Course Description
This course is an interdisciplinary study of lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, intersex, and other queer communities and identities in the context of U.S. history, politics, and culture. While centering our analytic lens on sex, gender, and sexualities, we will, simultaneously focus on issues of race, class, and power. We will address all these issues as they manifest in institutions, communities, identities, and interactions. This is an experiential seminar requiring full participation of all students (and instructors).

Course Goals

* Understand and apply feminist, sociological, and queer theories.
* Explore the ways in which sex, gender, and sexuality intersect in individual's lives and in social institutions.
* Examine the historical construction of gendered and racialized sexualities.
* Examine the personal, political, social, and cultural consequences of gender variance.
* Explore the political terrain of sexuality and gender-based social movements.
* Develop critical analytic skills through our reading, research, discussion, oral presentations, and writing.
* Help one another to listen, to express ourselves, and to get our intellectual needs met within the classroom context.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to:

1. Articulate issues facing the LGBTQ community.
2. Express an understanding of intersections of identity in relation to the LGBTQ community.

Required Texts/Readings

Textbook

There are three required texts and a Reader for this course.

The Texts may be purchased at the Spartan Book store.

Other Readings

The Course Reader may be purchased at Maple Press (San Carlos St. between 10th and 11th streets). I have included many more readings in the reader than you will be “required” to read for this class. My intention in the creation of this reader was, 1) to give us some flexibility as a class to decide what we want to focus on and, 2) to create easy access to relevant articles for those of you who want to read further in a particular area. While I would love it if you would read them all – eventually – I do not expect you to do so for this class. Either at the beginning or the end of class I will instruct you on which reading will be required for the next class period.

Course Requirements and Assignments

Reading Quizzes: Quizzes will be in class and are comprised of multiple choice and true/false questions. They are open-book and timed (you will get 10 minutes for each quiz). There are 7 quizzes worth 20 points each (35% of final grade) upon completion of all 7 your two lowest scores will be dropped. In other words, if you get a 0 because you missed the quiz – the 0 will remain as your grade. However, if you take a quiz and get a 60% and that is your lowest score the 60 will be dropped.
Reading Quiz 1: Feb 9th
Reading Quiz 2: Feb 16th
Reading Quiz 3: Feb 23rd
Reading Quiz 4: March 2nd
Reading Quiz 5: March 9th
Reading Quiz 6: March 16th
Reading Quiz 7: March 23rd

Short Research/ Writing Assignments: There are four short research and writing assignments for this course. You need bring a hard copy to class to turn in and for the class discussion. Each assignment is worth 100 points, but each is weighted differently in your overall grade (see below for weight of each assignment). To be eligible to receive full points for any paper you must be present on the day of the class discussion. Participation in the class discussion portion of each paper is worth 10 of the 100 points of each paper. While they are all due on specific dates, you may begin working on them at any time. Please note that I do not accept late work. Having computer problems NOT a valid excuse for turning in work late.

Research Assignment #1: Gay Marriage. Find an academic journal article the makes a sociological argument concerning gay marriage. Find at least two websites by special interest groups, for or against gay marriage, that offer evidence that could be used to support or undermine the argument made by academics. Write a four-page summary and analysis of your findings. Bring to class for discussion/debate April 6th. Must be present to receive full credit.

Research Assignment #2: Ethnography on Queer Sexuality. Assignment to be posted. The purpose of this assignment is to introduce you to spaces for queer sexuality to better understand the nuances and cultural similarities and differences between straight and queer sexuality. The goal is for you to identify, and compare and contrast socially constructed meanings about sexuality. There are three options for this assignment – two require that you go out into the field, the third does not. Details of the assignment will be posted and discussed in class. Write a four-page summary and analysis of your findings. Bring to class for discussion/debate April 20th. This assignment will be turned in for credit. Must be present to receive full credit.

Research Assignment #3: Issues Facing the Transgender Community: Find at least two websites and one academic journal article dealing with different perspectives on one of four areas: the military, prisons, healthcare, or schools. Find arguments for/against policies for this community. Look for any evidence on consequences of barriers to access. What are the arguments surrounding this issue? Theorize: what are the problems the “T” is encountering? Write a four-page summary and analysis of your findings. Bring to class for discussion/debate April 27th.

