Instructor: Jeremy Abrams
Office Location: Clark Hall 402F
Telephone: (408) 924-8335
Email: jeremy.abrams@sjsu.edu
Twitter: @uspolisci
Office Hours: Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10:30 – 11:30am, Wednesdays 12:00pm – 1:00pm, and by appointment
Class Days/Time: Tuesdays and Thursdays, 9:00 – 10:15am
Classroom: WSQ 207
GE/SJSU Studies Category: US2, US3, D3

Contacting me: I will be available through a number of different channels. The best method will be via email at jeremy.abrams@sjsu.edu as I check that throughout the day. I will always do my best to respond promptly. During the week I will usually respond within 24 hours, though often much quicker than that. When you send me an email, please put your class section information (eg. ‘US Gov Sec. #4 12:00pm’) in the Subject: field. I teach several classes with many students and I need to know to which class you are referring. You may also leave me a voice mail at the number listed above, though I check it less frequently than email.

Course Description

From the SJSU Catalog: Treatment of essentials of U.S. and California government. Satisfies the American Institutions requirements in U.S. Constitution (US2) and California Government (US3), and the Core GE requirement in Social Sciences: Social Issues (D3). GE Area: D3, and American Institution Requirement: US2 and US3

This course is an introduction to United States national government. The course is designed to introduce students to the constitutional basis, institutions, politics and processes of United States government. Although the primary focus of this course is on modern United States government, in order to understand contemporary events it is essential to examine their historical antecedents and evolution. Thus, this course will begin by exploring the origins and early development of the Constitution and how it influenced the development of American democracy. From there we will see how the Constitution has affected our understanding of rights and liberties over time. After that we will learn about the three branches of our government, and examine how they operate in our current understanding of democracy and rights. Finally, we will explore how the citizenry can exert their influence on the political process.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. GELO 1 (US2) Explain how political decisions are made, their consequences for individuals and society, and how individuals and groups may affect the decision-making process. Analyze the meaning and content of the democratic process as it has evolved in the United States and California, describe the foundations of the political system, the links between the people and government and the operations of California government.

2. GELO 2 (US3) Identify the tools of political action and collective decision-making at the local, state, national, and global level and articulate the values and assumptions that inform their civic engagement.

3. GELO 3 (D3): Place contemporary developments in cultural, historical, environmental, and spatial contexts.

4. GELO 4 (D3): Identify the dynamics of ethnic, cultural, gender/sexual, age-based, class, regional, national, transnational, and global identities and the similarities, differences, linkages, and interactions between them.

5. GELO 5 (D3): Evaluate social science information, draw on different points of view, and formulate applications appropriate to contemporary social issues.

6. GELO 6 (D3): Apply multidisciplinary material to a topic relevant to policy and social action at the local, national, and/or international levels.

Assessment of these outcomes will be measured as follows:

GELO 1: Outline, Quizzes, Final Exam
GELO 2: Discussion Board 1, Quizzes, Final Exam
GELO 3: Quizzes, Final Exam
GELO 4 Quizzes, Final Exam
GELO 5: Discussion Board 2, Quizzes, Final Exam
GELO 6: Discussion Board 2, Quizzes, Final Exam

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon completion of this course the student (you) will be able to:

1. explain the Constitutional institutions, structure, processes, and functions of government set up by the US Constitution and the California constitution, and explain how those institutions historically evolved.

2. define, cite and analyze: The Bill of Rights, The 1st ten amendments and the compromises of 1787, Famous Supreme court decisions vis a vis the Bill of Rights, How Judges Make Law, Judicial Activism versus judicial restraint, The clash between individual rights and the rights of the community.

3. Students will be able to differentiate between civil rights and liberties; define each and evaluate American democracy in its protection of and expansion of the rights. Recognize the significance of the the 14th Amendment as an augmentation to the Bill of Rights. Discuss and analyze how rights have impacted minorities and women, namely, African Americans, Latinos, Asian Americans, Native American, women, the elderly, the disabled.

4. Students will be able to define federalism, identify the major Supreme Court decisions the have contributed to its evolution, contrast the powers of the national government with those of the states, recognize and explain the role of the states in modern federalism and discuss the operation of and institutions of California's state and local government vis a vis the national government and discuss supremacy.

5. Students will be able to define and discuss the functions of: Interest Groups, PACS, political parties, the media, and other organizations in both national and state government.

6. Students will be able to define and analyze the relationship between the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial branches of government at the national, state and local levels, with an emphasis on the concepts of separation of powers, checks and balance, and judicial review.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook

Other Readings

There will be additional handouts provided by the instructor during the course of the semester which will be available on Canvas. Many of them will be optional. Those that appear with the title of ‘REQUIRED’ in the Modules section of Canvas should be read before that topic is covered.

Wireless laptop/tablet/smart phone is required in class

You will be required to have a wireless-network ready laptop computer, tablet, or smart phone to participate in online class quizzes. If you don’t own a laptop or tablet, you can rent one at no cost from Student Computing Services (https://library.sjsu.edu/scs).

