Course Description
The relationship between humans and the environments around them are consistently changing. The field of environmental studies is engaged in understanding the causes, dynamics, and solutions to environmental problems. In this course students will learn about a wide array of environmental topics, engage with critical readings and discussions on these issues as well as the scientific research, activism, and policy action that communities in the U.S. and around the world are engaging in to promote environmental justice and sustainability.

Course Format
This is a face-to-face course that includes lectures and class discussions. Students are expected to attend all classes and be prepared for in-class discussion. Reading all assigned materials before class time will help to advance our discussions.

Furthermore, class discussions will be extended through out-of-class interaction on Canvas, our interactive learning management system (LMS).

Contacting Professor Prado
Course materials such as syllabus, handouts, notes, assignment instructions, etc. can be found on the Canvas website for this course. You are responsible for regularly checking with the messaging system through Canvas to learn about any updates. If you email me I will respond to you within 24-48 hours. I do not respond to emails on the weekends. When applicable, I will respond to the entire class if I feel your emailed question or concern will benefit everyone (and in this case, you will not receive an individual response).

Learning Outcomes
This course has four main learning objectives, which include, 1) learning about important environmental problems, 2) the relationships between humans and their surrounding environments, 3) the research around these problems and relationships, and 4) ways in which individual and collective actions can help solve environmental problems and create more sustainable futures.

Artwork: “Germination” by Ricardo Levins Morales

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Understand and explain key environmental issues.
2. Analyze the interrelationships between resource use, economics, politics, social justice, and environmental degradation.
3. Identify social, political, and technical solutions that will guide change towards more sustainable communities today, and in the years to come.

This course fulfills the following General Education Learning Outcomes (GELO):

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Place contemporary developments in cultural, historical, environmental, and spatial context.
2. Identify the dynamics of ethnic, cultural, gender/sexual, age-based, class, regional, national, transnational, and global identities and the similarities, differences, linkages, and interactions between them.
3. Evaluate social science information, draw on different points of view, and formulate applications appropriate to contemporary social issues.
4. Apply multidisciplinary material to a topic relevant to policy and social action at the local, national, and/or international levels.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook

- This book is available at the Spartan Bookstore. One copy is on reserve at the MLK Library.
- The book is available for rent at Amazon for about $34.00. You can also purchase a hardcover or loose leaf text on Amazon.

Additional readings, if assigned, will be available on Canvas.

Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at sjsu.edu senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

Please read the following assignment descriptions carefully. Failing to comply with the specific directions given below will result in a loss of credit points for each assignment.

1. In class Participation (20 points total)

   Your participation grade is determined by your active participation during class. This means that you participate in the in-class activities by fostering discussion with your classmates and answering questions, participating in class-wide discussions, asking questions, and being present during class time. Your grade will be determined by 2 factors: turning in your completed activity sheets during class, and your in class participation.
   - 50% in class activities (10 points)
   - 50% in class discussion participation (10 points) This grade will be determined by a SELF-EVALUATION to be turned in TWICE in the semester, that I will combine with my own evaluation of your in class participation (you can find this evaluation form on Canvas).

2. Two Exams (40 points total)

   The midterm exam is worth 25 points and the final exam is worth 25 points.

3. Position Papers (30 points total)

   Position papers are based on insights gained from readings, videos, lecture, and discussions. The objective of the position paper is to provide an opportunity for students to discuss different “perspectives” on a given environmental issue. Students will be required to write 3 short papers (2-3 pages double-spaced) based on questions associated with different topics. You will be provided with 10 possible topics, but you will write a paper on only 3 topics. A grading rubric will also be posted on Canvas. Each paper will:

- use valid science and social science data in the analysis of the issues.
- characterize the environmental issue and how it has occurred.
- provide feasible and necessary solutions to move toward sustainability on this issue.

Additional aspects that each paper will address are as follows:

Paper 1: How individual behavior interacts with the institutions that affect environmental protection

Paper 2: The role of relevant identities, be they ethnic, cultural, gender/sexual, age-based, class, regional, national, transnational, or global; include social and environmental justice aspects

Paper 3: The interplay of resource use, economics and policy with social justice and environmental harms.

4. Online Discussions (10 points total)

Over the course of the semester, weekly writing assignments (~100 words each) will be submitted via Canvas and focus on topics for the week. Your post should demonstrate that you have done the readings, paid attention in lecture, and understand the material. Your post is due by Monday at 9am each week. You should respond to the ideas of ONE classmate in your Canvas Discussion Group by Wednesday at 9am each week. Participation in online discussions will be evaluated by these two categories, and the full rubric will be uploaded to Canvas.

A. The original post will:
   - Address the discussion question(s),
   - Use at least one quote from the reading,
   - Be at least 100 words.

B. The response posts will:
   - Respond thoughtfully and respectfully to the ideas presented by your peer,
   - Include a response that agrees, disagrees, or presents a new idea to that of the original post,
   - Be at least 50 words.

Classroom as Community

Participation in the classroom will be organized around the “Classroom as Community” guidelines, and the basic agreement that students will actively participate in the classroom through the class polls, group or pair activities, and any other discussion activities.

