JUSTICE SYSTEMS RESEARCH

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Justice Systems Research explores the interaction of theory, research and practice in the justice process; purpose and limits of research; introduction to basic research design and methods of inquiry, social statistics, sampling and ethical issues in preparation of research reports.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

1. To introduce the student to the principles of research.
2. To introduce the student to research design.
3. To introduce the student to a variety of research methods.
4. To explore the advantages and disadvantages of various methods of research.
5. To identify various data sources for developing answers to questions relevant to the criminal justice system.
6. To introduce the student to the basics of quantitative analysis of data.

This course is a general survey course of research methods. The course introduces the student to basic research designs, methods of inquiry, sampling, and statistics. It is separated into three, SEEMINGLY distinct, but interrelated parts.

The first part of the course will deal with a brief overview of the research process and a study of the initial stages of the process: choosing a problem, developing hypotheses, and formulating a design.

The second part of the course involves the study of various data collection methods: survey research, field research, document research and experimentation.

The third section of the course concerns the study of data reduction techniques, data analysis and presentation. The focus of this section (as does contemporary research analysis) will be quantitative analysis. A brief discussion of computer usage and the use of statistical packages such as SPSS and SAS will be included.
REQUIRED BOOKS:

Discussion of research methods IS RELEVANT to the study of the criminal justice system. As illustration of this, examples of research in criminal justice will be used throughout the course. There are two required texts:

Both books are available in the Spartan Bookstore as well as Robert's Bookstore.

GRADING:

The basic requirements for the course consist of adequate performance (in line with the university requirements) on three examinations and completion of 5 homework assignments. The format of the exams will be a combination of multiple choice, true/false, fill-ins, short answer essays, and problem solving questions. The examinations will reflect (1) required readings (2) lectures (3) class discussion and (4) films used in class. Each examination is worth 100 points and represents 30% of the final grade, the homework assignments represent 10% of the final grade. Each of the 5 homework assignments are worth 2 points.

EXAM #1 = 30%
EXAM #2 = 30%
EXAM #3 = 30%
HOMEWORK = 10% 100%

Each student is also required to conference with the instructor, at least three times during the course of the semester. This is a MINIMUM requirement. I would like to see students on a regular basis - my door is always open to you, don't hesitate to come by. PLEASE COME FOR AN INITIAL CONFERENCE EARLY IN THE SEMESTER. If your schedule does not fit well with my office hours, please call for an appointment. I am frequently around at times other than scheduled office hours. You are welcome to come by any time.

ATTENDANCE:

REGULAR ATTENDANCE IS OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE FOR THIS CLASS. The nature of the material is cumulative. Attendance is not required but is suggested, STRONGLY.
CLASS PARTICIPATION IS ALSO ENCOURAGED! While there is no clear formula for class participation, in cases where a final grade is between two grades attendance and class participation may help to enhance your grade. I will be keeping close track of class participation, tallying class participation and lack of participation. I reserve the right to increase a student's final grade based on class participation.

MAKE-UP POLICY:

The departmental policy will be followed regarding make-up examinations. The make-up exam will be given after and within the time-frame of the last scheduled examination. Make-ups are given in EXTREME CASES and only when APPROPRIATE DOCUMENTATION is provided.
