Canvas – ALL assignments are assigned and turned into Canvas. You must be able to upload .doc or pdf documents.

Logging Into Canvas
Canvas Login URL: https://sjsu.instructure.com/. Please note that it should NOT have the "www" at the start of the URL like many other websites. All students must first set up their SJSUOne account before accessing Canvas. To do so, go to http://its.sjsu.edu/services/sjsuone/. The Username for Canvas then is your 9 digit SID and your password is the one you chose when you established your SJSUOne account. You will see the courses you are taking (assuming the instructor is using Canvas).

Further Assistance with Canvas
Students should go first to http://guides.instructure.com/m/4212 with problems and then to the University Help Desk for Canvas problems, including logging in (http://www.sjsu.edu/helpdesk/).

Course Description
This course is designed to introduce you to some of the major topics in clinical psychology. This course will help you begin to appreciate the complexity of thought, feelings and behavior through an examination of what can happen when these processes become dysfunctional. We will look at historical theories as well as new research and findings. Emphasis will be placed on psychological, biological, and environmental factors that interact to create symptoms and behaviors associated with specific disorders. Students are encouraged to think critically about stigmas and labels associated with the mentally ill. Societal and cultural norms influence what is considered “abnormal”; however, psychologists strive to empirically arrive at diagnostic criteria, etiology, prognosis, and treatments of mental disorders. Since many behaviors and symptoms we will address may seem familiar (e.g., checking to see if you locked your door 5x), you are forewarned NOT to self-diagnose. By the end of the course, you should be more sensitive to issues pertaining to psychological dysfunction, and more knowledgeable about the industry of mental illness and in modern America and its impact on individuals and society.

Classroom Protocol

Syllabus Policy:
The course syllabus presented in this document will be followed as closely as possible. However, the course syllabus, schedule, policies, and procedures are subject to change at the discretion of the instructor or in the event of extenuating circumstances. This includes the tentative dates listed. The instructor will announce possible changes of the syllabus in advance. Since such announcements are typically made during class, it is the student’s responsibility to clarify any of these changes that may have been made when the student is absent.

Although you will be responsible for all of the material in the assigned readings, some of the information may not be covered in class. Therefore, if there is material that is unclear to you it is highly recommended that you discuss this material with me at an appropriate time (e.g., during office hours). It is your responsibility to read the syllabus and ask questions about it so that you have a clear understanding of the expectations. If you are unclear about any of the requirements/expectations, then please set up a time to speak with me. I will be grading as though you have a clear understanding of the course requirements and material.

Attendance:
I will not be taking attendance. You are adults and need to make your own decisions. Please realize that your decisions have consequences (If this makes no sense to you then you need to enroll in Psychology 155 Human Learning, because you will understand through operant conditioning that behaviors have consequences!). Students are responsible for everything that is said and done in class. I strive to make my classes not only educational but also enjoyable. It is important to note that it is the student’s responsibility to withdraw from a course they do not wish to take. If you simply stop coming to the class and do not withdraw from the course, then you will still receive a grade that will be based on the completed work. Additionally, I encourage students to arrive on time for the class. However, I understand that extenuating circumstances do arise that can prevent your diligent efforts toward punctuality. If you are late to class, please take a seat in the row of desks/seats closest to the door in order to prevent disruption to the class. I hope you will take advantage of this policy only when absolutely necessary. I do have a small portion of your grade based on participation, tardiness affects participation. Many important pieces of information are discussed in class, and students are responsible for knowing and complying with this information including changes in assignments. Please make appropriate adjustments to your schedule to allow for arrival to the class on time (e.g., arriving early to avoid traffic/parking problems).

Classroom courtesy and disruptions:
Class disruptions are not tolerated. Students will be asked to leave if they are being disruptive to fellow students or the professor. Disruptions include but are not limited to cell phones going off for any reason (even accidental), TEXTING (yes, I still see it if you hold the phone under your desk during class!), talking when not participating in an instructor-assigned activity, and not paying attention (e.g., reading the newspaper, sleeping). In accordance with university policies on student conduct, it is expected that you will treat other students and the instructor with courtesy and respect. Being on the phone and texting ARE ACTIVITIES THAT ARE NOT RESPECTFUL! Additionally, this class is conducted where you have wireless Internet access, please do not “surf” the web. See Electronics Policy.

Cell phone policy:
ABSOLUTELY NO CELL PHONE USAGE IN CLASS! Please keep cell phones stored away in backpacks/bags throughout the class. Students will be asked to leave the classroom if seen using cellphones.

Electronics Policy:
Many students utilize their laptops and tablets to take notes during class. If you have your laptop open during class, it can only be for note taking during lecture. If you use your computer in any other way (i.e. web surfing), than there will be a no electronics rule for the entire class for the remainder of the semester. If you are expecting an urgent call you must notify the instructor before class, and then take your call outside of class without interruption to the classroom. If you are found using your cell phone in class you will lose participation points, if there are more than 5 incidents throughout the semester of people using their electronics inappropriately in the classroom than the entire class will start losing participation points. Notifications will go out via email to inform the class of violations of this policy.

