Course Description

Interdisciplinary exploration of human rights instruments, institutions, and notable human rights campaigns. The historical development of human rights and contemporary threats to the realization of fundamental dignity for humans and non-humans will also be explored.

Course Format

This course is online, with class participation taking place in the form of posting to online discussions on Canvas (and assignment descriptions posted to Canvas, and submitted there on due dates). ‘Lectures’ or guided readings will be posted each week, and students are expected to post discussion points at least once a week.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

GELO 1: Compare systematically the ideas, values, images, cultural artifacts, economic structures, technological developments, and/or attitudes of people from more than one culture outside the U.S. This learning objective will be assessed in discussion posts and the in-depth research assignment students submit as their final evaluation.

GELO 2: Identify the historical context of ideas and cultural traditions outside the U.S. and how they have influenced American culture. This learning objective will be assessed by students demonstrating their familiarity with the backgrounds of key instruments in assignments such as quizzes (as well as discussion posts particularly those that task students with reflecting on set articles/reports/readings). It is also likely to be evident in the in-depth research assignment given that students are tasked with contextualizing human rights issues.

GELO 3: Explain how a culture outside the U.S. has changed in response to internal and external pressures. This learning objective will be assessed in online discussion.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. CLO 1 - Read, write, and contribute to online discussion (via Canvas) at a skilled and capable level.
2. CLO 2 - Recognize and access human rights instruments defining “human rights” according to international law (such as the Universal Declaration of Human Rights) via online and library resources.
3. CLO 3 - Recognize and access the reports of central oversight agencies, such as Amnesty International and Human Rights Watch, that report on human rights abuses to the United Nations and global populace via online and library resources.
4. CLO 4 - Compare and contrast how “rights” and “dignity” have been defined for human and non-human animals by various cultures throughout the world.
5. CLO 5 - Apply a human rights discourse to analyze social problems, policies, and practices in the U.S.

Course Requirements and Assignments
In addition to the requirement that students actively participate in every online class, there are 4 major assignments in this course:

• Major research paper (40%, aligned with CLO 1, CLO 3; GELO 1, GELO 2, GELO 3)
• Online discussion in the form of ‘reflection weeks and discussion post’ (20% (4 x 5%), aligned with CLO 1, CLO 2, CLO 3; GELO 1, GELO 2)
• Midterm quiz (20%, aligned with CLO 2, CLO 5; GELO 2, GELO 3)
• Final evaluation (20%, aligned with CLO 1, CLO 5, CLO 6; GELO 1, GELO 2, GELO 3)

Details for each assignment will be posted on Canvas.

Grading Information
We will discuss grading in class prior to every assignment. Students are encouraged to ask questions to ensure they understand expectations. Rubrics will be provided on Canvas or in class for every assignment.

Determination of Grades

Grades will be used along with substantive feedback to indicate students’ performance in a variety of tasks. Exams and final grades will be calculated as a percentage on a typical “100 point scale.” Missing, late, or plagiarized work will be given a grade of zero. Contact the professor early if you are having difficulty completing assignments or need accommodations for disabilities or absences for religious holidays.

The final course grade will be calculated based on the following standard scale:

98-100 A+
94-97 A
90-93 A-
88-89 B+
84-87 B
Please note, a “C” or higher is required to receive credit for this course toward a Justice Studies or Forensic Science Major. Passage of the Writing Skills Test (WST) or ENGL/LLD 100A with a C or better (C- not accepted), and completion of Core General Education are prerequisite to all SJSU Studies courses. Completion of, or co-registration in, 100W is strongly recommended. A minimum aggregate GPA of 2.0 in GE Areas R, S, & V shall be required of all students.

Classroom Protocol

Students are expected to participate in all online discussions, debates and activities in a respectful and mindful manner.

Specifically:

1. Students are expected to deposit/submit assignments and discussion posts to our online class on time, prepared to take part in their own and collective learning.
2. All online classroom participants are expected to foster an environment that encourages participation, and that is respectful to others and their opinions.
3. Students are expected to complete graded assignments by the time indicated in this syllabus. Late assignments will not be graded.
4. Students are responsible for making up material missed in their absence on their own.
5. The due dates listed in the course schedule, below (see in particular dates accompanied by the phrase ‘reflection weeks and discussion post’) should be regarded as immoveable ‘deadlines’. You must post your reflection by this date or risk no grade for that assignment component.

While an emergency personal or health related situation appropriately verified (for instance, a doctor’s certificate in the case of illness), will be grounds for a student making up missed work or assignments without penalty, in no other circumstances will making up missed tasks be allowed. With regard to any unavoidable missed classes, it is incumbent upon students themselves to ‘catch up’ in terms of content and materials.

University Policies

Per University Policy S16-9, university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. will be available on Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs’ Syllabus Information web page at http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/

Department of Justice Studies Reading and Writing Philosophy

The Department of Justice Studies is committed to scholarly excellence. Therefore, the Department promotes academic, critical, and creative engagement with language (i.e., reading and writing) throughout its curriculum. A sustained and intensive exploration of language prepares students to think critically and to act meaningfully in interrelated areas of their lives—personal, professional, economic, social, political, ethical, and cultural. Graduates of the Department of Justice Studies leave San José State University prepared to enter a range of careers and for advanced study in a variety of fields; they are prepared to more effectively identify and ameliorate injustice in their personal, professional and civic lives. Indeed, the impact of literacy is evident not only within the span of a specific course, semester, or academic program, but also over the span of a lifetime.