Research/ Teaching Assignment # 4: Fear, hatred, and discrimination against queer people manifest in multiple forms across a variety of settings. For this assignment you will conduct independent research on the manifestation and the outcomes of discrimination against queer people in health care, education, or employment (you will be assigned one of these). You will then work with a small group of students to develop a power point presentation based on your shared knowledge and you will present this curriculum to the class. Use at least two (legitimate) internet references and one academic source for your individual research. Write a four page summary and analysis of your findings. Bring your notes to class on May 2nd for a curriculum building session with members of your group. Bring to class for presentation and turn in papers on May 4th. Must be present to receive full credit.

Final Research Paper: A 5-page research paper on a topic of your choice is due at the final exam period, during which time students will present their research to the class. Bring a hard copy to class for your presentation. Please Use American Sociological Association quick style guidelines for both references and in-text citations: http://www.asanet.org/students/Quick%20Style%20guide.pdf

Grading Policy

Final exam will be on May 19th 7:15-9:30am and will be a presentation on your final paper.

Grading Information

Your final grades will be determined as follows: Weekly Quizzes = 35% (5@20 points each), Research Assignment #1 = 10%, Research Assignment #2 = 15%, Research Assignment #3 = 10%, Research Assignment #4 = 10%, Final Research Paper = 20%.

Each research paper is worth 100 points – 10 of those points are contingent on you coming to class and participating in the discussion.

Final Letter Grades are calculated according to the following percentages:
A+: 100-97; A: 96-93; A-: 92-90; B+:89-87; B: 86-83; B-82-80; C+:79-77; C: 76-73; C-:72-70; D+:69-67; D:66-63; D-:62-60; F: anything below 60. A student earning a grade below 60% will not pass the course.

If at any time during the semester you need clarification about a specific evaluation or would like to discuss your overall standing in the class --- please contact me and/or set up office hours.

In general, I assign grades according to the following Grading Criteria:
A+, A, A-
An “A” demonstrates originality, addresses the tasks effectively and uniquely, shows effective organization and logical argumentation, uses clear, appropriate and accurate examples and a high level of writing competence and knowledge. Completes the task and consistsently does extra work that is self-initiated.
B+, B, B-
A “B” may show a good level of competence and may even reflect exactly what was discussed in class and texts, but does not contribute original knowledge. It shows uneven development of tasks. It may be generally well organized, uses appropriate examples, displays facility, with a few gaps in argumentation, and demonstrates a good level of writing and knowledge. Completes the task as assigned.
C+, C, C-
A “C” may show a fair level of competence, but may be uneven. It will address the task adequately, but only with parts of the task. It is adequately organized and may occasionally use examples. Argumentation may be inconsistent and writing and knowledge competence may be unclear. Language may be inappropriately informal in parts of assignment.
D+, D, D-
A “D” will demonstrate poor competence with inadequate organization, task and argumentation development and inappropriate examples. It will display difficulty in using adequate academic language and errors in knowledge will be in evidence.

This course must be passed with a C or better as an SJSU graduation requirement.

Passage of the Writing Skills Test (WST) or ENGL/LLD 100A with a C or better (C- not accepted), and completion of Core General Education are prerequisite to all SJSU Studies courses. Completion of, or co-registration in, 100W is strongly recommended. A minimum aggregate GPA of 2.0 in GE Areas R, S, & V shall be required of all students.

Classroom Protocol

PLEASE NOTE: This Class has a NO CELL PHONE RULE – BEFORE AND DURING CLASS.

Classroom Behavior: I want you to be fully present in this class. This class requires you to take an hour and 15-minute timeout from being connected to your virtual life. I don’t want you to use cell phones, computers, ipads or other devices in the classroom either before or during class. When you arrive in class find a seat, introduce yourself to the person in the next chair, and say hello. Spend the few minutes waiting for class to start by chatting with the person next to you. Take out paper and a pen and whatever books or other materials needed for the day. Take notes. Ask questions. Make comments. Listen. Talk to one another. Talk to me. Practice being fully engaged in the moment. Get to know as many people as you can by the end of the semester.

Class Participation: The materials for this class are presented in multiple formats: lecture, film, speakers, written materials, quizzes, and active learning exercises. Participation in this course means showing up for all aspects of the course. While I respect your right to silence, as the subjects we cover can be overwhelming at times, I urge you to be as present for this course as you can.

Policy on Late Work: Please be advised that I do not accept late work. I know that most of you work very hard to complete your academic tasks as assigned. I too work hard to return your graded work in a timely manner. To be fair to everyone I will not accept work after the due date. The only legitimate reason to turn an assignment in late is for medical reasons. If you are ill on the day something is due you will need to get a doctor’s note verifying your absence. Attach the doctor’s note (or a copy) to the assignment and turn it in on the day you return to class.
