COURSE DESCRIPTION
The purpose of this course is to help students become confident and effective writers. Students will develop skills essential for any writer, but we will focus specifically on sociological writing conventions and applications. We will examine and implement rhetorical strategies that are appropriate for specific purposes and audiences through a series of formal writing assignments. In addition to these formal assignments, our class will be organized around continuous informal writing assignments, some completed in class and others outside of class.

Our objective will be continuous improvement of writing skills, which will involve regular reflection on the writing process (through informal assignments, discussions, and completion of multiple drafts) and reliance on one another to provide and evaluate models of writing (through discussions, group activities, and peer review).

REQUIRED READINGS

Other readings to be posted on Canvas

CLASSROOM PROTOCOL

Our class time will take a variety of formats, including lecture, large group discussion, small group discussion, and in-class exercises. I encourage you to ask questions during lectures. Because most of our time together will be interactive, your participation will be essential.
In order to make our class discussions and activities successful, you should complete all required readings and homework assignments before each class period, and bring these readings to class with you. To facilitate your respectful, engaged listening and active participation, cell phones, laptops, and other electronic devices must be turned off and put away during class time.

ASSIGNMENTS

Homework Assignments

I will regularly assign homework. These will be opportunities for you to practice writing and build writing skills in a low-pressure format. I have listed some, but not all, of these homework assignments on the course schedule. I will announce homework assignments in class, and you can check the Canvas website for detailed homework instructions.

Please note: you will have a “free pass” for one of the homework assignments, but I will not accept homework assignments that are submitted late or outside of class.

Sociological Imagination Essay

Your first formal writing assignment will be an essay (approximately 1000 words) applying C. Wright Mills’s concept of “the sociological imagination” to some aspect of your life.

Resume, Cover Letter, and Job Interview

As part of the course’s focus on professionalization, you will prepare a resume and cover letter (approximately 500 words). In class, you will participate in mock job interviews as an interviewee and interviewer.

Public Sociology Blog

You will write a blog entry addressing a pressing social issue to a public audience (approximately 750 words).

Library Research Paper

Your major assignment for this class will be a research paper (approximately 2000 words) on a sociological topic of particular interest to you. You will complete this paper in several stages throughout the quarter, and it will go through multiple drafts before you turn in the final version (see the major steps/assignments below):

- Research proposal
- Annotated bibliography
- Outline
- Draft 1 (for peer review)
• Draft 2 (for graded feedback)
• Final draft (for final grade)

Research Presentation
Another aspect of your professionalization training in this course will be a presentation of the research you do for your final paper.

Participation
Our learning in this class will take part largely through discussion. Thus, your participation in class is vital to its success, as well as to the quality of your overall performance. Your participation grade will be based on the frequency and quality of your contributions to large group and small group discussions, as well as evidence of your completion of the readings and engagement with course themes. Excellent (A-level) participation involves:

• Excellent punctuality
• Respectful, engaged listening during lectures and discussions
• Frequent contributions to large and small group discussions
• Contributions that make specific reference to course materials
• Thoughtful completing of in-class activities

Late Assignment and Make-up Work Policy

Major Assignments: I will accept late papers for up to one week after the due date. Late papers will be marked down one full letter grade. They will also receive the lowest priority in terms of the amount of feedback and turnaround time. In order to be considered on-time, your paper must be submitted in class on the due date, or in class or office hours before the due date.

Homework: You may not turn in homework assignments late or through e-mail. You must be present in class on the due date in order to turn your homework assignments in; this is because the homework assignments are designed to facilitate in-class activities. You will receive one “free pass” for a missed homework assignment (no points deducted for missing), and I strongly suggest saving this for unforeseen circumstances that arise during the semester.

In-class Work: You may not make up work you miss in class.