Throughout the semester we will address and discuss a variety of issues which may bring out strong and opposing views. As a community of learners and colleagues, it is critical that we respect one another’s thoughts and address the comments to the IDEAS and not the person. Our classroom is not a forum for demeaning or threatening language/comments.

Also, I respect and teach to different learning styles, which include the way students participate and interact with each other. I understand that some people are more extroverted and natural talkers, while others are very good at listening. Therefore, depending on which category you may fall into, please be aware of and respect your fellow students, including making an effort to either let others talk (if you notice your speaking more than others) or trying to speak up... in class (if you notice you have been listening but not speaking). Remember that all comments, and questions are valid.

Harassment of any kind (sexual, racial, class, sexual preference, gender, etc) between students or towards/from the instructor will not be tolerated. As a community member of this classroom, I expect everyone to act in a respectful and mature manner. Should any problems arise we as a class will promptly take action. While we will agree on community “ground rules” together on our first day of class, here are some basic expectations I have that will help us make the most of our time in class:

- Come prepared to class by thinking seriously about what you have read.
- Do not be hesitant to ask a question.
- Try your best to communicate yourself to classmates.
- Respect confidentiality and privacy in our classroom community.
- For class, please turn off cell phone and technology distractions*
- Refrain from any side-talk, reading non-class material, this is disrespectful.

*All use of cell phones during class time is strictly prohibited. Laptops may not be used during class time. I understand that you may have the required reading on an e-reader, phone, or laptop. Take notes by hand, when reading, and bring them to class with you. Writing rather than typing notes better helps you retain what you read. If you have accessibility concerns with the Laptop Policy, please contact me as soon as possible.

-Failure to meet classroom protocol expectations will result in a loss of participation points-

NOTE that Attendance is not part of your grade evaluation per University policy F69-24 at sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F69-24.pdf states that “Students should attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to insure maximum benefit for all members of the class. Attendance per se shall not be used as a criterion for grading.”

Tips for Success

✓ Read the syllabus carefully, and write down the exam dates and the due dates for assignments in your calendar.
✓ Take good notes in lecture and discussion.
✓ Keep up with the readings. Lecture and discussion will not make sense unless you have done the readings. You should expect to spend about 3-4 hours outside of class each week on required reading, ideally in a couple of uninterrupted sessions.
✓ Use a dictionary and an encyclopedia when you need them. You can find free dictionaries and encyclopedias online.
✓ Consider forming a study group. Students who study together do better and have more fun.
✓ Take advantage of my office hours. I am there to help and love talking to students!

Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center (AEC) at sjsu.edu/aec to establish a record of their disability.

University Policies and Student Resources pages at the end of the syllabus, please read these in full.

University Policies

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU’s policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arises. See University Policy S90-5 at sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S90-5.pdf. More detailed information on a variety of related topics is available in the SJSU catalog, at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/catalog/rec-12234.12506.html. In general, it is recommended that students begin by seeking clarification or discussing concerns with their instructor. If such conversation is not possible, or if it does not serve to address the issue, it is recommended that the student contact the Department Chair as a next step.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc.

- Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html.
- Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic year calendars document on the Academic Calendars webpage at sjsu.edu/provost/services/academic_calendars.
- The Late Drop Policy is available at sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy.
- Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes. Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at sjsu.edu/advising.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material

University Policy S12-7, sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-7.pdf, requires students to obtain instructor’s permission to record the course:

- Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.
- Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.

Academic Integrity

Your commitment, as a student, to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The Student Conduct and Ethical Development website is available at sjsu.edu/studentconduct.
Plagiarism, intentional or not, will not be tolerated in this course. This is a course designed to provoke critical thought and writing, and plagiarism will not help you become a better thinker or writer. For an extensive read of the University guidelines for dealing with plagiarism, see the University Academic Integrity Policy S07-2.

Here is an idea of what plagiarism looks like. You are plagiarizing or cheating if you:

- For written work, copy anything from a book, article or website and add or paste it into your paper without using quotation marks and/or without providing the full reference for the quotation, including page number.
- For written work, summarize / paraphrase in your own words ideas you got from a book, article, or the web without providing the full reference for the source (including page number in the humanities).
- For an oral presentation, copy anything from a book, article, or website and present it orally as if it were your own words. You must summarize and paraphrase in your own words, and bring a list of references in case the professor asks to see it.
- Use visuals or graphs you got from a book, article, or website without providing the full reference for the picture or table.
- Recycle a paper you wrote for another class.
- Copy off of a classmate, or use someone else’s work as your own.
- Use technology or smuggle in documents to obtain or check information in an exam situation.

In a research paper, it is always better to include too many references than not enough. When in doubt, always err on the side of caution. If you have any question or uncertainty about what is or is not cheating, it is your responsibility to ask your instructor.

Student Resources

University Writing Center

The San José State University Writing Center offers a variety of resources to help students become better writers, and all of their services are free for SJSU students. They offer tutoring appointments, writing workshops, and online tutorials and services.
