Catalog Course Description
Supervised teaching experience in educational settings for students with disabilities (3 units)

Expanded Course Description
EDSE 217D (3 units) is taken each semester candidates are enrolled in their induction program. It is designed to provide support and professional development of candidates in their early years of teaching. Using the foundational skills and competencies developed in their preliminary credential, this course will extend the candidates’ growth and development to meet the academic learning needs of all students with disabilities, enhance their teaching abilities and reflect inquiry based methodology and reflective practice. Successful completion of the EDSE 217D series, leads to a Clear Education Specialist Teaching Credential.

Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs):
At the conclusion of the course, candidates will be able to:
1. Demonstrate an understanding of the California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTPs) in relation to their induction teaching practices. (CSTP 1-6; CCTC Clear Standard 5)
2. Apply elements of the CSTP in the development of an Individual Induction Plan (IIP). (CSTP 1-6; CCTC Clear Standards 2, 3, 5)
3. Demonstrate an understanding of their teaching practices through formative assessment. (CSTP 5; CCTC Clear Standard 2, 3)
4. Analyze the elements of their own formative self-assessment through reflection of their teaching practices using a plan, teach, reflect, and apply (PTRA) inquiry model. (CSTP 6; CCTC Clear Standards 2, 3, 6)
Required Textbooks/Readings/Materials
1. CCTC – Education Special Teaching and Other Related Services Credential Program
5. Candidate Transition Plan (CTP) from a Preliminary Education Specialist Program.

Course Requirements and Assignments
SJSU classes are designed such that in order to be successful, it is expected that students will spend a minimum of forty-five hours for each unit of credit (normally three hours per unit per week), including preparing for class, participating in course activities, completing assignments, and so on. More details about student workload can be found in University Policy S12-3 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/S12-3.pdf.

In accordance with Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) Precondition 16:
A program sponsor that operates a program for the Clear Education Specialist Credential shall ensure that each candidate admitted is employed in a special education position or in an educational setting that is mutually acceptable to the parties signing the Individual Induction Plan, so that the setting allows demonstration of effective teaching as described in Education Specialist Clear Credential Standards 4 through 7 (Education Specialist Teaching and Other Related Services Credential Program Standards, 2011, p. 10)

All candidates should be employed in a special education position or placed in an educational setting that will allow demonstration of effective teaching and completion of all assignments. For those individuals not currently employed in a special education position, you will be placed for 5 hours per week for 10 consecutive weeks (a minimum of 50 hours for the semester) in a special education classroom aligned with your credential authorization. All candidates must have an approved support provider with the same Education Specialist authorization as the candidate.

Assignments
Assignments and related activities underpin the development of the Individual Learning Plan (ILP). There are 3 scored inquiry lessons/activities for each semester focusing on selected aspects of the CSTPs. Assignments are explained in detail in the seminars and are graded by either a rubric or criterion based scoring method.

Dialogues between the candidates and support providers (University Supervisor and Support Provider) are framed by the plan, teach, reflect and apply cycle (PTRA) that undergirds the formative assessment system. This process provides a framework for identifying strengths and challenges related to the CSTPs. The PTRA consists of four iterative steps that each candidate performs:

1. Plan for instructional, environmental and social inquiry lessons/activities aligned with P-12 academic content standards and to address areas for growth and development for their students. This step will also include reviewing current research, issues and trends, evidence-based practices in the field, and current legal issues prior to planning each inquiry lesson/activity.
2. Teach and/or implement the planned lesson/activity to the specified group of students.
3. Reflect and analyze their teaching/implementation practice with a focus on how to improve learning outcomes for their specific group of students. In collaboration with university supervisor and support provider, candidates assess their strengths and areas needing improvement.
4. Apply new knowledge developed during this process to future planning as the cycle continues to provide evidence of practice for the candidate.

Criteria/rubric scores provide valuable assessment information for candidates, university supervisors, and support providers and follow this cycle.

Candidates use the SJSU Clear Induction Program Candidates Evaluation Rubric to determine their CSTP developmental level (unacceptable, developing, proficient, exemplary), identify areas of teaching strengths, and focus their growth efforts. Candidates, university supervisors, and support providers review these standards in EDSE 217D. Utilizing the CSTPs as a basis for self-evaluation provides a comprehensive framework within which candidates are encouraged to focus their inquiry lessons/activities. To begin this process, the university supervisor and support provider assists the candidate in evaluating his or her specific professional development strengths and needs in relationship to the CSTPs, the Candidate Transition Plan (completed at the end of the preliminary program) and specific aspects of the candidates’ job site characteristics and needs. Based on this collaborative process, candidates will design their Individualized Induction Plan, which will allow them to select and focus on specific elements of each CSTP based on the need for growth.

During the first semester of EDSE 217D, the following standards will be the primary focus: Standard 1: Engaging and Supporting All Students in Learning Standard 2: Creating and Maintaining Effective Environments for Student Learning Standard 5: Assessing Students for Learning
During the second semester of EDSE 217D, the following standards will be the primary focus:

Standard 3: Understanding and Organizing Subject Matter for Student Learning
Standard 4: Planning Instruction and Designing Learning Experiences for All Students
Standard 6: Developing as a Professional Educator

University supervisor and support provider give feedback on individual candidate’s reflections based on best practices, conversations with the candidate, and observations of candidate’s teaching practice and learning environment.

An example of incorporating the PTRA process for CSTP 1 – Engaging and Supporting All Students in Learning is provided below:

CSTP 1 PTRA – Inquiry Assignment

1. Complete Promoting Cultural Diversity and Cultural Competency Checklist: Self-Assessment Checklist for Beginning Education Specialist Teachers
2. Complete the following three IRIS Modules:
   - Classroom Diversity: An Introduction to Diversity (an overview of how diversity affects learning)
   - Cultural and Linguistic Differences: What Teachers Should Know (how culture influences daily interactions in classrooms and strategies for culturally responsive teaching)
   - Teaching English Language Learners: Effective Instructional Practices (understanding second language acquisition and instructional practices).
3. Read and review 1-2 articles from peer reviewed journals on evidence-based best practices for teaching English learners specific to your students with disabilities (e.g., autism, physical disabilities, low incidence disabilities) and instructional needs (e.g., early childhood, community-based instruction, adult transition).
4. Plan equitable and inclusive learning environments that maximize learning outcomes for all students.
5. Implement (Teach) plan and gather evidence of student learning, reflect diversity, and encourage constructive and productive interaction among students (e.g., video taped interactions, students’ work, students’ interviews, observations by support provider).
6. Reflect on the effectiveness of learning environment by analyzing collected evidence and determine where there was improvement and where gaps still exist.
7. Apply elements of plan that were effective, modified elements that need further development, and discard elements that were ineffective while continuing to monitor the learning environment.

NOTE that University policy F69-24 at http://www.sjsu.edu/senate/docs/F69-24.pdf states that “Students should attend all meetings of their classes, not only because they are responsible for material discussed therein, but because active participation is frequently essential to insure maximum benefit for all members of the class. Attendance per se shall not be used as a criterion for grading.”