You will also need access to the internet outside classroom to complete readings from Canvas, complete online homework assignments, upload assignments, and access syllabus, announcements, and course updates on Canvas. Computer access is available in the campus library and in Clark Hall 102.
Course Requirements and Assignments

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus. More details can be found from University Syllabus Policy S16-9 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S16-9.pdf and at Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs’ Syllabus Information web page at http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/

Your grade will be determined by (1) 10 (of 12) quizzes worth 10 points each, (2) an outline of the Constitution worth 20 points, (3) one paper on a problem associated with majority rule, worth 30 points, (4) one Canvas Discussion Board projects worth 50 points that will concern how the Constitution may be interpreted, and (5) a final exam worth 100 points. The deadlines are listed in the schedule at the end of the syllabus. These assignments are each given a specific point value. They are only ‘weighted’ in terms of how many points they are worth in your overall grade. Please see the section on ‘Grading Information and Policy’ below for more details on calculating your grade. All quizzes will be taken in class through Canvas so you must have an internet capable device with you. These quizzes will be on the readings due for that week, so you must have read the material prior to class. I will give you details and instructions on how to take the quizzes in class. See the section on ‘Grading Information and Policy’ below for more details on grading.

The quizzes and final are designed to measure your understanding of basic concepts and Course Learning Outcomes related to American government and political science as listed above. As such, the exams will draw on materials from the books as well as class discussions and additional readings available on Canvas. The writing and discussion board assignments will delve deeper into key concepts that require more thoughtful treatment and reflection on the part of the student to understand some of the core problems the founders faced when the Constitution was written. Taken together they will help you, at the completion of the course, to better understand how political decisions are made and major obstacles to policy development. The deadlines for these assignments are listed in the course schedule below.

Course materials such as assignments and instructions, syllabus, handouts, notes, etc. can be found on the Canvas learning management system course website. You will need to be familiar with a computer, web navigation, e-mail and the Canvas system since your assignments and a number of readings are online. Your assignments will be submitted to me through Canvas. Do not e-mail me your assignments as an attachment. Due to the potential for computer viruses, I will not open nor accept any assignments sent via e-mail. They will be deleted. Please save your files in Word or PDF format and upload it to Canvas. You are responsible for knowing how to submit assignments through Canvas. You are responsible for regularly checking your email and with the messaging system through MySJSU to learn of any updates.

NOTE that University policy F15-12 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F15-12.pdf states that “Students are expected to attend all meetings for the courses in which they are enrolled as they are responsible for material discussed therein, and active participation is frequently essential to ensure maximum benefit to all class members. In some cases, attendance is fundamental to course objectives; for example, students may be required to interact with others in the class. Attendance is the responsibility of the student.”

In a course that examines American politics and government discussions are very important. You will be better able to learn from these discussions by having a command of current events. Please keep up-to-date with national and world events by reading daily newspapers and listening to the news. I anticipate spending time in many classes discussing current political events and linking them to theories and ideas discussed in the course.
Final Examination

The final exam is scheduled for Thursday, December 13 from 7:15 – 9:30am in WSQ 207. Final exams may not be taken early. Please plan your travels accordingly. The final exam in this course will be cumulative and will cover course readings, lectures, activities, and discussions for the entire term. It will consist of short answer, multiple choice and other questions. You will need to bring a blue SJSU T&E 200 form and writing instruments. There will be multiple choice questions and short answer questions. The exact composition will be discussed in class.

Grading Information and Policy

There is a possible total of 300 points. Your final grade will be determined by your total accumulation of points as follows:

Below 180 points is a failing grade. The will be no extra credit available. Please note that you must take all exams and turn in all assignments to pass the course. In addition, I will not give make ups for any of the quizzes. It is your responsibility to make sure you are available to take the quizzes. If you know you will be gone in advance (for university related or other excusable reasons) you must consult with me beforehand so that you can make arrangements to take the quizzes at another time. Late papers will be penalized one point per calendar day. All assignments are due by the beginning of class on their due date. Please retain ALL of your exams, papers, and other assessments until after you have completed the course and received your grade.

Note that “All students have the right, within a reasonable time, to know their academic scores, to review their grade-dependent work, and to be provided with explanations for the determination of their course grades.” See University Policy F13-1 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F13-1.pdf for more details.

Classroom Protocol

E-mail: Each student must have an e-mail address which they check regularly. Please make sure you have updated your records in MySJSU. You must monitor your account on a regular basis. When I send out classwide messages it will be to this account. Failure to monitor this account may result in you missing important messages such as class cancellations, change of exam dates, and requests for timely information.

Attendance: Attendance will not be graded. However, the lectures will address some themes presented in the course readings, as well as additional information that you will not find in the readings but which you will be expected to know for exams. It is your responsibility as a student to be in class on time. Further, it is common sense that by not attending regularly, you will miss important lectures, clarifications, handouts, scintillating discussions and brilliant insights from your instructor and fellow students.

