

San José State University
Department of Foreign Languages

Summer 2008

SPAN 160C
Colonial Spanish-American Literature

This course will explore the narratives produced by the series of encounters, clashes and new realities resulting from the European exploration and colonization of the Americas. We will make use of printed and digitalized texts as well as film. The course will include authors and works such as Bernal Díaz de Castillo (Conquest of New Spain), Inca Garcilaso de la Vega (La Florida, Royal Commentaries), and Thomas More (Utopia) and will span the 16th to the 18th centuries. Language of instruction will be Spanish.

TR 5:00PM - 8:10PM
Clark Hall 234
Professor Damian Bacich

For more information, please contact Professor Bacich
Email: cosmos.bacich@sjsu.edu
Phone: 408-924-4610
Web: www.sjsu.edu/foreignlanguages

