Announcing the new

JS 170/ART OF YOGA PROJECT

Student Internship

The Art of Yoga Project leads teen girls in the California Juvenile Justice System toward accountability to self, others, and community by providing practical tools to effect behavioral change. The comprehensive Yoga and Creative Arts Academic Curriculum offers a strength-based, gender-responsive, and trauma-informed approach to provide necessary tools for better decision-making and life-long wellness.

As an Art of Yoga Project intern you will:

- Be based at one of three Bay Area female juvenile detention facilities (San Francisco, San Mateo, or Santa Clara)
- Attend and observe weekly yoga and creative arts classes
- Engage in participant observation and administer curriculum evaluations
- Administer pre- and post-surveys
- Collect, collate, and enter data from evaluations
- Conduct exit interviews with girls upon release
- Conduct staff interviews with facility employees

For more information please contact Dr Danielle Harris: dharris@casa.sjsu.edu and visit www.theartofyogaproject.org