Wednesday, October 14, 1998

MINUTES

Present: Schwarz, David (Associate Dean); Asuncion, Arlene (Psychology); Barnes, Judith (Communication Studies); Chu, Betty (Economics); Freeman, James (Anthropology); Helgren, David (Geography); Hill, Patricia (Social Science); Jensen, Billie (History); Peter, Ken (Political Science); Ray, Carol (Sociology); Redfern, Bernice (Library); Trulio, Lynne (Environmental Studies).

- Minutes: 9/9/98, m/s/p, unan.
- Proposed Environmental Health and Safety (EH&S) Concentration within the BS Degree in Env. Studies: m/s/p, unan.

Dr. Trulio outlined the process used for designing the concentration, pointing out the significant community involvement in its development and the need for this type of academic training by local industry. The Committee approved the concentration with the understanding that several modest modifications will be made as recommended by AVP Dorosz.0

- The Committee's Role in Reviewing Assessment Plans:

Until the Committee feels prepared to adequately evaluate GE assessment plans, it will defer such review to BOGS and GEAPS. The Committee will receive and study all GE proposals in full, including assessment plans, but only to evaluate the quality of the particular courses and to help prepare the Committee to capably judge outcome assessment plans which are expected to be required throughout the curricula in the future.