Research shows that Websurfing/texting during class directly lowers your grade (and disrupts those around you). Go to:
http://chronicle.com/blogs/wiredcampus/students-stop-surfing-after-being-shown-how-in-class-laptop-use-lowers-test-scores/4576

Recording of Class Lectures:
Common courtesy and professional behavior dictates that you notify someone when you are recording him/her. You must obtain the instructor’s permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. This permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.

Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without his/her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor-generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.
Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic calendar web page located at http://www.sjsu.edu/academic_programs/calendars/academic_calendar/. The Late Drop Policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.

Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/.

EXAMS:

Exams will be multiple-choice. The tests will have questions from the text, lectures and videos. Each exam will be given during the lecture period, and you will have the class period to complete the exam. Students will not be allowed to use the restroom during the exam period and cell phone use during a test, or test review, will result in referral to Judicial Affairs and receive a course grade of F/NC.

Make-up exams will be given ONLY when there is a documented excuse that must be approved by the professor (medical notes, etc.). A make-up exam will not be the same multiple-choice exam that is given in class. The make-up exam will consist of 5 to 8 essay questions on topics covered in the textbook and lecture, and it will be worth the same point value as the original exam.

Quizzes: Complete the assigned quizzes on Canvas. You have to complete a quiz for each of the chapters on the syllabus. There is a time-limit of 15 minutes; once you start you have 15 minutes to complete. No starts and stops and coming back hours or days later. There are NO MAKE-UPS on quizzes (NO EXCEPTIONS). You must do them during the time period they are assigned. Check Canvas for assigned times. You will take 10 quizzes throughout the semester and each quiz is worth 5 points for a total of 50 quiz points for the semester.

Fictional Character Analysis and Treatment: Select a film, television show or novel that you enjoy and select your favorite character. (do NOT choose movies with obvious diagnosis, such as A Beautiful Mind, One Flew Over the Cuckoo’s Nest, American Psycho, Secret Window, etc.). Pick something you enjoy. Reviews must be no greater than six typewritten pages of text and include Parts A, B & C as described below. A rubrics will be provided during the semester. Papers will include a cover page and at least five (5) references.

Part A: Clinical Assessment. This section of the paper focus is from Chapter three of your text. Why are they coming into therapy? It may help to narrow your description to how this person acts in a certain situation or a specific aspect of their psychopathology. You will be conducting a clinical interview on your character. This part should be a strictly descriptive, without any interpretation. That is, describe what this person does, says or feels, not why that is. At the end of this section, a DSM Multi-Axial Assessment should be given. Use imagination and creativity (Assessment, use chapter 3).

Part B: Support the diagnosis. Go back over the description in the first part and provide empirical evidence for this psychopathology. The DSM-IV lists disorders and gives a list of symptoms. In this section, discuss the disorder’s etiology, clinical presentation and prognosis. Students need to describe the symptoms of the disorder and provide behaviors of the character that support the diagnosis. (Diagnosis, should use text and focus on chapters that cover the diagnosis area)

Part C: How would you treat this person? You should use an empirically supported treatment, then you can come up with a theory of treatment if you like. State your opinions and the reasons behind them. DO NOT USE “I” STATEMENTS. This is your opportunity to have a voice; there are no wrong opinions. Just be sure to provide the reasons for what you think so that the reader can understand your thinking. (Your thoughts)

Online and in-person (hard copy) submissions

You must turn in your assignments in two ways: (1) in person, printed copy of the completed paper; and (2) online upload on Canvas. This is a plagiarism detection and originality analysis system. You will receive feedback about the amount of copying you may have done in your paper before you turn in your final version. You can still correct any mistakes or plagiarism based on this feedback BEFORE you turn in your final paper by the deadline. Once the deadline has arrived, the last version uploaded will be your final paper. The following file types are compatible with the online process: MS Word, WordPerfect, PostScript, Acrobat PDF, HTML, RTF, and Plain Text. If you plagiarize your paper it will be detected here. Plagiarism will result in a failure in the course and possible dismissal from the university. I assume that you have completed the plagiarism (tutorial available here: http://tutorials.sjlibrary.org/tutorial/plagiarism/index.htm ) by the time you have taken this class. If not, please do so as it will help you avoid making costly mistakes.

Structure for Assignments

1. Your papers need be organized - you should be developing a central idea in each section and the reader should be able to follow the logic of your argument. Each paragraph should have a coherent theme and paragraphs should follow each other in an organized manner. Read over your papers to be sure that there is a logical order to them.

2. Watch for grammatical errors, particularly sentence fragments and run-on sentences.
   More than five spelling or grammatical errors will result in points deducted from final grades. More than ten will result in a zero (0). I encourage you to have your paper proof read.

3. Your papers will be typewritten, double-spaced, one-inch margins, using Times New Roman (or VERY similar) font.
4. On a sheet attached to the front of all your papers, type the Title of your paper. In addition you must include Name, Course, Course Number, Semester/Year, and Due Date.

5. Citations/references included in your paper are to be done according to APA style as described in the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, 4th Edition, which is available in the library, the campus bookstore, and on-line.

Instances of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person’s ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include your assignment or any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU’s Academic Policy S07-2 requires approval of instructors.
