Our Topic for Stretch this Year (2019-2020)

Our main inquiry will examine the influence of cultural myths on identity. We will explore readings and written assignments that will help us determine how cultural myths shape the way we see ourselves and the world around us. We will discuss how the creation of these myths, the sustainability of these myths, and the global perspective of these myths impact our past, present, and future as members of a learning community.
We will look at specific myths like the pursuit of the American Dream in order to frame our understanding of coming of age in the Modern era, the promise and accessibility of education, and how class, gender, and race fit into larger narratives about identity. Our goal is to recognize the interconnectedness between and the power that comes with applying the tools of knowledge, reading, and writing. Language is not neutral; language makes things happen.

We will look closely at four chapters of Rereading America. Each chapter addresses a specific cultural myth; together we will decide the four chapters on which to focus. This means that you will have a say in the direction of this class, including readings and assignments. Last semester (Fall 2019), we chose to focus on the following cultural myths: the model family, technology and progress, individual opportunity and gender (as binary).

Why Stretch?

As part of your general university education, you are offered this course to explore how reading and writing inform the work we do together at the university. Across the university, in all disciplines and majors, reading and writing inform the collaborations between students and faculty as we create new knowledge together.

What You Will Learn in Stretch English I and II

The General Education guidelines for instructors outline five broad learning outcomes for all courses that satisfy Area A2. I have designed this course to ensure that you meet these outcomes.

For more information on the Stretch Curriculum designed to meet these learning outcomes, see the Stretch English Program Syllabus on the Department Website. Table 1 maps how the yearlong course will meet Written Communication I requirements and standards as well as the GE learning objectives.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. demonstrate the ability to read actively and rhetorically
2. demonstrate the ability to perform the essential steps in the writing process (prewriting, organizing, composing, revising, and editing) and demonstrate an awareness of said performance
3. articulate an awareness of and write according to the rhetorical features of texts, such as purpose, audience, context, and rhetorical appeals
4. demonstrate the ability to integrate their ideas and those of others by explaining, analyzing, developing, and criticizing ideas effectively in several genres
5. demonstrate college-level language use, clarity, and grammatical proficiency in writing

For more information on the Stretch Curriculum designed to meet these learning outcomes, see the Stretch English Program Syllabus on Canvas and on the department website. Table 1 maps how the yearlong course will meet Written Communication I requirements and standards as well as the GE learning objectives.

In this class, we will work as a learning community to develop our approaches to reading and writing different types of texts. We will experiment with unfamiliar strategies, and at times we will feel unsure about the direction of our work and our comprehension of the work of others. We will develop writing processes to help us, including prewriting, drafting, workshopping, and revising. We will rely on each other for feedback and support, but we will also take charge of our own learning and success. What does that mean in terms of grading?

This class is meant to improve your skills and experiences as college-level writers. Therefore, we will not be using a traditional grading system. Instead, you will be largely responsible for your own grade.

The default grade for this course is a “B.” If you do all that is asked of you in the manner and spirit in which it is asked, if you work through the processes we establish and the work we do throughout the semester, if you continue to improve those processes in order to gain more intensity and engagement in your writing, then you will receive a “B.” If you miss in-class activities, turn in assignments late, fail to increase your work’s intensity, or fail to submit assignments, your grade will be lower.

You will not be graded or given a point value for each assignment; instead, you will receive feedback from your peers and writing coach for each major assignment. In addition, you will receive a note of “does not meet expectations,” “meets expectations,” or “exceeds expectations” on each of your revised major assignments.

You are guaranteed a “B” if you meet the following conditions:

1.) You complete the majority of all in-class and out-of-class minor assignments, including in-class reading responses and outlines and drafts of all major assignments. You may miss five minor assignments over the 2019-2020 academic year without penalty. Note: In-class assignments cannot be made up as the result of an absence.

2.) You participate in all in-class activities. As a class, we will figure out what “participation” means and when someone should or should not receive credit for it.

3.) You abide by the classroom protocol we establish as a writing/learning community.

4.) You work cooperatively and collegially in groups. We will come up with parameters for constructive criticism and a shared vocabulary for discussing potentially sensitive subjects.

