ENGL 2 COURSE DESCRIPTION

General Course Description
ENGL 2 is an introductory writing course that focuses on the relationship between language and logic when composing arguments. Building on the skills acquired in ENGL 1A, you will learn to reason effectively and think rhetorically to invent, demonstrate, and express arguments clearly, logically, and persuasively.
Section-Specific Course Description

Our course reading, writing, and discussions will ask you to examine popular (pop) culture and entertainment with a critical eye. What is pop culture? Who creates it and whom for? How does pop culture reflect and/or shape society’s values? What does a pop culture product reveal about a society in its specific historical moment? Do our pop culture heroes and villains communicate particular attitudes about race, class, and gender? In other words, what arguments can we make about pop culture, and how can we make them? We’ll cast a wide net for our investigation, considering everything from the Marvel and DC universes, to Beyoncé and Taylor Swift, to vampires, witches, and zombies. We’ll practice analyzing the arguments made by a diverse range of pop culture critics, journalists, and scholars, and we’ll practice responding with our own arguments.

ENGL 2 Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of the course, you will be able to

1. locate and evaluate sources, through library research, and integrate research through appropriate citation and quotation;
2. present effective arguments that use a full range of legitimate rhetorical and logical strategies to articulate and explain their positions on complex issues in dialogue with other points of view;
3. locate, interpret, evaluate, and synthesize evidence in a comprehensive way in support of one’s ideas;
4. identify and critically evaluate the assumptions in and the context of an argument;
5. distinguish and convey inductive and deductive patterns as appropriate, sequencing arguments and evidence logically to draw valid conclusions and articulate related outcomes (implications and consequences).

ENGL 2 COURSE CONTENT

Diversity: SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. You will engage in integrated reading, writing, and oral assignments to construct your own arguments on complex issues (such as diversity and ethnicity, class and social equity) that generate meaningful public debate. Readings for the course will include writers from different ethnicities, gender, and class.

Writing: You will write a series of essays informed by research and articulating fully developed arguments about complex issues. Assignments emphasize those skills and activities in writing and thinking that produce the persuasive argument and the critical essay, each of which demands analysis, interpretation, and evaluation. Writing assignments give you repeated practice in prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 6000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form.

Logic: You will learn methods of argument analysis, both rhetorical and logical, that will allow you to identify logical structures and distinguish common logical fallacies.
Reading

In addition to being writing intensive, ENGL 2 is also a reading course. You will read a variety of critical and argumentative texts to help develop your skills for understanding the logical structure of argumentative writing.

Oral/Multimodal

Our work in this class will require you to present your arguments orally to the class individually and, at times, as part of a group. In addition to regular participation in class discussion and activities, you will deliver one presentation that combines multiple modes (linguistic, visual, aural, etc.) to the class.

ENGL 2 COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND ASSIGNMENTS

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, you are expected to spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3.

Essays

I will give you specific instructions for the three major essay assignments as they are assigned, and we will discuss each assignment as a class. This course is focused on the process of writing, and to this end, I’ve structured our schedule so that you will complete the essays in stages. You will bring a rough draft to a Peer Review Workshop for each essay, after which you will have one week to revise the draft before submitting it to me on Canvas for my feedback. The Peer Review Workshop and the revised draft constitute 50% of the essay’s grade; therefore, you cannot receive a passing grade on an essay without completing both. You will submit the final draft of all of your essays in your Final Portfolio at the end of the course.

Contributing Materials

I would like for each of you to contribute one item to our class materials (either an example of a pop culture product or an article about written about it). You will be responsible for explaining what the item is and how it contributes to our discussion. The sign-up sheet is available here. It will count as a Canvas writing task (10 points).

GRADING POLICY

Because so much of the learning in this course will come from class discussion, peer review workshops, and instructor feedback, it is imperative that you complete the reading and written assignments on time. However, if an emergency arises, you must contact me before the deadline in order to establish a new due date at my discretion. Unexcused late work will be graded down a full letter grade (10%) for every day it is late. In-class quizzes and writing assignments cannot be made up.

Participation will be scored based on your contribution to the learning that we do together as a class each day, including discussions, group work, in-class activities and review workshops. Thus, frequent tardiness and absences will have a negative impact on your participation grade.
Requirements for particular assignments will vary, and we will discuss them in detail as they are assigned. In all cases, essay grades will reflect the paper’s effectiveness, which is broken down into three major areas: content (which includes maturity and sophistication of thought), organization, and expression. The following are the criteria by which essays are evaluated in first-year writing courses:

- An “A” range essay is organized and well-developed, demonstrating a clear understanding and fulfillment of the assignment, written in a unique and compelling voice. It will show the student’s ability to use language effectively with a solid command of grammar, mechanics, and usage.

- A “B” range essay demonstrates competence in the same categories as an “A” essay, but it may show slight weakness in one of these areas. It will respond to the topic suitably and may contain some grammatical, mechanical or usage errors.

- A “C” range essay will complete the requirements of the assignment, but it will show weaknesses in fundamentals, such as development. It may show weakness in mastery of grammar, mechanics, usage, or voice.

- A “D” range essay will neglect to meet all the requirements of the assignment or may be superficial in its treatment of the topic. It may lack development or fail to stay on topic. It may contain grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that interfere with reader comprehension.

- An “F” essay does not fulfill the requirements of the assignment.

The total point value for the course is 1000. Your overall course grade will be calculated as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Grade</th>

</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>

CLASSROOM PROTOCOL

- Please treat your classmates and your instructor with courtesy and respect. This begins with arriving to every class session on time and prepared to contribute to our discussion. It includes actively participating in class activities and not sleeping, texting, iMessaging, scrolling through your social media feeds, playing games, etc. And finally, it extends to how you contribute to our discussion, by listening carefully and responding thoughtfully and constructively. Some of the topics we discuss may be sensitive in nature, and immature and/or hostile remarks will severely limit our capacity for productive conversation. A compassionate and supportive learning environment is our shared responsibility.

- Feel free to ask questions about anything that is unclear to you. Chances are, other people have the same question.
• Visit me in office hours if you'd like to run through some ideas for a paper, or if you need a little extra discussion about a topic. Be proactive in your own education. My office hours are listed on the first page of the syllabus, and feel free to email me to set up an appointment if you are not available during the listed times.
• Food and drinks are allowed! However, please refer to the first bullet point in this list, and avoid bringing anything too messy or with too strong an odor. Clean up after yourself.
• Please refer to the following university-wide policies relevant to all courses.
