Keynote Biographies:

Prof. Bill Ong Hing is a Professor of Law at the University of San Francisco and Professor Emeritus, U.C. California, Davis School of Law. He teaches Immigration Policy, Rebellious Lawyering, Negotiation, and Evidence. Throughout his career, he has pursued social justice by combining community work, litigation, and scholarship. He is the author of numerous academic and practice-oriented books and articles on immigration policy and race relations. His books include Ethical Borders—NAFTA, Globalization and Mexican Migration (Temple Univ. Press 2010); Deporting Our Souls—Values, Morality, and Immigration Policy (Cambridge Univ. Press 2006), Defining America Through Immigration Policy (Temple Univ. Press 2004), Making and Remaking Asian America Through Immigration Policy (Stanford Press 1993), Handling Immigration Cases (Aspen Publishers 1995), and Immigration and the Law—a Dictionary (ABC-CLIO 1999). His book To Be An American, Cultural Pluralism and the Rhetoric of Assimilation (NYU Press 1997) received the award for Outstanding Academic Book in 1997 by the librarians' journal Choice. He was also co-counsel in the precedent-setting Supreme Court asylum case, INS v. Cardoza-Fonseca (1987). Professor Hing is the founder of, and continues to volunteer as General Counsel for, the Immigrant Legal Resource Center in San Francisco. He serves on the National Advisory Council of the Asian American Justice Center in Washington, D.C.

Mr. Peter Schrag, who served for 19 years as editorial page editor of the Sacramento Bee, is a lifelong journalist. From his retirement in 1996 until 2009 he also wrote a weekly column for the Bee. He now writes a weekly piece for the blog California Progress Report. A former editor of Saturday Review magazine, he is the author of articles and reviews in the Atlantic, Harper's, the Nation, the New Republic, the New York Times, the Los Angeles Times, the Washington Post, Playboy, the American Prospect and other publications. His book, Paradise Lost: California's Experience, America's Future, published by the New Press in April 1998, was chosen as a New York Times Notable Book and issued as a paperback by the University of California Press in 1999. Among his other recent books are Final Test: The Battle for Adequacy in America's Schools, which was published by the New Press in October 2003 and California: America's High-Stakes Experiment, published by the University of California Press in April 2006. His new book, Not Fit for our Society: Immigration and Nativism in America was published in May 2010. Peter Schrag has taught at Amherst College, where he also served as a college administrator, the University of Massachusetts, the Bread Loaf Writers Conference and at the Graduate School of Journalism and the Graduate School of Public Policy at the University of California at Berkeley. Since 1998, he has also been a visiting scholar at Berkeley's Institute of Governmental Studies.

Dr. Cecilia Menjivar is Cowden Distinguished Professor of Sociology in the School of Social and Family Dynamics at Arizona State University. Her research has focused on examining different intersections of macrostructural forces and micro-level processes, including how the broader context where immigrants arrive shapes immigrant social and kin networks, gender and generational relations, and religion and the place of the church in individuals' lives. In recent years she has focused particular attention to the effects of immigration laws on different aspects of immigrants' lives. Her publications include the books, Fragmented Ties: Salvadoran Immigrant Networks in America (University of California Press, 2000), winner of several book awards, including two from the American Sociological Association; Through the Eyes of Women: Gender, Social Networks, Family and Structural Change in Latin America and the Caribbean (edited) (De Sitter Publications, 2003); When States Kill: Latin America, the U.S. and Technologies of Terror, co-edited with Nestor Rodriguez (University of Texas Press, 2005), and Enduring Violence: Ladina Women's Everyday Lives in Guatemala (In Press, University of California Press); and numerous articles in academic journals.
