Course Catalogue Description

This course will explore a number of important issues and debates that to the “Developing” world. This will include a general introduction to notions of “development” and the origins of the term “Third World”; a greater understanding of imperialism and colonialism, and its legacy on development; and an introduction into a wide range of theories surrounding development and urbanization concepts. This course also provides an introduction to a wide range of theories in the study of global development and their application related to livelihood opportunities, standards of living and welfare levels are so dramatically different around the world.

Course Description

This course provides an introduction to a wide range of theories in the study of economic development and their application to wider geographic issues. Nothing is assumed except a basic interest in addressing the critical question of why livelihood opportunities, standards of living and welfare levels are so dramatically different around the world.

By the end of the term, I would like you to think about the reasons why the course should be called the “The Geography of the Global Economy”. I look forward to a productive semester with a lot of good writing and interesting discussion. I hope you participate actively in this exciting topic that I’m sure will influence and possibly change your perception of the world.

Course Learning Objectives

This course is a survey of geographical theories of development and underdevelopment and their relevance to the wider topics of development theory. To that end, this course will address the major themes of development studies in the contemporary world and their historical evolution. By the end of the course, the students will be expected to:

- CLO 1. Understand the conflicting nature of definitions of development. This goal will be achieved through class lectures and the first writing assignment.
- CLO 2. Evaluate the role of colonialism and imperialism in the global economic system. This goal will be achieved through class lectures/in-class discussion, the midterm exam, and the second essay.
- CLO 3. Define and evaluate the conflicting theories of development. This goal will be achieved through class lectures/in-class discussion and the midterm exam.
- CLO 4. Discuss the role of globalization in the development - underdevelopment debate. This goal will be achieved through class lectures/in-class discussion and the final exam.
- CLO 5. Discuss the role of various geographic concepts in explaining the potential for development in different regions of the world. This goal will be achieved through class lectures/in-class discussion and the final exam and the group project.
- CLO 6. Identify and explain the role and effect of various actors in the global political-economic system on the development of regions across the world. This goal will be achieved through class lectures/in-class discussion the final exam, and the group project.

Credit Hours

At SJSU, students are expected to spend at least two hours outside of class for every one hour of in-person class time. Because this is a three-unit course, you can expect to spend a minimum of 6 hours per week completing class-related assignments in addition to the in-person class meetings. Assignments include weekly readings (~34 hours), writing assignment (~8 hours), term group essay and presentation (~19 hours), studying/preparing for exams (~8 hours/exam), preparation for in-class engagements and other activities (~19 hours). These assignments may require work beyond the minimum 6-hours of work outside the classroom. Careful time management will help you keep up with readings and assignments and enable you to succeed in all your classes.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbooks

Required Reading:

Potter, R. B. et al. (2008). Geographies of Development. 3rd Edition, Pearson/Prentice Hall Education Ltd.: New York. ISBN: 9780132228237. The text is available in hardcopy or to rent at the SJSU Spartan Bookstore on the campus. You can also find new and used hardcopies of the text on Amazon.com.

Orwell, G. (1934) Burmese Days. London: Harcourt Brace and Company. ISBN: 139780156148504. The text is available in hardcopy or to rent at the SJSU Spartan Bookstore on the campus. You can also find new and used hardcopies of the text on Amazon.com.

Assignments and Grading Policy

I believe that teaching development effectively requires discussion and interaction within the class as well as hands-on learning –by-doing activities. As a result, I’ve tried to structure the course requirements and grade distribution accordingly. There are two exams – a midterm and a final – and several discussion/presentation sessions, two of which are associated with individual assignments and one based on a group project. The rest are weekly exercises that could be done individually (take home) or by groups in class.

Exams

1. Mid-term Exam [20%] (CLO 1, 2, and 3)–You will choose two sets of exam questions from four. Questions will be topic specific and require detailed knowledge of a particular lecture area. Part A will be composed of short answer type questions, e.g. definitions and short answers. Part B will be an essay question. There will be questions on the lecture material, and the readings, as well as some questions that are about both a combination of the readings and the lecture material.
2. Final exam – [20%] (CLO 4, 5, and 6). Again, you will answer two sets of exam questions from four on the paper. The exam covers only material (e.g. assigned readings) from the second half of the course, and the exam questions are structured in the same way as the mid-term.

Assignments, Group Project, and Exercises

Individual Assignment 1 – [10%] (CLO 1) Using Chapter 1 of the textbook, I would like you to write a short 2-page paper on the meaning of development. This assignment is open-ended, and there is certainly scope for doing your own thing. The only ground rule is that you need to refer to Chapter 1 in such a way that convinces me that you've read and thought about the chapter! This assignment will follow lectures and discussions that we will have in class related to the topic, and more generally the vexing issue of defining development. The essay is due in class on Tuesday, February 17th (and is worth 10% of the final grade).

As for the bureaucratic details, the review should be no more than 750 words, double-spaced (excluding the bibliography/footnotes). Grammar counts so edit your work but more importantly- run a spell check and read the paper out loud to yourself the night before you turn it in. A half point will penalize any work that is late each working day.

Individual Assignment 2 – [10%] (CLO 2) “Boundaries and Tensions in Colonial Burma.” I want you to write a two to three page essay on Burmese Days by George Orwell. The novel (one of my all-time favourites!) takes place in upper Burma in the waning days of the British Empire. One of the underlying purposes of boundaries in British Colonial times was to distinguish and define who was the colonizer and who was the colonized. The novel, Burmese Days, although written in reasonably simple prose, is deeply complex in the way that it explores the boundaries and tensions between and among the colonizers and the colonized (e.g. the Britons policing the boundaries of the club, the boundaries between native men and British women, the boundaries of friendship/trust between the British men and native men, the maintenance of boundaries between colonizer and colonized through the use of force, and so on). However, Orwell does an excellent job in demonstrating how these boundaries (and identities) were very flexible in many ways, and, in fact, “British Rule” may not be what it initially appears to be.

Your assignment is to read the entire book and then discuss how some type of boundary (or identity) maintained or defined who was a colonizer and who was colonized. You will then need to discuss how this boundary was bent, or perhaps made more “permeable” when considering the day-to-day lives of everyone living in upper Burma in the era of late Colonialism.

Again, the short essay should be no more than 900 words (double spaced and 12 point font), and 2-3 pages. We will dedicate part of the discussion period on Tuesday, April 14 to Burmese Days. Late papers will be penalized at a rate of half a point per working day. The essay is due in class on Tuesday, April 21 (and is worth 10% of the final grade).

Group Term Project [25%; 20% Project + 5% Presentation] (CLO 5 and 6)– Along with 3 or 4 other students (maximum group size = 5), I want you to choose an on-going and contemporary issue in development, and using both academic literature, and especially information taken from current newspapers, magazines, films, TV, and/or video, prepare an in-class presentation about it for the end of term, as well as a collective written report that should be between 9-11 pages (excluding figures, tables, references). The issue you choose must be current, and there should be sufficient coverage about it that it can be made into a collective term paper.

Examples of topics might include: the effects of debt repayment on Sub-Saharan African countries; the effects of AIDS on those same countries; the effectiveness of foundations towards raising awareness and pressing for policy action regarding debt relief, malaria, and AIDS, and so forth; use of child labour; problems of urban planning in specific third world cities; the world empire of Coca Cola/Walmart/Royal Dutch Shell/Pharmaceutical TNCs; the use of third world computer programmers by Microsoft; Coffee production and fair trade – role of Starbucks in fair trade coffee/tea; protests against WTO; Global Call Centres in India; the informal sector in Jakarta; women factory workers in Bangkok; Green Revolution in India; farm squatting in Zimbabwe; Maquiladoras in Mexico; deforestation in Brazil; corruption in LDCs; brain drain in South East Asia; Rise of China/India as an “up and coming” global power; rural poverty in Ethiopia; illegal economic migration from China; health care in Cuba and so on.

The above are just examples of potential topics, but I hope they give you an idea. I think the topics that are most likely to work well will be current and specific. Don’t think that you have to do a project on very large issues like, say, Third World debt (although you can if you want). It can be on something on a relatively smaller scale, for example, on a single company (TNC) or local development project.

By the fourth week of the term I will make sure everyone is signed up in a group. It will be your responsibility to meet with other members of your group to decide on a specific project topic. By week 8, I want a 200 word abstract of your proposed group project. Final presentations will be during the last three weeks of class. Presentations should be 15-20 minutes long. Each presentation will be worth 5% of the total group mark of 25%.

The written version of the group project is due the last day of class. There is a lateness penalty of one letter grade per working day (e.g. C+ becomes C when late by one day). Everyone undertaking a given project will receive the same grade (worth 20% of the final grade).

In-Class Exercises/Participation [20%] (CLO 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, & 6) – These are short individual or group exercises, games and other learning activities that will be given and accomplished once every week in class. At least half of the time will be devoted to seat work, group discussion, and the rest of the time for class-level presentations, discussions, and summarization.

Grading Policy

Overall graded course requirements total 100 points. There is no “curve” for this course. Pluses and minuses are given. You receive the grade you earn through your own work and the effort you put into the class.

Course grades will be determined using the following point values:

Requirement	Possible Points
Assignment 1	10%
Midterm Exam	20%
Assignment 2	10%
Exercises/Participation	20%
Group Paper	15%
Group Presentation	5%
Final Exam	20%
TOTAL	100%

Grade Scale

Percent	Letter Grade	Percent	Letter Grade
95-100	A	77-79	C+
90-94	A-	74-76	C
87-89	B+	70-73	C-
84-86	B	60-69	D
80-83	B-	<60	F

Classroom Protocol

As your professor, I make a concerted effort to be prepared to class and to conduct ourselves in a responsible and professional manner. While I know that emergencies can arise, I expect the same from you – that you arrive on time, read the materials, and are ready to participate in the day’s activities. I encourage you to take notes either in writing or on a computer, but ask that you not multitask, surf the web or use cell phones while in class so that your full attention is devoted to our in-class activities and discussion. While missing a class should not adversely impact your grade, missing a few could have a negative impact, as there will be intermittent in-class assignments and activities in which you will be expected to participate.

University Policies

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at <http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html>. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic year calendars document on the Academic Calendars webpage at http://www.sjsu.edu/provost/services/academic_calendars/. The Late Drop Policy is available at <http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/>. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.

Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at <http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/>.

Academic integrity

Your commitment as a student to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University's Academic Integrity policy S07-2, located at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/S07-2.htm>, requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The Student Conduct and Ethical Development website is available at <http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/>.

Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person's ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include your assignment or any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU's Academic Integrity Policy S07-2 requires approval of instructors.

Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act

If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Disability Resource Center (DRC) at <http://www.drc.sjsu.edu/> to establish a record of their disability.

Student Technology Resources

Computer labs for student use are available in the Academic Success Center at <http://www.sjsu.edu/at/asc/> located on the 1st floor of Clark Hall and in the Associated Students Lab on the 2nd floor of the Student Union. Additional computer labs may be available in your department/college. Computers are also available in the Martin Luther King Library.

A wide variety of audio-visual equipment is available for student checkout from Media Services located in IRC 112. These items include DV and HD digital camcorders; digital still cameras; video, slide and overhead projectors; DVD, CD, and audiotape players; sound systems, wireless microphones, projection screens and monitors.

SJSU Peer Connections

Peer Connections, a campus-wide resource for mentoring and tutoring, strives to inspire students to develop their potential as independent learners while they learn to successfully navigate through their university experience. You are encouraged to take advantage of their services which include course-content based tutoring, enhanced study and time management skills, more effective critical thinking strategies, decision making and problem-solving abilities, and campus resource referrals.

In addition to offering small group, individual, and drop-in tutoring for a number of undergraduate courses, consultation with mentors is available on a drop-in or by appointment basis. Workshops are offered on a wide variety of topics including preparing for the Writing Skills Test (WST), improving your learning and memory, alleviating procrastination, surviving your first semester at SJSU, and other related topics. A computer lab and study space are also available for student use in Room 600 of Student Services Center (SSC).

Peer Connections is located in three locations: SSC, Room 600 (10th Street Garage on the corner of 10th and San Fernando Street), at the 1st floor entrance of Clark Hall, and in the Living Learning Center (LLC) in Campus Village Housing Building B. Visit Peer Connections website at <http://peerconnections.sjsu.edu> for more information.

SJSU Writing Center

The SJSU Writing Center is located in Clark Hall, Suite 126. All Writing Specialists have gone through a rigorous hiring process, and they are well trained to assist all students at all levels within all disciplines to become better writers. In addition to one-on-one tutoring services, the Writing Center also offers workshops every semester on a variety of writing topics. To make an appointment or to refer to the numerous online resources offered through the Writing Center, visit the Writing Center website at <http://www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter>.
