Course Description

Few subjects capture the imagination or receive as much attention as crime in the modern world. You cannot pick up a newspaper, pass a bookstore or turn on a television without being bombarded with accounts of crime. A subject so often discussed and debated is bound to create a wide range of conflicting views.

This course is designed to explore the nature and extent of crime in the United States, as well as the various theories that criminologists have constructed to explain crime. This course is designed to provide students with a deeper understanding of the current crime trends within our country.

Required Materials

Students will be required to access WebCT for this course. If you do not currently have a WebCT account, please go to http://sisu.webct.com/webct/public/home.pl and follow the instructions to create an account. The WebCT login for this course is http://sisu.webct.com/public/js118f05mc.

The additional readings for this course can be found on WebCT and are indicated by an * in the syllabus.

Suggested Materials

Course Requirements:

Participation: While attendance is not required (you can't participate if you are not here), it is assumed that students are prepared and willing to answer course-related questions when called upon and, when appropriate, to take part in class discussions. This class is intended to be interactive, so speak up and share your views, after all, your grade depends upon it.

Readings and Quizzes: Students should complete the readings prior to the date by which they appear on the syllabus. In order to provide incentive to complete the readings, there will be 5-10 unannounced quizzes throughout the course. Each quiz will be given during the first 15-minutes of class, and will only cover those readings scheduled for that class. Each student may use any notes that he or she has personally taken on that day's readings. Since everyone has a "bad day", I will drop each student's lowest quiz grade—given that the student has taken all quizzes.

Exams: There will be two (2) in-class exams administered throughout this semester on the dates listed below. These exams may include multiple choice and/or essay questions. Please note, there will be no make-up exams.

Term Paper: Students will be required to write a term paper that is due at the end of the quarter. This paper will cover some aspect of theories of crime and/or crime patterns. More information will be distributed throughout the quarter. The paper will follow APA style, no other style will be accepted, and will be between 5-7 (double spaced) pages in length. Paper topics are due at the specified date on the syllabus and are required.

Email: I will accept assignments via email according to the following protocol. Deviations from this protocol will not be accepted and will be bounced back:

1. Subject Line: This line will contain the student's name, course and the assignment number. For example, Mark Correia, JS 118, Paper #1.
2. Format: All papers sent electronically must be saved in .doc or .rtf. I will not accept papers saved in .wps, .wpd or pasted into an email.
3. Email Address: All assignments will be emailed to markcorreia@casa.sjsu.edu.
4. Confirmation: I will send out a confirmation receipt for those emails with assignments that I have received within 24hrs. If you do not receive a confirmation, your assignment was not received.
5. Responsibility: It is the student's responsibility to make sure that the assignment is properly attached to the email. If the assignment is not attached and received by the due date, the assignment will be considered late.

Course Outline

This course consists primarily of lectures held on Tuesday and Thursday. Due to the number of students and different views that he/she brings, it is the instructor’s belief that all of our views are enriched by way of discussion. Please be considerate of others and their opinions as everyone will have an opportunity to express their opinion.

I have listed my email address and office hours for your convenience. At all times, I will be available via email. If you cannot make my office hours, nor have access to email, please set up an appointment. While I may be in my office at other times, I may not be available to meet.

Syllabus Addendum

Grading: In order to receive a grade for this course, all the course requirements must be completed. Failure to complete them will result in a failing grade for the course.

Academic Dishonesty: The “I got caught cheating” policy for this class is swift, severe, and certain: that is, if you cheat, chances are very good that you will be caught, then publicly shamed, and punished with a failing grade for the course. In addition, plagiarism is absolutely unacceptable. If you are unsure what constitutes plagiarism, please contact the professor—while many students are ignorant of this offense, ignorance is not an excuse. I have several speeding tickets that prove this point!
Academic Integrity: "Your own commitment to learning, as evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University, and the University’s Academic Integrity Policy requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty are required to report all infractions to the Office of Judicial Affairs.” The policy on academic integrity can be found at http://sa.sjsu.edu/judicial_affairs/index.html.

ADA: "If you need course adaptations or accommodations because of a disability, or if you need special arrangements in case the building must be evacuated, please make an appointment with me as soon as possible, or see me during office hours. Presidential Directive 97-03 requires that students with disabilities register with DRC to establish a record of their disability.”

Grades: Paper and course grades may be disputed at the instructor’s convenience (or during office hours). It is important to note, however, that upon review, the instructor reserves the right to increase as well as decrease the grade in question. Late papers will not be accepted nor any extra credit provided.

Electronic Devices: Please turn off all cell phones, pages, PDA’s or any other electronic device that “makes noise”. While I commend those of you who have mastered text messaging, the use of these devices during class is disruptive and will not be tolerated.

Classroom Etiquette: Class motto: “Treat others as you think they would like to be treated”. Yes, this is a spin on the ever popular, but not so empathetic phrase. This is a time to open your minds to new ideas, to explore new concepts, so please take advantage of this opportunity. Further, please be respectful of others and show them common courtesy. I firmly believe that the learning process is enriched by discussion, but damaged by arguments. Respect and professionalism are the guiding principles of this class.

Written Work: I understand that many of our students have very busy life’s, filled with work and family obligations. I understand that “school work” is difficult to fit in to an already full schedule. With this said, I do expect quality work from everyone. Write every paper as though it is your best paper ever and be proud of your paper and work that you complete for this seminar.

As a side note: I am well aware of the websites that offer papers to students and have software that allows me to compare papers I receive to the thousands of databases of papers that exist. Trust me, it is not worth your effort, chances are, I will find out.

+- Grading: This course will be using the +/ system on final grades based on the following percentages:
