Online Forums
Active online participation is imperative to your overall grade in this course so log in and read through the comments (and respond) frequently. Be sure to respond to classmate postings that pique your interest, and feel free to share information that might further explore a reading topic.

Group-Led Discussions
Part of an upper-division course is learning how to take the lead in a discussion. In this course, we will be having a rotating “lead group”, which will be responsible for preparing a short set of slides (or other media) to prompt discussion among all your classmates (not just your group). When the online discussion goes live, the lead group will be in charge of adding your own responses, but also responding and carrying further any student comments from the rest of the class. Because the lead group is the “expert” group, they get this responsibility. The instructor will check in with the lead group before things go live to make sure things are on track with the group. Note that all students in a given group get the same grade.

Reading Quizzes
The reading quiz is an assessment that I’ll use to make sure you stay on track in the class. The reading quiz will include basic questions on reading, but will also aim to teach you a few pieces of information about the place about which you are reading. For example, you might be given a map and asked to identify the locations referred to in the reading. This may require some research on your part, of course, but that is ok. There are six total reading quizzes.

Book Review
A heavily weighted component in the course! Create a 1000 word review, + or – 25 words for one of the books on the syllabus. Your article must be one typed page (single-spaced, 12-point times new roman font with no more than 1” margins on all sides. A review is not a book report, or a rehashing of what you read. A review presents a point of view – in this case, yours. You should be able to support any disagreements you have, taking special care to critically examine the main points of the book. Include proper citations using APA format.

Final Exam
The final exam will include short-answer questions and a long essay. You will be given specific readings to study, and will not be expected to memorize the entire course content.

All students have the right, within a reasonable time, to know their academic scores, to review their grade dependent work, and to be provided with explanations for the determination of their course grades. In keeping with this policy, and to making grading responsive. All assignments are due as stated on the Course Schedule and Canvas. Late work is not accepted. Please save all your work until after you have checked your final course grade. Then if you have questions about your final grade, you can bring in past work, and if necessary, corrections can be made.

Online Classroom Protocol
• Assigned textbook readings must be completed prior to participation in the discussion forums.
• This course covers controversial and politically charged content so civility and courteousness is always expected. While we may not agree with other perspectives and opinions stated, respect is mandatory.

University Policies

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student
As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU’s policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arises. See University Policy S90–5 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S90-5.pdf. More detailed information on a variety of related topics is available in the SJSU catalog, at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/catalog/rec12234.12506.html. In general, it is recommended that students begin by seeking clarification or discussing concerns with their instructor. If such conversation is not possible, or if it does not serve to address the issue, it is recommended that the student contact the Department Chair as a next step.

Dropping and Adding
Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc.

Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic year calendars document on the Academic Calendars webpage at http://www.sjsu.edu/provost/services/academic_calendars/. The Late Drop Policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/teacher_active/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.

Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material
University Policy S12-7, http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-7.pdf, requires students to obtain instructor’s permission to record the course and the following items to be included in the syllabus:

• “Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.”
  • It is suggested that the greensheet include the instructor’s process for granting permission, whether in writing or orally and whether for the whole semester or on a class by class basis.
  • In classes where active participation of students or guests may be on the recording, permission of those students or guests should be obtained as well.
• “Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.”

Academic integrity
Your commitment, as a student, to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University Academic Integrity Policy S07-2 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S07-2.pdf requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act
If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need to make special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center (AEC) at http://www.sjsu.edu/aec to establish a record of their disability.

Accommodation to Students' Religious Holidays
San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed. See University Policy S14-7 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S14-7.pdf.
