Course Description:

“Overview of common child and adolescent psychological disorders and developmental psychopathology addressing issues such as ethnicity, SES and gender differences throughout; The course focuses on DSM5 classifications, adaptive and maladaptive behaviors, risk and protective factors within the child, family and environment and developmental models.”

Course Content Learning Objectives:

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:
• LO1: Students will be aware of the special features associated with the presentation of psychological disorders in children and adolescents (e.g. the concerns regarding the child are presented through the lenses of the adult making the referral; some childhood problems take time to gradually unfold, etc.).

• LO2: Students will become aware of the impact of ethno-cultural beliefs, values, and practices on the conceptualization and expression of behavioral disorders in children, as well as of the impact of poverty and economic disadvantage on the well-being of children and adolescents.

• LO3: Students will be able to identify the types of information needed to be collected and assessed in order to make a diagnosis.

• LO4: Students will be familiar with the DSM-5 criteria for diagnosis of the major childhood psychological disorders, and will be able to provide diagnosis and differential diagnosis for hypothetical vignette cases.

• LO5: Students will understand the complexity associated with issues of etiology, and will be familiar with the current status of the major etiological models and the interactions among them.

• LO6: Students will be familiar with criteria that distinguish variations of normal development from deviations from normal development, as they apply to the understanding of childhood disorders.

GE Learning Objectives:

The GE Writing Requirement is met through the weekly writing assignments that are posted on the instructor’s website.

GE learning Outcomes

Upon the completion of this course students should be able to demonstrate

- GELO 1 A broad understanding of issues related to the social sciences

- The examination of the multiple explanations provided to the questions
- The exploration of yet unknown issues waiting for future research
• Measurement of the course learning outcomes will be achieved via analysis of clinical vignettes for each disorder, midterms, and a cumulative final exam.

Textbook (required):
Cengage Learning.

The book has a companion website for students that give you quizzes, flashcards, and other resources. Log in to Cengage Learning, go to the book and click on Student Resources.
Faculty Web Page and MYSJSU Messaging

Copies of the course materials such as the syllabus, chapter lecture notes, major assignment or handouts and study guides are posted on my faculty web page at http://www.sjsu.edu/people/naomi.wagner/

You are responsible for regularly checking with the messaging system through MySJSU (or other communication system as indicated by the instructor).

Classroom Protocol:

This course is based on the active participation of the student, and the main requirement is READING and ATTENDANCE. You are expected to read the assigned materials before class, so that the teacher can elaborate and expand. Because of time constraints it may not be impossible to cover all the segments of a given unit. However, you are responsible for all the assigned reading, as the exams will include questions from ALL the parts of the unit. We will cover one chapter per week, and follow the sequence of the textbook, chapter-by-chapter. Some parts of the chapters will be skipped, please see reading list below.

Review sessions: Approximately every two weeks we will have review session for the previously studied material. We will divide into groups, led by students. Your participation is highly encouraged.

The best way to contact me is via e-mail. In the subject line please specify the title of the class. If you leave a phone message, speak slowly and clearly, and when you leave a phone number speak VERY clearly, and repeat the number.

Attendance:

Your regular attendance and participation are factors contributing to the successful completion of this course. If you do not attend class you will miss on the opportunity to ask questions and to get clarifications. In addition, please make all effort to come to class on time. Tardiness disturbs the instructor and other students, and also deprives you of the short reviews of the previous lecture that are presented at the beginning of each class.

If you hold a full time job, please make all effort to attend class regularly, and to study each night for at least an hour and a half. Cramming before the test has not been very effective for most students. As you read, take notes and go over the material that has been discussed in class, pay attention to concepts, and examples of these concepts. Be familiar with important studies. Chapter summaries are posted on my website (see address above).

NOTE that University policy F69-24, “Students should attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to insure maximum benefit for all members of the class. Attendance per se shall not be used as a criterion for grading.”
Definition of a Credit Hour
Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of forty-five hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

As an example, the expectation of work for a 3-credit course is 150-minutes of direct faculty instruction and six hours of out-of-class student work each week.

Distractions:
You cannot surf the Internet, text-message, check your messages or respond to cell-phone during class.

Teacher Availability:
Do not hesitate to e-mail me or to come by with questions. If you have not done so well on any of the tests, please come to see me ASAP, in order to go over test questions that you missed, so we can understand how you interpreted the questions, and devise strategies for doing better on the next test.

Dropping and Adding:
Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drops, academic renewal, etc. Information on add/drops are available at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/soc-fall/rec-298.html. Information about late drop is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/sac/advising/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for adding and dropping classes.

Assignments and Grading Policy

Extra Credit:
Please note that I do not give extra-credits. You mastery of the subject matter as measured on the exams is the factor that counts.

Assignments: Weekly homework consists of the assigned reading, and responding to the Learning Assignments that are posted on the Instructor’s website. These assignments are designed to enable the student to process the information more efficiently and to retain it better. They cover main concepts and issues related to these concepts.

Exams:
We will have 3 midterms and a final. Each midterm will consist of 50 multiple-choice questions. Each question is worth 2 points. The questions are factual (specific information), conceptual (assigning a concept to a scenario), and applied (use the information to offer solution to a problem). Each midterm will cover about 3 to 4 chapters. Please bring a scantron (#882) and a pencil. The final will include 100 multiple-choice questions and will be selectively cumulative; that is, it will cover the central themes for each topic studied (you will receive a study guide).

The grading scale:
A+  96-100

Cheating on exams or plagiarism (presenting the work of another as your own, or the use of another person’s ideas without giving proper credit) will result in a failing grade and sanctions by the University. For this class, all assignments are to be completed by the individual student unless otherwise specified. If you would like to include in your assignment any material you have submitted, or plan to submit for another class, please note that SJSU’s Academic Policy F06-1 requires approval of instructors.
