” Form a “help” network if you miss class, so you do not fall behind.

• Often, students mistake both professors and tutors as editors. We will not edit your papers. You can expect me to mark the first page or two of your essay drafts, so that you can see your patterns of error. It is up to you to learn to notice these errors in subsequent pages of your draft. Expect tutors at the Writing Center and Peer Connections to help you learn these rules, but do not expect them to mark every error you make. It is your responsibility to learn from your mistakes, practice, and start noticing what your choices in your writing.

• If e-mailed during the week (Mon – Fri), I will respond to your e-mail within 24 hours. If e-mailed during the weekend (Fri [late afternoon] – Sun), I will respond to your e-mail within 48 hours. Last minute e-mails, e-mails sent late at night before an assignment is due, will not receive a response.

GRADING POLICY AND ASSIGNMENTS

This is a portfolio-based writing class. Your final grade for the course will be based on scores given to your portfolio and your final exam.

During the first 9 weeks of the semester, you will earn eligibility points for each assignment or activity that is required as well as for participation. The maximum number of points is 100. You must have at least 70 points to be eligible to submit your portfolio and take the final exam. If you have not earned the minimum of 70 points by the end of the 9th week of the semester, you will receive an F in the class and you will not be able to submit your portfolio. The points you receive prior to submitting your portfolio and the feedback you receive from your instructor on your drafts are intended to ensure that you have a complete portfolio, strong participation in the class, and improvement in your writing through feedback and drafting. The points you receive during this time will not be calculated as part of the final grade. They are simply an entry ticket that allows you to submit your portfolio and take the final exam.

You are encouraged to use the tutoring services on campus if you or your instructor feels that you need additional support, but all work is expected to be your own. If the instructor has reason to believe otherwise, then he or she has the right to require additional evidence that the work is your own.

In the final weeks of the semester, you will assemble your portfolio, write a brief cover letter, and write an in-class final essay. Your final grade will be based on the scores given to your portfolio and final exam by two readers. The portfolio is worth 70% and the final exam is worth 30% of the final grade. (see grading rubric and grading scale included in this greensheet). To receive a C or higher for course, you must receive at least 70% out of 100% on your portfolio and final exam combined.

After the portfolio and final exam are scored, the instructor may choose to petition a low-pass portfolio or final exam for a higher score if she or he believes the score is inaccurate. To be considered for such a petition, the student must be in good standing in the course and have excellent, consistent participation in all classroom activities. Students who fail the portfolio may, on the recommendation of the instructor, have one more opportunity to revise during finals week.

KEEP ALL copies of your drafts and feedback from peers and instructors. Do not throw away anything. You will need all of this as evidence of your drafting process for your final portfolio.
DROPPING THE COURSE

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic calendar web page located at http://www.sjsu.edu/academic_programs/calendars/academic_calendar/. The late drop policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes. If you pass the WST after the drop deadline, you will not be able to drop 100A or withdraw without penalty. You will only be allowed to withdraw for the reasons specified in the late drop policy. Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/.

GRADING: 100A is graded A-F. CR/NCR is not an option in this course because a “credit” in 100A will not serve as alternative satisfaction of the WST requirement (students must receive a C or better in order to fulfill the WST requirement).

INCOMPLETEs: No incompletes will be given for 100A.

OTHER IMPORTANT COURSE POLICIES

1. Statement of Plagiarism: The LLD and English Departments would like to emphasize that we adhere strictly to the rules against plagiarism as set forth in the SJSU Catalog. The Catalog defines plagiarism as follows:

   1.2.1 Plagiarism. At SJSU, plagiarism is the act of representing the work of another as one’s own (without giving appropriate credit) regardless of how that work was obtained, and submitting it to fulfill academic requirements. Plagiarism at SJSU includes but is not limited to:

   1.2.2 The act of incorporating the ideas, words, sentences, paragraphs, or parts thereof, or the specific substance of another’s work, without giving appropriate credit, and representing the product as one’s own work; and

   1.2.3 Representing another’s artistic/scholarly works such as musical compositions, computer programs, photographs, paintings, drawing, sculptures or similar works as one’s own.(available at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html - Student Responsibilities - Discipline – Policy on Academic Dishonesty – 1.0 Definitions of Academic Dishonesty)

   Should a student plagiarize in any ENGL or LLD 100A course, the instructor will report the student to the University’s Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. Also, points will be deducted from the assignment/course depending on the severity of the policy violation.

   How to avoid plagiarism. It is not always easy to recognize whether you are legitimately citing the work of others or whether you have “crossed the line” into plagiarism. To become acquainted with what plagiarism is and how to avoid it, the following SJSU website offers definitions, policies, and links to useful websites offering guidelines in plagiarism prevention. Students are fully accountable for understanding these policies. www.sjlibrary.org/services/literacy/info_comp/plagiarism.htm

2. Academic integrity statement (from Office of Judicial Affairs): Your own commitment to learning, as evidenced by your enrollment at San José State University and the University’s Academic Integrity Policy requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the Office of Judicial Affairs. The policy on academic integrity can be found at http://www2.sjsu.edu/senate/S04-12.pdf

3. Academic Honesty: Faculty will make every reasonable effort to foster honest academic conduct in their courses. They will secure examinations and their answers so that students cannot have prior access to them and proctor examinations to prevent students from copying or exchanging information. They will be on the alert for plagiarism. Faculty will provide additional information, ideally on the green sheet, about other unacceptable procedures in class work and examinations. Students who are caught cheating will be reported to the Judicial Affairs Officer of the University, as prescribed by Academic Senate Policy S04-12.

4. Campus policy in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act: If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center http://www.sjsu.edu/aec/ to establish a record of their disability. AEC’s phone number is 924-6000.

5. Expectations about classroom behavior; see Academic Senate Policy S90-5 on Student Rights and Responsibilities. (http://www2.sjsu.edu/senate/s90-5.htm).

6. If you would like to include in your paper any material you have submitted, or plan to submit, for another class, please note that SJSU’s Academic Integrity policy S04-12 requires approval by both instructors. (http://www2.sjsu.edu/senate/S04-12.pdf and academic dishonesty http://sa.sjsu.edu/download/judicial/Academic_Dishonesty_Policy.pdf).

7. Evacuation plan for the classroom. See posted information in classroom.