Quizzes: There will be one quiz per chapter that will be administered in class through Canvas. All quizzes will be taken in class through Canvas so you must have an internet capable device with you. These quizzes will cover class discussions and the readings for that chapter, so you must have read the chapter prior to class. I will give you details on when and how to take the quizzes in the first week of class. There will be 12 quizzes during the semester, of which I will drop the lowest two scores. Because I will drop the lowest two quiz scores, there will be no makeup quizzes. It is your responsibility to attend class to take the quizzes when they are open.

A Note On Scantron Forms: For the multiple choice portion of the final exam you will need to record your answers on a blue SJSU T&E 200 answer form. Please ensure that you have one with you for the exam. It is distruptive at the exam to ask other students for a form, or to run out and purchase one and then come back.
When filling in your answers you must you a pencil, as the scanner cannot read pen. Further, these forms are fed through a scanner at high speeds which then produces a report. Scantrons that are folded, crinkled, bent, or otherwise deformed can get caught in the scanner, require further attention and unnecessarily delay the grading process. There is no reason for this to happen. These forms are used to assess your performance and are no different than other documents that you submit in class or outside the university. You would not file a pleading with a court that you had folded in your pocket, nor would you submit a business proposal to another company that had water or food damage on it. You are responsible for submitting answer sheets that are clean and ready for processing. ALSO, you must bubble in both your name (last name first) and student number. If you do not know your student number, you have until the first exam to figure it out. Grade reports that show an exam score without identifying information will most likely be ignored. Exams that do not meet the above criteria will not be graded.

Academic Freedom: Each student is strongly encouraged to participate in class discussions. In any classroom situation that includes discussion and critical writing, particularly about political ideas, there are bound to be many differing viewpoints. Students may not only disagree with each other at times, but the students and the professor may also find that they have conflicting views on sensitive and volatile topics. It is my hope that these differences will enhance class discussion and create an atmosphere in which students and professor alike will be encouraged to think and learn. Therefore, be assured that students' grades will not be adversely affected by any beliefs or ideas expressed in class or in assignments. Rather, we will all respect the views of others when expressed in classroom discussions.

Electronics: I allow the use of computers for taking notes, though it is not the best way to take notes http://www.scientificamerican.com/article/a-learning-secret-don-t-take-notes-with-a-laptop/ . Other electronic devices are not allowed and must be put away. Serious students often complain of the distraction caused by their fellow students’ web browsing, IMing (if that is a verb) or who are otherwise preoccupied by electronics in class. We have a limited amount of time together during the semester and we should maximize the utility of that time. Please respect the class and your classmates and do not use these devices during class.

Recording and Instructor materials policy: Recording of any portion of the class is prohibited unless permission is received from the instructor prior to class. Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that students obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for private, study purposes only. Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval.
Students may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.

SJSU Writing Center: The SJSU Writing Center is located in Clark Hall, Suite 126. All Writing Specialists have gone through a rigorous hiring process, and they are well trained to assist all students at all levels within all disciplines to become better writers. In addition to one-on-one tutoring services, the Writing Center also offers workshops every semester on a variety of writing topics. To make an appointment or to refer to the numerous online resources offered through the Writing Center, visit the Writing Center website: http://www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter. For additional resources and updated information, follow the Writing Center on Twitter and become a fan of the SJSU Writing Center on Facebook.

Peer Connections Counseling: Peer Connections, a campus-wide resource for mentoring and tutoring, strives to inspire students to develop their potential as independent learners while they learn to successfully navigate through their university experience. You are encouraged to take advantage of their services which include course-content based tutoring, enhanced study and time management skills, more effective critical thinking strategies, decision making and problem-solving abilities, and campus resource referrals.

In addition to offering small group, individual, and drop-in tutoring for a number of undergraduate courses, consultation with mentors is available on a drop-in or by appointment basis. Workshops are offered on a wide variety of topics including preparing for the Writing Skills Test (WST), improving your learning and memory, alleviating procrastination, surviving your first semester at SJSU, and other related topics. A computer lab and study space are also available for student use in Room 600 of Student Services Center (SSC).

Peer Connections is located in three locations: SSC, Room 600 (10th Street Garage on the corner of 10th and San Fernando Street), at the 1st floor entrance of Clark Hall, and in the Living Learning Center (LLC) in Campus Village Housing Building B. Visit Peer Connections website at http://peerconnections.sjsu.edu for more information.

Political Science Scholarships – see http://www.sjsu.edu/polisci/scholarships/ for info. From the website: “The Political Science Department is fortunate to be able to award more than 10 scholarships to our students each year–this is an extraordinary level of support that surpasses what any other department on campus can offer. The scholarships were created by generous benefactors–often former faculty, students, and friends of the department—who desired to ease the financial burden on our students as they seek to earn their degrees in Political Science. The department encourages all of our students to apply for one or more of these awards.”
