Course Description
Examination of global social issues, evaluation of the impact of change on world communities and analysis of the response of specific groups to emerging problems and opportunities.

Course Learning Outcomes (CLO)
This course qualifies as an Area D3 (Social Sciences – Social Issues) course, satisfying a General Education requirement. It is designed to enable you to achieve the following GE and specific learning outcomes:

- To overview global society in its historical economic, political, cultural, ideological, and environmental contexts, and to identify various aspects of social divisions (race, ethnicity, class, gender, and sexuality) in their regional, national, and transnational dimensions.
- To critically analyze the sociology of globalization, in its local-global linkages, transnational labor market, governance, migration, social movements, resistance, social change, and alternatives to status quo within the global civil society.

SAMPLE ACTIVITIES DESIGNED TO ASSIST YOU TO MEET THESE OUTCOMES: Lectures, Readings, Active Participation in Discussions, Video Documentaries, One Exam, and one short Research Paper.

Course Requirements and Assignments
“Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours over the length of the course (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities… Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.”
Required Texts/Readings:
Additional Resources are available at: http://www.sjsu.edu/people/mitra.rokni/ under Courses.

Assignments and Grading Policy:
Weekly Discussions/Participation (56% of the Final Grade). Students must participate at least 2 separate days a week in this class. Students must respond to a minimum of 2 students’ posts each week and follow up on questions I ask for further clarification and/or enhancement of class dialogue. Responses to weekly Discussion Questions (DQs) must be a minimum of 250 words and reflect the weekly assigned readings in our Textbook and additional sources provided. All Responses to original DQs must reflect a balance between quotations and/or paraphrasing with proper in-text citations (Author, p. #) and your own voice and thought on materials covered. You must support your arguments and claims by using scholarly sources, utilizing sociological concepts and insights you are learning. It is crucial to go beyond what we already know, as experience and/or common sense knowledge, and develop a critical understanding of social issues, based on facts and evidence, at the structural and institutional levels within their historical contexts. The goal is to stimulate critical thinking by making rational arguments and asking relevant questions in order to enhance an ongoing dialogue in our virtual classroom. Additional INSTRUCTIONS are Posted and Updated under Announcements in Canvas. Midterm Exam (22% of the Final Grade)

You must follow a recognized format (APA or ASA). The Research Paper must be based on at least 3 books (in addition to our textbooks) and 2 articles. All sources must be scholarly, peer-reviewed articles, and reliable websites for academic research.

Late Policy: Weekly Discussions and missed Participations will each lose 1 point (out of 4) for each day of the week. Late Exams and Papers will lose 5 points for each late day (Up to Set Deadline).

Class Protocol: Classroom is our shared educational space for learning, understanding, discussing, and responding to one another as both students and teachers. To disregard the importance of an active engagement in this learning process could create an atmosphere of apathy, silence, and disrespect to the very spirit of educational process. It is crucial for students to take an active role in enhancing and creating an atmosphere of learning and civil dialogue on the most pressing issues of our time. Keep in mind, at all times, that you are here to develop an independent mind, learn the practical skills, and develop a sense of social responsibility towards others and individual responsibility for self-development.
