GE/SJSU Studies Category: GE Area A2 Written Communication

“University Policies: Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs maintains university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc.”

Course Description and Goals

GE A2 Course Description
Written Communication 1 cultivates an understanding of the writing process and the goals, dynamics, and genres of written communication, with special attention to the nature of writing at the university. Students will develop college-level reading abilities, rhetorical sophistication, and writing styles that give form and coherence to complex ideas and feelings. A passing grade of C or better signifies that the student is a capable college-level writer and reader of English.

ENGL 1 Section Description
English 1A is the first course in SJSU’s two-semester lower-division composition sequence; it provides an introduction to baccalaureate-level composition, with attention to the more formal attitudes and demands of writing at the university (expository and argumentative essays). Students will develop college-level reading abilities, rhetorical sophistication, and writing styles that give form and coherence to complex ideas and feelings.

Diversity: SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. Thus, you will be reading articles from writers of different ethnicities, gender, socioeconomic class, and ideologies.

Reading: ENG 1A is also a reading course. The reading is a crucial component of the class, as you must read effective writing to become an effective writer. All readings must be completed by the beginning of each class. session, and all discussions and assignments will be based on the reading material. It will be impossible to be a successful student in this course if you neglect to complete the daily reading.

Writing: Writing assignments shall give students repeated practice in all phases of the writing process: prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 8000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form. Because in-class writing is valued and students should be able to perform well in timed writing situations, at least three essays shall be written in class. In addition, ENGL 1A classes require at least three out-of-class essays.

In addition, PARTICIPATION does NOT mean coming to class and sitting silently at your desk; it means taking part in all class activities. Therefore, a percentage of your grade involves asking questions, offering opinions and suggestions, giving feedback, debating, etc.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO) (Delete if not applicable)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:
1. demonstrate the ability to read actively and rhetorically;
2. demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps in the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing) and demonstrate an awareness of said performance;
3. articulate an awareness of and write according to the rhetorical features of texts, such as purpose, audience, context, and rhetorical appeals;
4. demonstrate the ability to integrate their ideas and those of others by explaining, analyzing, developing, and criticizing ideas effectively in several genres;
5. and demonstrate college-level language use, clarity, and grammatical proficiency in writing.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO) (Required)

Students shall achieve the ability to write complete essays that demonstrate college-level proficiency in all of the following:

- Clear and effective communication of meaning.
- An identifiable focus, tailored to a particular audience and purpose (argumentative essays will state their thesis clearly and show an awareness, implied or stated, of some opposing point of view).
- The ability to perform effectively the essential steps of the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing).
- The ability to explain, analyze, develop, and criticize ideas effectively.
- Effective use within their own essays of supporting material drawn from reading or other sources, including appropriate citation.
- Effective organization within the paragraph and the essay.
- Accuracy, variety, and clarity of sentences.
- Appropriate diction and tone.
- Control of conventional mechanics (e.g., punctuation, spelling, reference, agreement).

Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details can be found from University Syllabus Policy S16-9 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf.

Theme of this course: Food: Beautiful Food (or is it?)
Food is a topic worth discussing culturally, ethically, morally, politically, and globally. We will analyze the difference between natural and organic; poverty and plenty; neighbor and stranger. Therefore, be ready to discover the etymology of words in this class. You also must know definitions! In addition, a vital approach in this class is research: what constitutes strong or weak evidence? Each week you will note in your notebook a reading analysis of required textbook chapters assigned.

Out-of-Class Essays:
1. Informative: You will choose a topic about food and inform me (your audience) about the subject. Do NOT give me your opinion!!! Stick to research.
2. Argumentative: You will choose a side and develop a thesis statement and prove your argument/opinion. Said opinion MUST be supported by EVIDENCE. We will discuss two argumentative approaches: Aristotolean and Rogerian. Of those two, you will choose which approach you will choose.

In-class essays:
You will find and examine two (2) articles, creating a rhetorical analysis identifying strategies such as ethos, pathos, and logos. In addition, you will identify elements such as tone, style, imagery, audience, etc. This is to develop your analytical skills. Attention to detail is paramount both in class and out of class!

Again, participation (the act of taking part or sharing in something) is paramount to this course. There will be in-class activities requiring student involvement: group activities, team pop-quizzes, debates, video/audio/powerpoint presentation. Be ready to use your vocal cords and creative mind. 😊

Final Examination or Evaluation
“There shall be an appropriate final examination or evaluation at the scheduled time in every course, unless specifically exempted by the college dean who has curricular responsibility for the course.” More details can be found in University Policy S06-4 (http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S06-4.pdf).

The final exam will be a timed in-class essay, analyzing a passage from a text of my choice. You will use ALL the skills learned during the semester (including grammar!).

“This course must be passed with a C- or better as a CSU graduation requirement.”

The Department of English reaffirms its commitment to the differential grading scale as defined by the SJSU Catalog (Grades-Letter Grading). Grades issued must represent a full range of student performance: A+/A/A- = excellent; B+/B/B- = above average; C+/C/C- = average; D+/D/D- = below average; F = failure. Within any of the letter grade ranges (e.g. B+/B/B-), the assignment of a + or - grade will reflect stronger (+) or weaker (-) completion of the goals of the assignment.

Requirements for particular assignments will vary, but in all cases essay grades will reflect the paper’s effectiveness, which are broken down into three major areas: content (this includes maturity and sophistication of thought), organization, and expression. All assignments, quizzes, and exams are graded on a traditional A-F scale.

The following are the criteria by which essays are typically evaluated in first-year writing courses:

An “A” essay is organized and well-developed, demonstrating a clear understanding and fulfillment of the assignment, written in a unique and compelling voice. It will show the student’s ability to use language effectively with a solid command of grammar, mechanics, and usage.

A “B” essay demonstrates competence in the same categories as an “A” essay, but it may show slight weakness in one of these areas. It will respond to the topic suitably and may contain some grammatical, mechanical or usage errors.

A “C” essay will complete the requirements of the assignment, but it will show weaknesses in fundamentals, such as development. It may show weakness in mastery of grammar, mechanics, usage, or voice.

A “D” essay will neglect to meet all the requirements of the assignment or may be superficial in its treatment of the topic. It may lack development or fail to stay on topic. It may contain grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that interfere with reader comprehension.

An “F” essay does not fulfill the requirements of the assignment.
Classroom Protocol

Attendance: University policy F69-24: “Students should attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to ensure maximum benefit for all members of the class.” Thus, do NOT be later than 5 minutes (unless you have contacted me with a legitimate reason), or you will be asked to leave. Showing up late disrupts the class. Be considerate of your classmates.

Cell Phones: If I see you texting or listening to music, you will be asked to leave class, resulting in a 0 for that day’s class participation.

Essays: Hardcopies of all formal essays are required and must be typed and in MLA format. Handwritten essays are not acceptable. Drafts are required of each major essay assignment. I will not grade an essay unless I have first seen a draft.
