CREATIVE ASSIGNMENT

Assignment Description

What have you learned about “family” this semester? Looking back on our readings, films, and discussions, what concepts and information have had the most impact on your understanding of this societal institution?

Your job is to answer these questions both visually and in writing. First, you should design an 11x14” poster that reflects the knowledge you have gained. You can fill it with images, keywords, brief quotes—anything! The aim is to assemble a visual representation of what you have learned and found most interesting.

This poster should be accompanied by a 1-2 page (single-spaced) “artist’s statement” that explains the symbols and meaning of the poster. You should reference the readings and discussions that inspired your artwork.

You may work alone or with a partner on this project. It will be due at the start of class on 12/7, when we’ll have an end-semester party and poster display.
