Course Format

This course adopts a hybrid delivery format. You must have access to the Internet and be able to transfer materials (upload and download) from and to Canvas. As well, electronic access is required to be a scholar and search the University databases for your scholarly essay assignments. You are responsible for submitting your assignments in an electronic format to Turnitin.com and that is accessible to the professor.

Canvas and MYSJSU Messaging

Course materials such as syllabus and major assignment handouts can be found on Canvas, the content management system we use here at SJSU. From the SJSU home page you can easily find the Canvas entry page. Your SJSU ID # and password will work with this account too. Upon arrival on your Canvas home page, change the settings so that your Canvas e-mail is forwarded to your regularly used e-mail account. Announcements will be posted on Canvas and should be checked on a regular basis; students may choose an option to be alerted that announcements have been made. Moreover, be sure to regularly check your MySJSU messaging system (or other communication system as indicated by your instructors).

Course Description

Motor behavior and the learning patterns developed in acquiring skill in a motor activity

Kinesiology Program Learning Outcomes

Students will

- Conduct and critique research using theoretical and applied knowledge
- Interpret and apply research findings to a variety of disciplines within kinesiology
- Effectively communicate essential theories, scientific applications, and ethical considerations in kinesiology
- Acquire skills to become agents of change to address issues in kinesiology through the application of knowledge and research
Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

The motor learning graduate course will prepare you to develop and conduct deep and rich scholarly approaches to the science of human motor behavior. Specifically, by the end of the semester you should expect to meet the following outcomes.

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to • Develop in depth knowledge of motor learning and control through reading, writing, and discussion of selected current theoretical and empirical scholarship.

  o To meet this student learning outcome essays on the midterm and final will specifically address understanding of current theoretical and empirical knowledge of motor learning and control; further the assignment of a scholarly review of literature will require that students pick relevant topics and explore the literature contributing to them developing a deep and rich understanding of an issue in motor learning.

• Develop articulate thoughts and engage in critical thinking about motor learning and control problems through written and verbal assignments.

  o To meet this student learning outcome abstracts of required weekly readings and the specific course activities such as on-line reading discussion groups will measure how articulate and engaged students are with the material.

• Develop questions and problems in motor learning and control research.

  o To meet this student learning outcome a narrowly focused scholarly review of literature will be developed that could serve as a review for a research question or problem.

• Develop a base of knowledge from which to draw application for the workplace involving teaching, design, prevention, and rehabilitation of motor skills.

  o To meet this student learning outcome specific active learning environments will be used to make applications of knowledge to the workplace. Team presentations will require applications in human factors and ergonomics and kinesiology.

SJSU classes are designed such that to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of 45 hours for each unit of credit (normally 3 hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

NOTE that University policy F69-24 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F69-24.pdf states that “Students should attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to insure maximum benefit for all members of the class. Attendance per se shall not be used as a criterion for grading.”

Classroom Protocol

Students are expected to be courteous during class. Any student engaging in disruptive behavior will be asked to leave. This includes regularly arriving more than 10 minutes late to lecture and lab classes. The use of anything that beeps or vibrates during class is disruptive and will not be tolerated. Please silence your phone. If you are caught using a phone for unrelated activities (even silently, e.g., texting) you may be asked to leave the classroom.

University Policies

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU’s policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arises. See University Policy S90–5 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S90-5.pdf. More detailed information on a variety of related topics is available in the SJSU catalog at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/catalog/rec-12234.12506.html. In general, it is recommended that students begin by seeking clarification or discussing concerns with their instructor. If such conversation is not possible, or if it does not serve to address the issue, it is recommended that the student contact the Department Chair as a next step.
Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic year calendars document on the Academic Calendars webpage at http://www.sjsu.edu/provost/services/academic_calendars/. The Late Drop Policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.

Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material

University Policy S12-7, http://www.sjsu.edu/ senate/docs/S12-7.pdf, requires students to obtain instructor’s permission to record the course and the following items to be included in the syllabus:

- “Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.”
- “Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.”
- Guests should be provided the same courtesies.

Academic Integrity

Your commitment, as a student, to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University Academic Integrity Policy S07-2 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S07-2.pdf requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center (AEC) at http://www.sjsu.edu/aec to establish a record of their disability.

Accommodation to Students' Religious Holidays

San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed. See University Policy S14-7 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S14-7.pdf.

Course Calendar and Readings

Assigned weekly readings are to be completed by the dates listed below. With minimal flexibility we will adhere to the schedule provided. After reading the weekly assignment you should be prepared to contribute to in class and on-line discussions. Consider the following questions and activities while you read to critically analyze and think about motor learning: what kind of research does this article represent; how does the research support theory; in what ways can this area of research be expanded; what are some research questions emerging from these empirical studies; how does the research described fit with the movement focus from kinesiology and human factors/ergonomics approaches?

Readings are assigned by the course calendar below where you will find the full bibliographic references you need to obtain the readings for class. All readings can be retrieved from full text databases made available through the Martin Luther King Junior Library at San José State University. A PIN is required for remote access to the library. A PIN can be established on-line or at the circulation desk of the King Library. In most cases the required readings can be accessed through the university databases, e.g.,: Academic Search Premier, Sport Discus, and PsycARTICLES. Once you link to an article, chose download and if available print the paper in its PDF version. A PDF is an exact replica of a manuscript, as it appears printed in a journal. A PDF provides the best vantage point for conducting and viewing scholarly work. When a PDF is not available and you download an HTML version be aware when referring to page numbers from the original article, as these do not reflect the page numbers in the published version. Thus page numbers on the HTML version should not be referred to in this way. Reading assignments and due dates are provided on the course schedule. You are expected to come to class each week prepared to discuss topics in a seminar atmosphere and engage in critical thinking activities.

Each student is responsible for submitting a total of two original abstracts of the weekly readings. The abstract can summarize either one study or multiple studies from the assignments. Abstracts should contain original written material and they should conform to the conventions of the American Psychological Association Manual, 6th Ed.

Absences for midterm and final exams will be accepted only for serious and compelling reasons. No papers will be accepted late.
