Subject to Budgetary Approval

Specialization: Biomedical Engineering
Job Opening ID (JOID): 24720
Rank: Assistant Professor

Qualifications:
An earned Ph.D. in Biomedical Engineering, or a closely related engineering discipline, is required, with Ph.D. degree conferral no later than April 15, 2019. Research expertise in biomechanics, bioelectronics, bioimaging, biomaterials, biomedical device design and/or manufacturing, or other related areas preferred. Industrial experience is desired but not required. The applicant must be committed to teaching and research activities of the highest academic and professional caliber, and maintain a student-centric approach at all times, thus contributing to the development of students as productive, responsible, and caring citizens of the world. In particular, applicants must have a strong commitment to: (a) teaching and working with a diverse population of students at the undergraduate and graduate levels, (b) curricular innovation to complement and further advance the program, (c) laboratory development that will enhance the quality of education and research, and (d) development of externally funded research programs and laboratory capabilities. Furthermore, the applicant should demonstrate awareness of and sensitivity to the educational goals of a multicultural population. The ideal candidate will be a highly motivated self-starter, have excellent written and oral communications skills, be a team player, and be successful in developing university-industry collaborations. The candidate must demonstrate potential for teaching and scholarly excellence.

Responsibilities:
The candidate must address the needs of a student population of great diversity – in age, cultural background, ethnicity, gender, primary language, and academic preparation – through course materials, teaching strategies, academic advising, and mentorship. Faculty members are expected to collaborate in instruction, student and industry projects, advising, service, and research within the Department, the College, and the University. Contributions to shared governance within the Department, the College and the University is also expected.

Salary Range: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Starting Date: August 2019

Eligibility:
Employment is contingent upon proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Application Procedure:
For full consideration please upload: (1) a letter of application, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) statement of teaching interests/philosophy including teaching experience and preferred courses (two page maximum, 11pt font), (4) proposed research plans (two page maximum, 11pt font), and (5) at least three original letters of reference and contact information (name, phone number and email address) for the references by 5:00 p.m., December 14, 2018, Pacific Standard Time, to https://apply.interfolio.com/53853

Please include Job Opening ID (JOID) on all correspondence.

This position is an excellent opportunity for scholars interested in a career at an institution that is a national leader in graduating URM students. SJSU has achieved both HSI (Hispanic Serving Institution) and AANAPISI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution) designation; 40% of our student population are first-generation and 38% are Pell-qualified. As a result, we rank #4 nationally in increasing student upward mobility.
San José State University is California’s oldest institution of public higher learning. The campus is located on the southern end of San Francisco Bay in downtown San José (Pop. 1,000,000), hub of the world-famous Silicon Valley high-technology research and development center. Many of California’s most popular national, recreational, and cultural attractions are conveniently close. A member of the 23-campus CSU system, San José State University enrolls approximately 30,000 students, a significant percentage of whom are members of minority groups. The University is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty so our disciplines, students and the community can benefit from multiple ethnic and gender perspectives.

San José State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, or disability. This policy applies to all San José State University students, faculty, and staff as well as University programs and activities. Reasonable accommodations are made for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose.
