Course Theme
Money is complicated:
• Do the wealthy have a larger obligation to give back to society than the classes below them?
• How should I be investing my money?
• Is it impolite to inquire how much a person earns?
• Is your money a reflection of your values?
• How can we have both unprecedented wealth and record-level poverty?
• Why do I have to pay taxes?
• Is mixing money and family ever a good idea?
• Is Capitalism a good thing?
• Do the poor deserve to be poor?
• Why isn’t financial literacy part of our country’s standard education?
• Who should pay for dinner?

This semester, we will read a diverse assemblage of texts exploring these and other money matters.

Course Description
ENGL 2 is an introductory writing course that focuses on the relationship between language and logic when composing arguments. Building on the skills acquired in ENGL 1A, you will learn various methods of effective reasoning and appropriate rhetorical strategies to help you invent, demonstrate, and express arguments clearly, logically, and persuasively.

ENGL 2 is open to all students needing to fulfill GE Area A3 (Critical Thinking). It is not open to students who have successfully completed ENGL 1B.

Course Content
- Diversity: SJSU studies include an emphasis on diversity. You will engage in integrated reading, writing, and oral assignments to construct your own arguments on complex issues (such as diversity and ethnicity, class and social equity) that generate meaningful public debate. Readings for the course will include writers from different ethnicities, gender, and class.
- Writing: You will write a series of essays informed by research and articulating fully developed arguments about complex issues. Assignments emphasize those skills and activities in writing and thinking that produce the persuasive argument and the critical essay, each of which demands analysis, interpretation, and evaluation. Writing assignments give you repeated practice in prewriting, organizing, writing, revising, and editing. This class requires a minimum of 6,000 words, at least 4,000 of which must be in revised final draft form.
- Logic: You will learn methods of argument analysis, both rhetorical and logical, that will allow you to identify logical structures (such as warrants, evidence, qualification, rebuttal; enthymemes and syllogisms) and distinguish common logical fallacies.
- Reading: In addition to being writing intensive, ENGL 2 is also a reading course. You will read a variety of critical and argumentative texts to help develop your skills for understanding the logical structure of argumentative writing.
- Multimodal: You will be presenting your arguments orally to class both as an individual and as part of a group.

Learning Outcomes (GELO)
Upon successful completion of the course, students should be able to:
1. Locate and evaluate sources, through library research, and integrate research through appropriate citation and quotation
2. Present effective arguments that use a full range of legitimate rhetorical and logical strategies to articulate and explain their positions on complex issues in dialogue with other points of view
3. Locate, interpret, evaluate, and synthesize evidence in a comprehensive way in support of your ideas
4. Identify and critically evaluate the assumptions in and the context of an argument
5. Distinguish and convey inductive and deductive patterns as appropriate, sequencing arguments and evidence logically to draw valid conclusions and articulate related outcomes (implications and consequences)

The SJSU Writing Center
The SJSU Writing Center now has two locations:
- Clark Hall, Suite 126—for drop-in tutoring sessions
- Second floor of MLK Library—for regularly scheduled tutoring sessions
As always, all Writing Specialists have gone through a rigorous hiring process, and they are well trained to assist all students at all levels within all disciplines to become better writers. In addition to one-on-one tutoring services, the Writing Center also offers workshops every semester on a variety of writing topics. To make an appointment or to refer to the numerous online resources offered through the Writing Center, visit the Writing Center website at sjsu.edu/writingcenter.

University, College, or Department Policy Information
University-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc., can be found at sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/index.html.

Department Grading Policy
Requirements for particular assignments will vary, but in all cases essay grades will reflect the paper’s effectiveness, which are broken down into three major areas: content (this includes maturity and sophistication of thought), organization, and expression. All assignments, quizzes, and exams are graded on a traditional A-F scale.

The following are the criteria by which essays are typically evaluated in first-year writing courses:
• An “A” essay is organized and well-developed, demonstrating a clear understanding and fulfillment of the assignment, written in a unique and compelling voice. It will show the student’s ability to use language effectively with a solid command of grammar, mechanics, and usage.
• A “B” essay demonstrates competence in the same categories as an “A” essay, but it may show slight weakness in one of these areas. It will respond to the topic suitably and may contain some grammatical, mechanical or usage errors.
• A “C” essay will complete the requirements of the assignment, but it will show weaknesses in fundamentals, such as development. It may show weakness in mastery of grammar, mechanics, usage, or voice.
• A “D” essay will neglect to meet all the requirements of the assignment or may be superficial in its treatment of the topic. It may lack development or fail to stay on topic. It may contain grammatical, mechanical, and/or usage errors that interfere with reader comprehension.
• An “F” essay does not fulfill the requirements of the assignment.

