Course Theme
From picture books to chapter books, the canon of children’s literature has inspired kids to dream, laugh, face their fears, and engage with the world around them. In fact, given the scale and impact of children’s books, it’s possible there is no more influential literature in the world. Yet, it’s only been in recent decades that the genre has strives to become more inclusive of a broader spectrum of children and backgrounds. Today’s children’s literature is more likely to reflect its young and diverse readership. This semester, we will examine the canon of children’s literature, as well as newer works that explore class, sexuality, race, and other issues facing today’s children.

Course Description
English 112A is an upper division course designed to introduce the literature of childhood experience to adult readers. Although children are the central characters and the main readers, writers of this genre structure their works using many of the same complex literary devices and themes found in adult literature. We will discuss these techniques as we analyze the readings, which represent a variety of cultures and ethnic diversity. Students will also have the opportunity to become familiar with picture books, fairy tales and folk tales. This course is designed to meet the subject matter requirement for those considering a teaching credential; though the information and curriculum approaches that we will explore will be helpful for elementary, middle or secondary levels of instruction, this is a literature class, not an educational methodology class.

Required Materials
All books are available in an electronic edition (e.g. Kindle, Nook), though pagination may vary from print editions. E-books are encouraged, so too are used editions. Also, remember that a great source for these books (and others) may be the kids in your life.

Books:
- Picture Books (0-5):
  - Ada Twist, Scientist by Andrea Beaty and David Roberts (ISBN: 1419721372)
- Early Readers (5-7):
  - The Name Jar by Yangsook Choi (ISBN: 0440417996)
  - The Different Dragon by Jennifer Bryan with Danamarle Hosler (ISBN: 0967446864)
• Chapter Books (7-12):
  - The Other Boy by M.G. Hennessey (ISBN: 0062427660)
• Middle Grade (12-14):
  - The Epic Fail of Arturo Zamora by Pablo Cartaya (ISBN: 1101997257)
  - Drama by Raina Telgemeier (ISBN: 0545326990)

Writing Guide:

*A free electronic version The Everyday Writer is available to all SJSU students via Canvas

English Department Student Learning Objectives (SLOs)

Students shall achieve the ability to write complete essays that demonstrate college-level proficiency in all of the following:

1. Read closely in a variety of forms, styles, structures, and modes, and articulate the value of close reading in the study of children’s literature
2. Show familiarity with major literary works, genres, periods, and critical approaches to children’s literature
3. Write clearly, effectively, and creatively, and adjust writing style appropriately to the content, context, and the nature of the subject
4. Develop and carry out research projects, and locate, evaluate, organize, and incorporate information effectively.
5. Articulate the relations among culture, history, and texts

EauZone
I maintain the EauZone (eauzone.blogspot.com) as a centralized location for assignments, reminders, documents, important dates, links, and general class information. It also contains an easy-to-reference archive of the course work. In addition, this website will be the location of the course’s eReader (eR). These Web articles are required to complete some assignments. On the homepage, click on “ENGL 112A: Can I Play, Too?” under “Spring 2019 Courses” to be routed to our page. Feel free to use the “Comments” function in each posting; it is often a helpful way to communicate with classmates.

Course Policies

General:
• I’m happy to call you by whatever name you like, but please be consistent. For example, if your name is John Wilson, but you call yourself Jack, then you’d use “John (Jack) Wilson” on all assignments.
• Please upload a clear photo to your Canvas and email accounts for easier reference.

Grades and grading:
• I will sometimes make sentence-level corrections to only one page or paragraph of your essay. This is done in an effort to make you a better editor of your own work. You should assume that the corrections I’ve made are applicable to your entire essay.
• If extra-credit is offered, it will only be once—and likely modest; please stay up-to-date on your assignments.
• There is a participation component to your grade. It could mean the difference between letter grades. To receive all or most of these points, it is important that you actively engage in the classroom experience (e.g. frequently asking questions and/or commenting). Simply attending class is not sufficient to garner full points, as they are based on active participation, not attendance.
• Look on Canvas for your most updated grades.

Assignments:
• All writing assignments are due on the dates indicated on EauZone, which contains the most up-to-date schedule and information.
• Email late assignments no later than the following class after the due date. They will be lowered one letter grade. No assignments will be accepted beyond this point.
• Assignments submitted via email will be graded per usual, but no hard copy will be returned to you.
Without prior notification, missed in-class essays and presentations cannot be made up. If you must miss your presentation date, make prior arrangements with a classmate to switch days.

You will automatically be docked 5 points on your final draft for coming to class on a writer’s workshop day without anything to share.

Unstapled assignments will not be accepted.

Etiquette:
- It is highly disrespectful to sleep in class. If you sleep in class, you may be asked to leave.
- The use of laptops during class is restricted to note taking only—absolutely no social media during class time.
- If you come to class after the first 15 minutes, please wait for an appropriate moment to enter so as not to disturb the class.

Email:
- Indicate your section number in the subject line, or somewhere in the body. This helps me reply to your email in a timelier manner.
- Google Docs users: PLEASE REMEMBER TO GRANT ME PERMISSION TO EDIT IT BEFORE YOU SHARE. Otherwise, I have to request permission to edit your document, lengthening the process.
- Email me individually rather than as a reply to a group message because I can easily miss these responses.
- Due to the high volume of email I receive daily, it may take me a day (or more) to respond.
- Unless it affects an in-class essay or presentation, there is no need to contact me if you miss class.
- If you are absent, please do not message me to ask what you missed. You should have the contact information of at least two other classmates. They should be able to fill you in on any relevant information. If you still have a question, then feel free to contact me.

MLA Style and Standards for Presentation of Work
As is standard in American English classes, all typed work must be submitted in MLA Style. Samples are located in both The Everyday Writer (pg. 457) and online at EauZone.

Please follow this sample heading for all typed work:

| Full Name |
| ENGL 112A, De La O |
| Assignment |

At the end of each typed assignment, include the word count. Example:

| Word Count: 237 |

Course Work
Class sessions will employ a combination of lectures, group discussions, presentations, and writing workshops that will cover a range of activities, including analyzing, interpreting, outlining, revising, and editing.

All out-of-class essays should:
- Be typed
- Range from 250 words (approx. 1 page) to 750 words (approx. 2 ½ pages), depending on assignment*
- Be in MLA Style
- Include a works cited page—unless otherwise noted

* Handwritten pages are approximately 200 words per page

Your semester’s course work is comprised of:
