Course Format
This course will be conducted as a seminar-style class, where discussions will require your active participation as we closely examine the course readings, lecture material, and documentary films. To enhance participation, some in-class activities will require the use of free clicker technology. Quizzes will be administered online through Canvas.

Faculty Web Page and MySJSU Messaging
Course materials such as syllabus, handouts, notes, assignment instructions, announcements, and quizzes, etc., can be found on the Canvas learning management system course website. You are responsible for regularly checking the Canvas messaging system via MySJSU and your email to learn of any updates. Please make sure that your email settings in Canvas are adjusted to receive class messages at your current email immediately after they are posted.

Course Description and Goals
The catalog description of Sociology 160: Examination of topics related to immigration and population movements. Includes the historical context of major migrations, legal, political and social issues and debates, opportunities, prejudices, immigrant communities, intergenerational tensions, and social and personal identity pressures.

Goals: We will study key theories, debates, and empirical examples related to immigration and identity, including examining racialization, prejudice, and discrimination against immigrants; media representations; various sites of inequality and privilege (e.g., generation, documentation status, gender); and identity negotiation. The course will focus mainly on contemporary immigration, with a focus on a case study of Salvadoran immigration and on how immigration is represented in news media. The themes described here are only a sampling of those relevant to this broad field, but they will be a starting point for your exploration of the subject. Throughout the course we will develop and exercise the skills necessary for critical examination of the field of immigration. In addition, your participation in the course will help you develop your skills in effective research, writing, and public communication.

Required Texts/Readings/Materials

Textbook

Available for purchase at the Spartan Bookstore and online. On hold at Library Course Reserves.

Other Readings
Available online through Canvas.

Other equipment/material requirements
Clicker Technology:
In this course, we will be using FREE clicker technology to collect student responses to questions posted in class. Points will be awarded based on participation and performance.

There are two options available to participate in clicker sessions. Clicker technology is FREE.

Please DO NOT BUY any clicker technologies.

1. Clicker Remote: You can request to borrow a Clicker remote from eCampus (eCampus@sjsu.edu) for free. Remotes are to be returned to eCampus at the end of the semester.
2. REEF Polling App: Allows you to use your smart phone, tablet, or laptop as a clicker to participate in class activities.
In order to participate in clicker activities and earn points you must set up the technology. Students are responsible for activating and properly registering their devices in order to participate and earn points throughout the semester.

Questions or issues about this technology should be sent to eCampus@sjsu.edu.

Course Requirements and Assignments
The class sessions will be a combination of discussion-oriented sessions, mini-lecture material, and documentary film analysis tied to the readings. There are a range of in-class activities and out-of-class assignments that will contribute to your successfully completing the course. If you choose not to turn in the assignments or if you miss several classes, you run the risk of not being able to pass the course with your desired grade. Your success in the class will be based on completing the following elements. I reserve the right to adjust the syllabus as needed, but I will always give you advance notice via class announcements and/or Canvas.

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally 3 hours per unit per week with 1 of the hours used for lecture) for instruction or preparation/studying or course related activities including but not limited to internships, labs, clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

Participation (20%)
15% Class Participation
Students are expected to be engaged learners during class. The quality of in-class discussions rests in large part with your commitment to come to class prepared, and to share your ideas with the class! If you don’t read and participate, the discussions will not be engaging. Please see me if you are concerned about your ability to contribute to discussions and we can work on strategies to improve your participation.

Come to class prepared to dig in to the material. You are expected to do the following:

- Read and annotate texts before the class meeting for which they are assigned on the syllabus. Research shows that reading and annotating hard copy texts is the most effective method for increasing learning. All of the readings on the syllabus are required.
- Bring the assigned readings to class each day (we will often refer to them).
- Ask and answer questions in class discussions.
- Actively take notes. Research also shows that handwritten note taking in class is the most effective method (vs. typing and reviewing posted notes). The instructor will not post lecture notes or PowerPoint slides. Recordings of lectures or pictures of PowerPoint slides are NOT allowed. I encourage you to exchange notes and study with classmates to increase your coverage if need be. If you need assistance taking notes please see me and/or contact the Accessible Education Center (http://www.sjsu.edu/aec/).

5% of class participation grade: Participation also involves contributing to small group work; completing in-class, take-home, or discussion board writing assignments; and peer-reviewing student presentations during the last four class sessions.

10% of class participation grade: We will be using REEF Polling (clicker) as a student response system in class. REEF Polling helps me to understand what you know and gives everyone a chance to participate in class. Your clicker participation will include in-class polling and reading questions that will require a clicker remote, smart phone, tablet, or computer equipped with clicker software. Clicker points will be awarded based on general participation and performance on randomly assigned “pop” questions about the readings. Participation with REEF Polling will account for 10% of your final grade. I will drop at least 2 days of participation scores to account for times you do not participate.

You are responsible for bringing a functioning clicker device to every class meeting. You should arrange to make sure your device is charged, registered properly, and/or have a back up method of participating with clicker technology (e.g., charger/batteries, laptop, tablet) so that you can earn applicable points for that day.

NOTE: In-class participation credit cannot be made up. If you miss many classes (including extreme tardiness or leaving early), you will have fewer opportunities to participate, you will miss important material, and your grade may suffer.

