FACULTY LOAN PERIOD

1. Faculty loan regulations are designed to encourage the faculty in research and teaching. The only restriction placed on the faculty in this regard is "fair use" concerning requests by others for needed books.

2. The faculty will not be charged fines on overdue material.

3. Part-time teachers, teaching assistants and graduate assistants, who are issued faculty identification cards, will be treated as faculty members in regard to library privileges.

4. Any book or other library material charged to a faculty member which is needed by another student or faculty member, or is needed for reserve use, will be recalled.
5. The Circulation Department of the Library will notify faculty members, merely as a reminder, at least once each semester of books charged to them.

6. At the end of each semester all books must be returned. Individual departments will be responsible for forwarding notices to their faculty or staff members who are not on campus after the semester. Those books needed by faculty for the Summer Session or for research may be renewed.

7. The families of the faculty may use the Library by applying for a special card at the Circulation Desk. They will be expected to observe the same rules and regulations as apply to courtesy borrowers.