5.) You complete all major and minor assignments on time.
   a. All major assignments must receive a note of “meets expectations” or higher in feedback.
   b. You may turn in one major assignment late per semester. Late work must be submitted within 48 hours of initial due date.
   c. All submissions must be complete. Any incomplete assignments or assignments that do not meet the requirements of the prompt will be deemed “missed.” You will not receive credit for missed work.
   d. To receive credit for this course, you must complete all major assignments. This means if you fail to turn in a major assignment during the first semester, you will receive a “NC” (no credit) on your fall transcript, and you will need to retake ENGL 1A. Likewise, if you fail to turn in a major assignment during the second semester, you will receive a non-passing grade for the yearlong course (either a “D” or an “F”).

6.) You provide thoughtful peer feedback during class workshops and commit yourself to other collaborative work.

7.) You honor the writing process and complete all steps thereof (e.g. reading/researching, prewriting, drafting and revising).
   a. Revisions should indicate significant changes – extending or changing up the thinking or organization – not just editing or changing words.

NOTE: The B grade is contingent on your behavior as an engaged member of our learning community.

“A” Grades:

The grade of A depends on the quality of work you produce. To receive an A as your spring semester grade, you will first need to qualify for the default grade of B. Additionally, you will need to receive the combined average note of “exceeds expectations” (2.0) on your midyear portfolio reflection and your spring portfolio reflection.
Grades Lower Than “B”:

“C,” “D,” or “F” grades occur when you miss more than two minor assignments per semester, fail to engage in class activities, including workshops and discussions, or you miss one or more major assignment. You are not eligible for a “B” unless you have met the guidelines outlined above. If you are falling behind or feeling overwhelmed, please contact me before you miss an assignment. I am here to support you, and I want you to succeed.

Plea:

I (Amanda Emanuel Smith), as the administrator of our contract, will decide in consultation with you (the student) as to whether a plea is warranted in any case. You must come to me as soon as possible (before breaching the contract), in order to make fair and equitable arrangements. You may use a plea for any reason, but only once. The plea is not an “out clause” for anyone who happens to not fulfill the contract in some way; it is for rare and unusual circumstances out of the control of the student.

CONTRACT AGREEMENT: By staying in this course and attending class, you accept this contract and agree to abide by it. I (Amanda Emanuel Smith) also agree to abide by the contract, and oversee it fairly and impartially.

We will use reading and writing to collaborate in researching on our topic on higher education, and writing about it. You will come to class everyday ready to do writing—that is, to explore ideas, share research and reading, analyze source materials, critique samples and workshop drafts. In short, to write. All classes will involve in-class activities intended to further your progress on the current essay assignment or project. Because we will be submitting our work in Canvas, you will need to bring a laptop or tablet to every class. (Laptops and tablets are also available to be checked out in the library.)

You will also need to bring Rereading America to class; be sure to check the course schedule ahead of time to keep up on readings.

Where to Find Course Assignments and Materials

Course materials such as syllabus, handouts, assignment sheets, and some readings can be found on Canvas. You are responsible to check your MySJSU email to learn of any updates to our schedule.

Textbooks and Readings

- Rereading America (10th edition) by Gary Colombo, Robert Cullen, and Bonnie Lisle
The Work You Will Do in This Course: An Overview

The Core Stretch Curriculum. The fall writing assignments include: 2 critical reading and reflection essays, a personal essay, an essay for a public forum, and a self-reflection essay (written in class). The spring writing assignments include an interview project, a profile essay, a critical/reflection essay, an ethnographic project, a critical essay, and a self-reflection essay.

Midyear and Year-End Self-Reflection and Portfolio Review
At the end of the fall and spring terms you will submit a portfolio for Stretch instructors to review. These portfolios will ask you to enter into an assessment of your writing with two members of the Stretch faculty: me and one of my colleagues.

Our Daily Learning Activities.
The schedule of reading and writing assignments at the end of this syllabus breaks work down into daily activities.

The Time You Will Spend on This Work

We will keep tabs on the time and effort expended for each activity and assignment. While your intensity – and - productivity, should increase throughout the year, we want to make sure that your time spent is proportionate to the work expected.

• Other readings (and possibly videos) will be posted in Canvas.
More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

Class Policies:

- Work in groups
- Small group discussions should transfer to whole class discussions
- Show respect
- Eating is permitted
- We should ask for and offer help
- Safe environment – what is said here, stays here.
- Don’t talk when others are talking
- Earbuds permitted during individual work
- Be open-minded
- Mid-class break
- Bathroom breaks permitted
- Be considerate
- No one left behind

Where Can I Find Information about University Policies?

The Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs (GUP) maintains university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. You may find all syllabus-related University Policies and resources information listed on GUP’s Syllabus Information web page at http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/
