Taxation! How to follow principles of good tax policy as a college student & in our communities

Annette Nellen's research focuses on tax policy and reform, and addresses both federal, California and multistate tax matters. She focuses on how to help tax systems follow principles of good tax policy and to address the ways people live and do business today. She presents on tax issues relevant to students, our communities and women in the tax field. Annette is a professor in SJSU’s College of Business and is the director of the MS Taxation program. She is an author and editor of the Southwestern Federal Taxation textbook series and vice chair (chair elect) of the AICPA’s Tax Executive Committee.

PLEASE VISIT THE USS WEBSITE AT: LIBRARY.SJSU.EDU/USS