Responsibilities: Include but are not limited to:
This Faculty Field Liaison (FFL) position is equivalent to approximately 50% time in the on-campus general session side (BASW or MSW programs). There are variations depending on whether the FFL is teaching BASW or MSW foundation or advanced year field courses.

Supervised by the Director of Field Education, the FFL is responsible for supervising and directing cohesive and progressive educational experiences of students in field instruction. The liaison process implements the following goals:

a. To develop and support a mechanism by which the School of Social Work can meet its primary responsibility for the student's education;

b. To provide an educational context by which the School can nurture the development of professional leadership through student governance, educational experiences, and practice in the field; and

c. To provide a structure which has a preventive function regarding a student's educational problems, with the goal of equitable resolution of barriers in his/her learning.

The FFL, as a faculty member of SJSU and the School of Social Work, is one of the key personnel who contributes to the overall education, training, and professional development of our students in the context of the field practicum and its integral part of our overall curriculum. FFLs in the On-Campus BASW and MSW programs work a variety of schedules to accommodate the needs of the School and students, but generally during weekday office hours. As an FFL, attendance at field education program meetings is expected.
Tasks and Duties

- Work collaboratively with the School in its education and training of students, specifically with the Field Education office;
- Perform faculty and teaching duties including advising, posting of office hours and contact information, completing all necessary procedures for hiring, evaluation, and other duties; leading field seminars, overseeing and grading student field assignments, and assigning and reporting final grades;
- Ensure maximum productive learning opportunities for the student;
- Assist with curricular design and improvements;
- Be available for meetings;
- Visit the agency a minimum of 1 to 2 times each academic year; more if needed. At the time of the agency visit, the Faculty Field Liaison will meet with the student, review records, process recordings, tapes, and/or other materials produced by the student, and meet with the Field Instructor. The three meet to evaluate the student’s progress and for the resolution of differences or to clarify expectations;
- Work collaboratively with agencies and respective Field Instructors (FIs), including the instruction, supervision, evaluation of the student; consult with the FI and student in the development of the learning contract goals, expectations, and assignments; maintain an ongoing relationship with the Field Instructor and student for the purpose of evaluating the student's progress and the quality of the field instruction;
- Assure that the placement provides the appropriate educational experiences, which will meet the BASW and MSW Programs’ standards, implement the academic policies and curriculum, and assist in the solution of problematic situations, which may arise;
- Work with the School and the Field Education office to anticipate, assess, and resolve problems regarding field education, internships, and/or students;
- When working with first year students, prepare and assist with the final year placement process;
- Provide ongoing feedback to the Director of Field Education concerning the quality of agency placement and student's performance in the field, and for monitoring and updating data about agencies;
- In collaboration with the Assistant Field Education Director and/or the Field Education Director, assist in the review process of potential field placement sites. Tasks may include gathering information from agency representatives, visiting the field placement site, and making approval or rejection recommendations to the Field Education Office.
- To participate in orientations, trainings, seminars, and other BASW and MSW Program events in the capacity of planner, group leader, and facilitator in support of the School to enable students to become self-directed; professionals and to understand the BASW and MSW Programs' curricular goals, purpose, and mission;
- Other duties consistent with the roles of a faculty member.