5% Discussion leadership for selected class readings
You are expected to play an active role in the class by sharing with your peers and the instructor the responsibility for directing the weekly discussions and writing a two-page (double-spaced) reading journal one time during the semester. You will sign up for discussion leader days on Canvas and the reading journal is due on Canvas before the class meeting the day you serve as leader. You may not make up this assignment if you are absent and miss your assigned leadership day unless you arrange to switch with another student who is scheduled for a future date and alert me the day before your scheduled assignment. If you have an emergency and will miss the assignment, you must contact me before class and you must have a legitimate reason for being absent (e.g., documented illness, family emergency, etc.). Vacations, weddings, or other non-emergencies are not grounds for exception.
Research Project (60%)
15% Data Analysis 1
5% Peer Review & Data Analysis 2
10% Research Presentation
30% Completion of 6-7 page report of findings

This semester you will complete a newspaper media content analysis research project on an issue related to immigration. You will turn in data analysis of your newspaper sources, a peer review draft of the research report based on that analysis along with review of your classmates’ work (you must be present to earn credit), and a completed research report. (More detailed instructions for the project will be provided.)

You will also report on your research at the end of the semester by creating an in-class presentation (such as PowerPoint or Prezi). You must upload your presentation by 5pm the day before your presentation. If you miss your presentation slot, you may not be able to earn credit for the assignment.

Quizzes (20%)
20% 3 Multiple choice/fill in blank/short answer quizzes
Timed quizzes will be administered through Canvas throughout the semester. Quizzes are worth 10 percent each. One quiz with the lowest score will be dropped.

Final Examination or Evaluation
The final meeting will be held on Monday May 22, 2017 in DMH 226A at 9:45am to 12pm. We will complete the in-class research presentations and peer reviews. You will turn in hard copies of your research presentation outline on that day and we will have a culminating final discussion.

Grading Information
A-range: 93-100 A 90-92.9 A-
B-range: 88-89.9 B+ 83-87.9 B 80-82.9 B-
C-range: 78-79.9 C+ 73-77.9 C 70-72.9 C-
D-range: 68-69.9 D+ 63-67.9 D 60-62.9 D-
Failing: 0-59.9 F

• Please keep all graded work until final grades have been issued. Any appeals of the grade of any assignment must be submitted to me in writing within 3 days specifying how an error was made in the assignment of points. Grade re-evaluations are not done over e-mail or in the classroom, and take into account previous unnoticed strengths and weaknesses.
• Grades are not rounded up.
• Please make an appointment to discuss grades in office hours—I cannot discuss grades over email.
• If you need a grade verification filled out, please contact me via email prior to class to arrange a time to complete it—I will not be able to sign it on the spot during class meetings.

Late Work
It is your responsibility to ensure that the correct assignment file is uploaded to Canvas/turned in on time. Assignments are due on the dates noted below. You may turn in written assignments up to 1 week late (by the designated class period on that date) without penalty during the semester (does not apply to quizzes, class work/participation, or final assignments). You must obtain approval from me first if you are turning in late work. Once that period elapses, late work will have a significant impact on your grade and may not receive feedback. Each day the assignment is late will result in a 5% grade reduction (e.g. 85% reduced to 80% for one day late). The grade deduction applies to late assignments up to 7 more calendar days (including weekends) past the due date. After two weeks, the highest grade you can receive for submitted late work is 50% and no comments. If you have an emergency and will turn in a late assignment, you must contact me before class and you must have a legitimate reason for being absent and turning assignment in late (e.g., documented illness, family emergency, etc.) to avoid a late penalty. Vacations, weddings, or other non-emergencies are not grounds for exception.

Online Canvas quizzes must be taken by the due date and cannot be made up unless there is a documented emergency, as noted above. Please plan your internet access accordingly.

Points for in-class participation, assignments, and exercises cannot be made up.

Extra Credit
There will be at least one opportunity for extra credit this semester worth one point added to the participation grade (if other opportunities arise, you can earn a maximum two points overall). Extra credit assignments involve attending an event on campus and writing a 2-page (double-spaced) reflection within 1 week of the event. Extra credit opportunities will be posted on Canvas.

Classroom Protocol
Respectful participation is expected of everyone. This includes
• Being on time and staying for the whole class period
• Preparing the readings, and bringing materials needed to actively participate
• Being attentive to everyone in the class when they have the floor
• Staying awake
• Only using computers, phones, and other devices to take notes, participate with the clicker, or display course readings. Using these items for other purposes is disruptive.
• Most importantly, this means showing fellow members of our learning community a level of professional courtesy that facilitates an open environment where the potentially difficult and sensitive ideas that are a part of this course can be explored fully. This does not mean that members of the class community always have to agree with one another. But you must be thoughtful and respectful about the way you challenge someone’s argument by grounding the discussion in readings and without attempting to invalidate the individual’s experiences, statuses, or memberships.

If you are sleeping, talking to classmates, texting, using Twitter/Facebook/email, etc. during class, I reserve the right to ask you to stop, and this activity may negatively affect your participation grade.

University Policies
Office of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs maintains university-wide policy information relevant to all courses, such as academic integrity, accommodations, etc. You may find all syllabus-related University Policies and resources information listed on GUP’s Syllabus Information web page at http://www.sjsu.edu/gup/syllabusinfo/.

Academic Integrity
In addition to University Policies, please remember that academic integrity includes not using other people’s work as your own, properly citing other people’s work (including professor’s notes and the internet), not re-using your own papers or assignments from other courses, not submitting the same work to more than one class simultaneously, or other similar practices. If you have a topic overlap with another course you must see me to arrange for an appropriate solution.

Writing Assistance and Tutoring
Since you will have writing assignments that make up a significant portion of your grade, it is advisable to take advantage of the various sources of writing assistance on campus, including the SJSU Writing Center in Clark Hall, Suite 126 (http://www.sjsu.edu/writingcenter), the ACCESS Success Center for College of Social Science students in Clark Hall, Room 240 (socsci.access@sjsu.edu), and Peer Connections (http://peerconnections.sjsu.edu).