What to Do if You’re Absent
If you are a student who has frequent absences, this will not be an appropriate course for you: you will need to attend class in order to get participation credit, submit homework, and learn material that is not presented in the course readings. However, I recognize that absences are sometimes unavoidable. If you miss a class, you should:

• Check with a classmate for notes about what you missed.
• Check Canvas to see if anything has been posted.
• Make arrangements to submit any major assignments to me early.

Please note that you will NOT be able to:
• Make up any homework assignments or in-class activities (you may miss one homework assignment with no grade penalty).
• Receive a review of missed materials from me.

If you have an ongoing issue that will require multiple absences, it’s important that you let me know as soon as possible and stay in touch with me.

Submitting Papers
Papers must be submitted to me in class or office hours. I do not accept e-mailed papers, and the Sociology office will not accept papers you try to turn in there. Some assignments will be submitted electronically (through Canvas); when this is the case, it will be specifically noted on the assignment instructions.

Paper Format
Format your major assignments according to the formatting guidelines Yellin establishes in Chpt. 2. Your papers must also follow ASA conventions for citations and references. All assignments must be typed and (when relevant) stapled. If you would like to receive credit for a handwritten homework assignment, you must show it to me before class (if you’re late for class, you will not get credit for your handwritten assignment). Pages may be double- or single-sided.

Formal assignments must include:
• Title page (be sure to include the word count)
• Completed, typed assignment cover page (which will be posted on Canvas)
• Previous drafts with completed peer-review sheets

Informal assignments (homework) should include a header at the top of the first page with:
• Your name
• SOCI 100W
• Dr. Bryant-Anderson
• Date
• Word count: this is an essential requirement for passing the class (see “workload and requirements” note below)
Workload and Requirements

You will spend a considerable amount of time writing and reading outside of class. You will have an assignment due almost every day. In order to satisfy the requirement for SJSU Studies area Z, you must write a minimum of 8,000 words in this class. This requirement will be met through the assignments listed above as well as the less formal assignments you complete in-class and as homework. Thus, it is essential that you complete all of the formal and informal assignments, include a word count on all assignments completed outside of class, and attend class each day to complete the in-class activities.

SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

GRADING

Your final course evaluation will be based on your performance on the above assignments. These assignments will be weighted as follows:

- Sociological Imagination Essay 10%
- Resume 5%
- Cover Letter 5%
- Public Sociology Blog 10%
- Final Research Paper 20%
- Research Paper Components 20%
  - Research Proposal 2%
  - Annotated Bibliography 6%
  - Outline 2%
  - Draft 10%
- Homework 15%
- In-Class Activities & Participation 10%
- Oral Presentation 5%
Final course grades will be assigned based on the following scale; grades below 60% will be considered failing (“F”):

- A+ = 98 – 100%
- A  = 92 – 97.9%
- A- = 90 – 91.9%
- B+ = 88 – 89.9%
- B  = 82 – 87.9%
- B- = 80 – 81.9%
- C+ = 78 – 79.9%
- C  = 72 – 77.9%
- C- = 70 – 71.9%
- D+ = 68 – 69.9%
- D  = 62 – 67.9%
- D- = 60 – 61.9%

Passing 100W

The grading scale for 100W courses is A-F. In order to pass the course, students must write a minimum of 8,000 words and receive an overall grade of C or better (a C- is not a passing grade).

A Grades

Grades in the A range will be granted only for exceptional work. Exceptional, or A, work refers to exemplary work that goes above and beyond basic requirements, demonstrating critical thinking, clarity, and sophistication in form (e.g., language use, structure, format) as well as substance (e.g., logically developed arguments, use of appropriate examples). This is work that could serve as a model for other students. To receive an A as a course grade, the student must write 8,000 words or more over the semester.

B Grades

Grades in the B range are earned with work submitted on time that is of good quality. B work meets all the requirements and involves clear, coherent, carefully edited writing; for oral presentations, it involves executing a clear, informative, and engaging presentation. The work has a clear purpose and appropriate development, but may lack in originality or insightfulness. Written work demonstrates careful editing and a solid grasp on grammar and mechanics. To receive a B as a course grade, the student must write 8,000 words or more over the semester.

