Course Description

(From Course Catalog) In a world with rapidly diminishing resources new conflicts are emerging based on factors such as ethnicity, economic opportunity, religion, and nationalism. Explore global circumstances leading to conflict. Prerequisite: Passage of the Writing Skills Test (WST) or ENGL/LLD 100A with a C or better (C- not accepted), completion of Core General Education and upper division standing are prerequisites to all SJSU studies courses. Completion of, or co-registration in, 100W is strongly recommended (3 units)

Learning Outcomes

GEOG112 is an Area V course: Culture, Civilization, and Global Understanding meant to provide students with an appreciation for cultures outside the United States. With this should come increased awareness of how foreign traditions have influenced American culture and its' global interactions. As a geographic survey of pressing contemporary issues – in politics, economy, security, and human-environmental impact - course readings, documentary films, in-class exercises, and discussions will be used to gain greater understanding of complex problems. Students will hone critical, relational, and contextual thinking and be expected to communicate independent views effectively, particularly in written format.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

- CLO1 Compare systematically the ideas, values, images, cultural artifacts, economic structures, technological developments, and/or attitudes of people from more than one culture outside the U.S.

Students will demonstrate understanding through in-class exercises and written examinations.

- CLO2 Identify the historic context of ideas and cultural traditions outside the U.S., and how they have influenced American culture.

Students will respond in written essays to documentary films related to cultural traditions and ideas.

- CLO3 Explain how a culture outside the U.S. has changed in response to internal and external pressures.

Students will present independent research on a chosen example.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook

Required: Global Issues: Selections from CQ Researcher (2014 ed.) by Sage Publications. ISBN: 978-1-4833-6453-7. Past editions will not be accepted because content has changed.

Each chapter is available for free through the online CQ Research journal via MLK Library online.

Course Requirements and Assignments

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at <http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf>.

Grading Policy

Students will be scored on participation, group discussion, and written assignments.

- Active online participation is imperative to your overall grade in this course (50% of your total grade), and so frequent engagement on Canvas is expected.
- Groups of three students will be tasked to facilitate discussion of selected text chapters. This will include guiding understanding (posting supporting slides to annotate the assignment reading), providing additional supplementary materials, and creation of critical analysis discussion questions that must be instructor approved ahead of time. Students within each group will earn the same; there are 100 points possible.
- Links to four documentary films will be posted during this course. Two times during the term you are to demonstrate in writing how you have thought critically about narratives or images seen in a film from a global geography/social sciences context. Each essay must have 3 typed pages (double-spaced, 12-point Times New Roman font, with 1” margins on all sides) summarizing new facts gained along with a thought-provoking critique of the film. Essays must include a total word count noted at the end (750 words minimum).
- A Review Article is a concise paper, usually written by an academic journal editor that summarizes, compares, and contrasts all recent findings on a specific topic or theme. To earn 20% of your total grade you must create a 500-word review article tying together any two textbook chapters. Your article must be one typed page (single-spaced, 12-point times new roman font with no more than 1” margins on all sides).
- The final exam is a single essay question. You must clearly support and defend in a written essay what you have gained from this course and how you might apply it to your postgraduate goals. Why should this merit 100 points (10%) of your total grade? It will be up to you to determine and track what you think can be used as evidence over the term to cite specific examples in your essay to support your position..

	Points Possible
Participation	500
Group-Led Online Discussion	100
Film Essay 1	50
Film Essay 2	50
