Highlights

“Occupational therapy helps people across the lifespan participate in the things they want and need to do through the therapeutic use of everyday activities (occupations). Common occupational therapy interventions include helping children with disabilities to participate fully in school and social situations, helping people recovering from injury to regain skills, and providing supports for older adults experiencing physical and cognitive changes. Occupational therapists ask, "What matters to you?" not, "What's the matter with you?" - American OT Association

Services Typically Include

• Customized intervention programs to improve a person’s ability to perform daily activities
• Comprehensive home, school, and job site evaluations with recommendations for adaptations
• Assessments and intervention in various performance skills such as physical, cognitive, social, emotional skills
• Adaptive equipment recommendations and usage training
• Guidance, suggestions, and support to family members and caregivers

The SJSU program is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Occupational Therapy Education (ACOTE).

Overview of the Graduate Program

The Master of Science in Occupational Therapy program is designed for students who have earned a baccalaureate degree in a discipline other than occupational therapy. It enables the student to obtain the education and degrees necessary to be eligible to practice as an occupational therapist. Once the Master of Science degree in occupational therapy is completed including successful completion of the required 6 months of fieldwork, the student is eligible to sit for the national certification examination. Successful completion of the examination qualifies the candidate to apply for national certification and state licensure.

Curriculum

The graduate occupational therapy curriculum can be completed in 2 and 1/2 years which includes the mandatory 6 months of fieldwork internship. The curriculum is composed of six clusters:
- Occupation—the core of the profession
- Foundations for occupational therapy practice
- Professional development
- Practice in the Community
- Research and knowledge development
- Practice of occupational therapy

Examples of student baccalaureate degrees obtained prior to entering the MS in OT program
- Art
- Biology
- Business
- Child Development
