Explore Mexican American history, culture, arts, politics . . . and much more!

Sample MAS Undergraduate Courses:

Lower-Division

MAS 10A*: Mexican American History, Pre-Columbian Era to 1880s

MAS 10B*: Mexican American History, 1880s to the Present

MAS 30*: Race and Ethnicity in Public Space

MAS 40: Chicana/o Theater

MAS 74*: Public Speaking

Upper-Division

MAS 115: Chicana/o Families

MAS 125: Chicana/o Community Studies

MAS 130*: Chicana/os in American Society

MAS 135: Contemporary Chicana/o Issues

MAS 144: Chicana/o Literature

MAS 160*: Gender and Sexuality

MAS 170: Hollywood’s Image of Chicana/os

MAS 185: Teaching in a Diverse Society

MAS 196F: Leadership and Advocacy

* denotes a course that satisfies GE requirements

Contact MAS today!

Main Office:

Mexican American Studies
Campus location: Clark 231
Office hours: M-F 9:00am - 1:00pm
Phone: 408.924.5760

Faculty Contacts:

Department Chair: Marcos Pizarro
408.924.5584 | marcos.pizarro@sjsu.edu

Undergraduate Advisor: Magdalena Barrera
408.924.5583 | magdalena.barrera@sjsu.edu

DISCOVER MAS!

Get más from SJSU:

* Expand your horizons
* Explore our cultures
* Meet dedicated faculty
* Put knowledge into practice

Now offering a MAJOR in Mexican American Studies!!
Expand your horizons

The mission of MAS is to serve students and diverse communities through interdisciplinary Chicanx Studies courses based on the principles of social justice. We offer a diverse range of classes that prepare students to critically examine and address issues of race, class, and gender in Chicanx and other communities. Illuminating the contemporary realities of our students and communities, MAS is a vital part of SJSU.

Meet our faculty

Magdalena Barrera | Ph.D., Modern Thought and Literature, Stanford
Manolo Callahan | Ph.D., History, UT Austin
Alicia Casas | M.A., Mexican American Studies, SJSU
Jesus Covarrubias | M.A., Education, Stanford University
Julia Curry | Ph.D., Sociology, UT Austin
Juan Gamboa | M.A., Ethnic Studies, SFSU
Gregorio Mora-Torres | Ph.D., History, UC Irvine
Marcos Pizarro | Ph.D. in Education, UCLA
Katheryn Ríos | Ph.D., English, Cornell University
Joshua Troncoso | Ph.D., Ethnic Studies, UC Berkeley
Victor Vasquez | M.A., Mexican American Studies, SJSU

Discover the benefits of MAS:

Satisfy GE requirements: 10A/B, 30 and 74 help you complete lower-division requirements such as A1, D1, D2-3 and US1-3. 130 and 160 satisfy upper-division Area S.

Be inspired by passionate faculty: MAS faculty are experienced educators who are dedicated to student success and view Chicanx Studies not just as theory, but as practice.

Meet like-minded students: Students who take MAS courses are interested in creating positive social change. They don’t just expect to passively receive knowledge—they intend to create it and share it!

Apply your MAS knowledge

Sign up for a MAJOR or Minor: The MAS Major requires 40 units (14 courses), giving you room to double-major. Meanwhile, the Minor requires only 18 units (6 courses) and complements any field of study by giving you an additional expertise.

Get a job: MAS courses sharpen the skills that employers in every field look for in strong job applicants: Critical thinking, problem solving and communication ability, and intercultural awareness.

Earn an advanced degree: Our graduates enter Master’s and Doctoral programs in programs such as Education, History, Social Work, and Feminist Studies. They are the next generation of Chicanx Studies faculty and community leaders!