Explanation of Assignments

A. Participation
   Participation in this course is expected. To receive maximum benefit from this course, you are expected to attend all classes, come prepared, and actively participate in the discussion. Late arrival and early departure are marks of disrespect, unprofessional, and interrupt class. Please be on time. Evaluation of participation will be based on pop quizzes to reward those who are punctual and in attendance, participation in class discussions and exercises, completion of reading assignments, review questions, discussion questions, and homework.

B. Cultural knowledge and Etiquette presentation:
   As groups, students will educate the class about the culture and business etiquette in an assigned country. Students will cover at least 15 elements of cultural knowledge and relevant business etiquette. If we found ourselves doing business in country ________, what would we need to know to be successful? The following elements must be included: greetings, personal space, religious influences and implications on the culture, gift giving practices, how they manage time, gender roles and courtesies in a business setting, preferred and to be avoided topics of conversation, preferred indoor and outdoor recreation, tipping, and the role and preferred items for gift giving in a business setting. The other elements included are your choice.

   Presentations will be 30 minutes in length with an additional 10 minutes for questions. Presentations should be memorable as all the information is testable for the class. Please use creativity in delivery to help us all learn. This might include educational use of skits, maps, pictures, film clips, etc. Presenters will furnish a one-page handout to all the students and the teacher that contains all testable and important information. The handout can be sent via e-mail to the whole class. It should be informative, as it will act as an exam study guide.

   Begin research now and remember to dress professionally during your presentation, present creatively and keep your focus on what Recreation, Hospitality and Tourism professionals would want to know about culture and etiquette for a business encounter.

C. International Grocery Shopping Experience
   The objective of this assignment is to experience foods in different cultures. You are requested to visit at least three grocery stores and/or supermarkets of different cultures and compare them to the American supermarkets, i.e., Safeway, Albertson’s, Whole Foods, etc. You are expected to venture out and try a variety of new-to-you stores e.g., European, Arab, Pakistani, Iranian, Indian, Chinese, Vietnamese, Korean, Japanese, etc.
You will follow up the visits with a two-page paper that covers the following and anything else relevant you wish to share.

Discuss your experience from a cultural perspective. Things to watch and compare: the customers—who are they? What do they buy? How do they buy? What products and produces do these stores carry, for example, meats (chicken, pork, beef, lamb, etc.), seafood, vegetables, fruits, spices, etc.? How are they presented? How do they prepare them?

Engage with customers and staff and respectfully ask questions to learn more. Ask at least three questions and report on what you learned. Conclude with what was most fascinating to you about this experience and what you learned about the culture as well as what you learned about yourself.

D. Mid-term examinations and planned quizzes

The format may be true/false, multiple choice, short answer, or essay. The instructor will not administer make-up quizzes or examinations unless there is an acceptable excuse. If you know that you will not be able to take an exam during its scheduled time, please inform the instructor and make appropriate arrangements beforehand.

E. Letter to future student:

At the end of the course, you will write a letter to incoming HRTM101 student explaining the focus of the course, what you got from it personally, something about your favorite assignments, a brief description of the teachers style of class leadership, how best to prepare for the structure of the course and more. This should be a two-page typed letter. Make sure to sign your letter in blue ink. This is a graded document so write professionally.

F. International Potluck and Cookbook:

As a class we will create an International Potluck and Cookbook.

You are responsible to make a page that includes your name, a cultural recipe with clear photo(s), and a paragraph historic/cultural description of the recipe. Yours should be creative and clear while following your instructor’s sample for consistency in the cookbook.

Remember you will cook this dish for our end of the semester potluck. So, start doing research and practice cooking it soon.

The Potluck will take place over the last two class days so we can actually taste and learn from each student’s contribution.

G. Final examination

A final examination will be given on the scheduled day.

H. Extra credit opportunities (4 extra points)

Option 1:

Discover and attend one educational event relevant to the content of this course. Your choice of event must be pre-approved by the professor. After attending, type up a one page summary of the event, including relative facts, key points learned as well as your personal reaction to it. It must be turned in one week after attending the event and you may be asked to speak about it to the class.

Option 2:

Perform a ceremony from your culture. This can be a tea ceremony, a ritual, dance, etc. Your choice needs to be approved by the professor. You will be granted up to 20 minutes to perform. For this option, you also need to submit a one page summary of the ceremony, its historic background and cultural significance.
Grading Criteria and protocol for late assignments:
All papers/assignments are due on Canvas on the date indicated in the course calendar or as otherwise indicated by the instructor. Any late assignments that are accepted by the instructor will be graded down as follows:
• 10% off the points for every calendar day including weekend days. This begins after class on the day it is due.
• No papers will be accepted via e-mail or after one week.

Classroom Protocol

Policies outlined in the University Catalog shall be enforced as defined. Further, instructor policies identified in this syllabus shall be the governing structure for this course and shall be enforced as defined. Plagiarism and cheating on examinations will be penalized to the fullest extent of University regulations. Students are encouraged to take the plagiarism tutorial offered by the King Library, http://tutorials.sjlibrary.org/plagiarism/index.htm. Please read the SJSU Academic Integrity Policy S04-12 at http://www2.sjsu.edu/senate/S04-12.pdf.

E-mail Announcements
The instructor will use e-mail to make course-related announcements. It is the student’s responsibility to make sure the SJSU system has the correct e-mail address and to read e-mail regularly.

Behavior during class period should reflect professional courtesy. Please refrain from any unnecessary talking, deactivate any pagers and/or cell phones, conducting business not related to the course, and snoozing.

Assignments turned in after the due date without prior approval will not be acceptable. Assignments must be typed and follow a consistent style (a word processor software program is recommended). Professional "quality" for each of the assignments is the standard. A deduction in grading will occur for sloppiness, grammatical, spelling, or typographical errors, or lack of proper APA format.

Make-up exams will not be given. Students with scheduling difficulties must make arrangements with the instructor prior to the exam.

Classroom conduct and expectations:
Professional attitudes and behaviors are expected in class. It is what is good for everyone involved. We all have a great deal to learn, and we can do so in a cooperative, kind, supportive, non-threatening environment. You can help to make this an enjoyable course to take if you work with the rest of us to build the spirit of community. If you tend to be quiet in classes, speak up. If you tend to talk a lot, do so but encourage others’ involvement as well. Continual class disruption will not be tolerated and a student may be referred to the Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development.

1. Personal concerns or learning disabilities need to be taken care of as early as possible (within the first two weeks of class). Be proactive and not reactive. Students can discuss personal needs privately during my office hours.
2. If you are willing to volunteer as a note-taker for a classmate with a disability, please advise me.
3. Just as one would do in the workplace, if you are unable to attend class, please e-mail me to inform me prior to class. Remember class participation and in-class assignments are key to your success in this course. You are expected to attend on time daily. If that will be a problem, please choose another course.
4. E-mail etiquette: I generally respond very quickly to emails. If I do not respond in two days, please send it again. Keep the emails short and specific. Remember this is a college course, so please practice e-mail etiquette writing professionally and respectfully, checking for clarity, spelling and grammar. Please note that I teach over 100 students per semester so keeping on track of information and staying on top of due dates is your responsibility. Poor planning may cause undesirable consequences.
5. I do not give grades out via e-mail or ahead of report card time.
6. Cell phones: Cell phones are to be turned off during class. If it rings or you are texting or glancing at your phone during class, you will be asked to leave and you will lose participation points for the day and more disciplinary action may be taken. To be safe, unplug. If you are expecting an urgent call, inform me first, set it to vibrate, sit by the door and exit when it comes through.

7. Computer Use and Homework: You may not use laptops and tablets in class except for class related activities. These include activities such as taking notes on the lecture underway or following a lecture on a web based power-point slides under faculty direction. You are not to use the computer in another way unless asked to do so by the professor.

8. Late arrival in class is a mark of disrespect, is unprofessional, and interrupts class; please be on time so that you get participation points!

9. You are responsible to learn about the content of classes missed. Pay attention to assignments and due dates on the course calendar. They occasionally change and it is your responsibility to find that out. We will discuss most assignment at the start of each class. Please be prepared to ask for specifics or come visit me during office hours.

10. Many share this classroom so we always leave it better than when we found. Always check to straighten chairs, clean up papers etc.

11. Don’t forget to bring your best self to class, to have some fun, to smile and learn from others.

12. Conferences are during office hours or by appointment to discuss assignments and writing problems. These conferences are not a substitute for class attendance.

13. Due dates are on the syllabus so be aware of them please. While late assignments will be accepted for some days after the due date, consider the following reasons for submitting assignments on time:
   a. An assignment that is late, for whatever reason, is ineligible to receive full points.
   b. The instructor has scheduled her time so as to be able to respond to each assignment set with careful consideration and detailed comments; she will not be able to give that thorough attention to late assignments.

14. The instructor will use Canvas e-mail to make occasional course-related announcements. It is the student’s responsibility to make sure the my-SJSU system has the correct e-mail address and to read e-mail regularly.