C Grades

Grades in the C range are earned with work submitted on time that fulfills basic requirements and is of satisfactory quality. This work is competent: the author establishes a purpose and supporting ideas, but argument may be somewhat vague, unclear, or uneven. There may be structural issues and problems with the clarity of prose and incorrect use of grammar. To receive a C as a course grade, the student must write 8,000 words or more over the semester.

Grade Checks

In general, you should keep track of your own grade by keeping your returned assignments, noting the scores, and using the course grading breakdown listed above. If you need formal verification of your grade (for paperwork associated with a scholarship, student organization, etc.), you should e-mail me at least 24 hours ahead of time. If you ask me in class with no advance notice, I will not be able to provide a grade estimate for you.

UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

General Expectations, Rights and Responsibilities of the Student

As members of the academic community, students accept both the rights and responsibilities incumbent upon all members of the institution. Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with SJSU’s policies and practices pertaining to the procedures to follow if and when questions or concerns about a class arises. See University Policy S90–5 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S90-5.pdf. More detailed information on a variety of related topics is available in the SJSU catalog, at http://info.sjsu.edu/web-dbgen/narr/catalog/rec-12234.12506.html. In general, it is recommended that students begin by seeking clarification or discussing concerns with their instructor. If such conversation is not possible, or if it does not serve to address the issue, it is recommended that the student contact the Department Chair as a next step.

Dropping and Adding

Students are responsible for understanding the policies and procedures about add/drop, grade forgiveness, etc. Refer to the current semester’s Catalog Policies section at http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html. Add/drop deadlines can be found on the current academic year calendars document on the Academic Calendars webpage at http://www.sjsu.edu/provost/services/academic_calendars/. The Late Drop Policy is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/aars/policies/latedrops/policy/. Students should be aware of the current deadlines and penalties for dropping classes.

Information about the latest changes and news is available at the Advising Hub at http://www.sjsu.edu/advising/.

Consent for Recording of Class and Public Sharing of Instructor Material

University Policy S12-7 requires students to obtain instructor’s permission to record the course. Common courtesy and professional behavior dictate that you notify someone when you are recording her/him. You must obtain the instructor’s written permission to make audio or video recordings in this class. Such permission allows the recordings to be used for your private, study purposes only. The recordings are the intellectual property of the instructor; you have not been given any rights to reproduce or distribute the material.

Course material developed by the instructor is the intellectual property of the instructor and cannot be shared publicly without her approval. You may not publicly share or upload instructor generated material for this course such as exam questions, lecture notes, or homework solutions without instructor consent.

Academic integrity

Your commitment, as a student, to learning is evidenced by your enrollment at San Jose State University. The University Academic Integrity Policy S07-2 requires you to be honest in all your academic course work. Faculty members are required to report all infractions to the office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. The Student Conduct and Ethical Development website is available at http://www.sjsu.edu/studentconduct/.

Campus Policy in Compliance with the American Disabilities Act

Presidential Directive 97-03 at http://www.sjsu.edu/president/docs/directives/PD_1997-03.pdf requires that students with disabilities requesting accommodations must register with the Accessible Education Center (AEC) at http://www.sjsu.edu/aec to establish a record of their disability.

Accommodation to Students’ Religious Holidays

San José State University shall provide accommodation on any graded class work or activities for students wishing to observe religious holidays when such observances require students to be absent from class. It is the responsibility of the student to inform the instructor, in writing, about such holidays before the add deadline at the start of each semester. If such holidays occur before the add deadline, the student must notify the instructor, in writing, at least three days before the date that he/she will be absent. It is the responsibility of the instructor to make every reasonable effort to honor the student request without penalty, and of the student to make up the work missed. See University Policy S14-7 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S14-7.pdf.