Standards for Presentation of Work
All typed work must be in MLA Style. Samples are located online and in The Everyday Writer.

Please follow this sample heading for all typed work:

| Full Name |
| ENGL 2: Section number |

At the end of each typed assignment, include the word count. Example:

| Word Count: 741 |
EauZone
I maintain the EauZone (eauzone.blogspot.com) as a centralized location for general class information, including assignments. It also contains an easy-to-reference archive of the course work. In addition, this website will be the location of the course’s eReader (eR). These Web articles may be required to complete some assignments. You will utilize this site, not Canvas, for most course information.

On the homepage, click on “ENGL 2: For What It’s Worth—Poverty and Wealth, American Style” under “Spring 2020 Courses” to be routed to our course’s page.

Course Policies
General:
• Please fill the front seats of the classroom first, leaving the back rows open.
• I am happy to call you by whatever name you prefer, but please be consistent. For example, if your name is John Wilson, but you by Jack, then you’d use “John (Jack) Wilson” on all assignments. Additionally, preferred names can be set in Canvas using these instructions: sjsu.edu/registrar/docs/Preferred_name_setting.pdf.
• I am also happy to use your preferred pronouns. Simply notify me as early in the semester as possible—and I apologize in advance if I occasionally slip up.
• Please upload a clear photo to your Canvas and email accounts for easier reference.

Grades and grading:
• I will sometimes make sentence-level corrections to only one page or paragraph of your essay. This is done in an effort to make you a better editor of your own work. You should assume that the corrections I’ve made are applicable to your entire essay. In fact, you may even be asked to correct your own paper based upon the section I revised.
• If extra-credit is offered, it will only be once—and likely modest; please stay up-to-date on your assignments.
• There is a participation component to your grade. It could mean the difference between letter grades. To receive all or most of these points, it is important that you actively engage in the classroom experience (e.g. frequently ask questions and/or comment). Simply attending class is not sufficient to garner full points, as they are based on active participation, not attendance.
• Check Canvas for your most up-to-date grades.

Assignments:
• All writing assignments are due on the dates indicated on EauZone, which contains the most up-to-date schedule and information.
• Assignment rubrics can be found on your class blog. Please attach the corresponding rubric to each assignment. They should be stapled to the back of all hard copy assignments.
• Email late assignments no later than the following class after the due date. They will be lowered one letter grade. No assignments will be accepted beyond this point.
• Assignments submitted via email will be graded per usual, but no hard copy will be returned to you.
• Without prior notification, missed in-class essays and presentations cannot be made up. If you must miss your presentation date, make prior arrangements with a classmate to switch days.
• You will automatically be docked 5 points on your final draft for coming to class on a writer’s workshop day without anything to share.
• Unstapled assignments will not be accepted.
Etiquette:
- It is highly disrespectful to sleep in class. If you fall asleep, you may be asked to leave.
- The use of laptops during class is restricted to note taking only—absolutely no social media during class time.
- If you arrive after the first 10 minutes, please wait for an appropriate moment to enter so as not to disturb the class.

Email:
- In order to streamline communications, email me at daniel.henddelao@sjsu.edu ONLY. Please do not contact me via Canvas.
- In your email, indicate your section number in the subject line, or somewhere in the body. This helps me reply to your email in a timelier manner.
- Google Docs users: PLEASE REMEMBER TO GRANT ME PERMISSION TO EDIT IT BEFORE YOU SHARE. Otherwise, I have to request permission to edit your document, lengthening the process.
- Email me individually rather than as a reply to a group message because I can easily miss these responses.
- Due to the high volume of email I receive daily, it may take me a day (or more) to respond.
- Unless it affects an in-class essay or presentation, there is no need to contact me if you miss class.
- If you are absent, please do not message me to ask what you missed. You should have the contact information of at least two other classmates. They should be able to fill you in on any relevant information. If you still have a question, then feel free to contact me.

Course Work
Class sessions will employ a combination of lectures, group discussions, presentations, and writing workshops that will cover a range of activities, including analyzing, interpreting, outlining, revising, and editing.

All out-of-class essays should:
- Be typed
- Range from 250 words (approx. 1 page) to 750 words (approx. 2 ½ pages), depending on assignment*
- Be in MLA Style
- Unless otherwise noted, always include a works cited

*Handwritten pages are approximately 200 words per page.
 To save paper, a works cited may come directly after the end of your essay—it does not need to be on a separate page.

Your semester’s course work is comprised of:
