There are only a few transformational moments in each person's life. You know, like when you finish college, get your first job, fall in love, buy a house, and have children. These are moments that make you grow into a new and more mature, a better and wiser person.

For us, lucky I-House alumni, there is one more truly unique and profoundly transformational moment, which is when we walked into that beautiful, old, charming building at 360 South 11th St. Decorated with the proud flags of our countries, and welcoming to all our languages and cultures, this wonderful International House took us in, gave us wings, and helped us fly all over the world with a sense of familiarity and connection with people in all corners of this vast, beautiful earth.

We loved living with amazing people. Felt like they were our brothers and sisters, they were our closest and best friends. We enjoyed their foods and learned a word or two from their languages. We traveled with them to near and far destinations. We had a crush on them, loved them, married them. We grew and transformed with them.

To a House that has given us so much, we owe all what we can afford. This House has to stay as lovely and lively as it has been for us, so that our children can someday walk through its doors and brag to its future residents “my parents lived here, and now I’m going to live here.”

It is only through our commitment, and donations and contributions that we can ensure this place will touch more people’s lives the way it touched ours.

Arash Motamedi (Iran, ’08–’10) recently donated very generously to the I-House Scholarship Fund.
Can you imagine touching as many lives as Phyllis Simpkins did over the course of her lifetime? Thousands and thousands of us at International House benefited from Phyllis’ generosity and personal involvement. Alan and Phyllis left a tremendous legacy. They were role models for all of us and touched so many lives deeply, positively, and with lasting impact.

Wouldn’t you like to be remembered, as Phyllis is, for your can-do attitude, ability to overcome obstacles, your active participation, long-term commitment, thoughtfulness, and modesty?

Phyllis’ last words to her family are very powerful: “Tell everyone I love them. See you all soon. Go Spartans!” What a vibrant, giving, caring, energetic individual she was and how fortunate we were to have her in our lives.

Phyllis was very excited for our upcoming 35th anniversary alumni reunion in Bali, Indonesia July 17-24, 2013. We hope you will join us! See the I-House website for details: www.sjsu.edu/ihouse.

— Leann Cherkasky Makhni, Director of SJSU International House

The I-House endowment was set up by Phyllis in the hopes that alumni and friends of the International House will continue to contribute financially. In the U.S., a self-support non-profit organization like I-House counts on alumni and friends like you to offer the best possible experience to our current residents through scholarships and facility maintenance. In Phyllis’ memory and to honor her legacy, any contributions you make to the Endowment or Scholarship Funds will be appreciated.

To donate online, please go to the following web page: http://www.sjsu.edu/giving/ihouse.

You can also mail a check payable to SJSU Tower Foundation. The Endowment is a 501(c)3 fund making donations tax deductible. Explore whether your company offers matching grants.

Q&A
Alumni return to I-House, living under one roof again

By Sarah Kyo

I-House was fortunate to have many alumni visit during the Spring 2012 semester. Here are excerpts from interviews with some former residents who visited in late February/early March.

Helder Dias, Brazil, Fall ’10 - Spring ’11
Why did you visit I-House again?
I was going to travel around the West Coast with a Brazilian friend of mine (who was currently living at I-House at the time), and I thought it would be a great idea to stop by the Bay Area and spend some time reconnecting with old friends.

What was exciting about coming back here? How was it different than when you were a resident?
My visit was totally different than when I used to be an I-House resident. I spent some nights in the guest room and I felt really uncomfortable walking alone in the House since I knew just a few of the residents. But, overall I had a great stay in the I-House and I was really excited because I was able to spend some time with old friends.

Marc Gagnon, Canada, Spring ‘11
Which dates did you visit I-House during the Spring 2012 semester?
It was in March. I was in the Bay Area for four days for an interview at Tesla Motors in Fremont. (SJSU recently interviewed Marc for a video about his new job with Tesla Motors. Visit the news website SJSU Today to learn more: http://bit.ly/sjsu-tesla-post).

Why did you visit I-House again? What was exciting about coming back here?
Paul and Helder were visiting at the same time, so it was natural to meet at the I-House. We went to eat at the DC and we went out at the Loft! It was pretty fun! We had a blast!

Paul Huekel, Germany, Fall ’10 - Spring ’11
What was exciting about coming back here? How was it different than when you were a resident?
The most exciting part definitely was to get to see the people that still live in the I-House and San Jose. Furthermore, it was interesting to meet some of the new residents and to chat with them about their I-House experiences. Interestingly enough, most of their thoughts were similar to those that I had when living in the I-House. Now as an alumni, it was kind of funny to see that most things are still the same as they were.

Anything else you’d like to add regarding I-House?
In retrospect, the year I spent in I-House was definitely one of the best experiences I have ever had since I got to meet a lot of great people from all over the world. With some of them I became really good friends. I-House is an exceptional opportunity to broaden one’s horizon!
